3000	On Saturday evening assembled to witness	PERSONS
3000	the extraordinary performances now being	PERSONS
3000	given in the Exhibition Building.	PERSONS

Cheers upon cheers resounded through the great Building, and the vast audience assembled declared with one voice that the performance presented not only fulfilled the promise of the management, but created a standard of the wonderful by which comparisons of the past must fall into insignificance, and every possibility of the future be discounted.

The extraordinary success achieved is incontrovertible, and can never be excelled. The amusement centres of Europe and America may be searched in vain for a parallel to the organisation now before the Sydney public.

BLAND HOLT'S DRAMATIC SEASON.
ANOTHER TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS for THE UNION JACK.
The flag that for so many years "has braved the battle and the breeze" floated proudly on high carried upwards by the UNBOUNDED ENTHUSIASM of the DELIGHTED and CROWDED AUDIENCE, which assembled on Saturday night last at the Theatre Royal to witness the FIRST PRODUCTION IN SYDNEY of BLAND HOLT'S SECOND NOVELTY, the New and Original Military and Naval Drama, the Success of the past season at the Adelphi Theatre, London, written by HENRY PETTITT and SYDNEY GRUNDY, entitled The UNION JACK.
What the Sunday papers say:—
The Sunday Times says:—"The 'Union Jack' at the Royal is superbly mounted, beautifully dressed, and splendidly staged."
The Weekly News says:—"The piece is acted in an admirable way, and the staging is creditable in the highest degree."
The Australian Sun says:—"The 'Union Jack' is well put on, and should have a prosperous run."
THIS (Monday) EVENING, June 10, 1889, THE UNION JACK.
The Drama will be interpreted by Mr. HOLT'S SPECIALLY ORGANISED COMPANY, including an unusually powerful combination of New Faces and Old Favourites including Miss KATE BISHOP.
THE MAGNIFICENT SCENERY, the THEME OF ADMIRATION, depicting maritime and barrack life, has been specially painted by Mr. GEORGE GORDON, assisted by Mr. J. Peake.

Government [Royal Arms] Railways.

NEW SOUTH WALES GOVERNMENT RAILWAYS.
IMPORTANT REDUCTIONS in the RATES for MERCHANDISE, WOOL, and TIN ORE, BETWEEN SYDNEY, NEWCASTLE, and THE UPPER NEW ENGLAND DISTRICT.
ON and AFTER MONDAY NEXT, the 10th June, the following REDUCED RATES will be brought into operation between Sydney and Newcastle, and Stations from Ben Lomond to Wallangarra inclusive:—

—	From Sydney.	From Newcastle.
	Per truck.	Per truck.
For Sugar, Rice, Corrugated Iron and Fencing Wire, in 6-ton truck loads	£34 0 0	£21 0 0
1st, 2nd, 3d, and 4th class goods, in 6-ton truck loads	30 0 0	27 0 0

A 6-ton truckload of 3rd-class goods, including such articles as groceries, packed furniture, hardware and ironmongery, from Sydney to Glen Innes under the existing rates would be charged £55 15s 6d, whilst under the new rates the charge will be only £30.
From Sydney to Tenterfield the relative charges for the same traffic are £62 15s under the existing and £30 under the new rates.
For quantities less than truckloads the following are the maximum tonnage rates:—

—	For Sydney.	From Newcastle.
	Per ton.	Per ton.
1st and 2nd Class Traffic ...	£6 0 0	£5 5 0
3rd and 4th Class Traffic ...	7 0 0	5 15 0

CONSIDERABLE REDUCTIONS have also been made in the rates for wool from the same stations to Newcastle.
To Sydney. To Newcastle.
Greasy wool, per ton ... £3 15 6 £2 17 6
This rate represents a reduction of 22s 6d per ton between Tenterfield and Sydney, and 17s 9d per ton between Glen Innes and Sydney, and corresponding reductions to Newcastle.
LODE TIN ORE, which has hitherto been carried at special B rates, will be reduced to miscellaneous rates throughout the whole of the lines.
Any further particulars may be had from Station Masters, or on application to Acting-Chief Traffic Manager.
MOOREFIELD RACES, TUESDAY, 11th June, 1889.
A SPECIAL PASSENGER TRAIN will leave Sydney for Kogarah at 1.20 p.m., returning after the last race. And a SPECIAL HORSEBOX TRAIN will leave Sydney at 12 noon on the above date.

Since the establishment of the institution 4524 children have been benefited.
No annual subsidy, such as was formerly granted, has been received from the Government since 30th June, 1885, in consequence of which the Directors have not been able to meet all expenses from the income arising from the investment of legacies, from special donations, and from voluntary contributions. The directors hope this fact will commend itself to the favourable consideration of all who are in a position to assist in extending the usefulness of the Society, and thus enable the Directorate to enlarge its sphere of operations.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

THE TURF.

A last reminder is given to owners and trainers of racing stock that this day, at 4.30 p.m., nominations close for the events contained in the programme for the Rosehill second June meeting, on the 22nd instant. The items requiring attention are the Granville Stakes, a handicap of 100 sovs., for all horses that have never won a prize exceeding 95 sovs. in value at the time of starting; second horse to receive 10 sovs. from the prize; 6½ furlongs. Hurdle Race, a handicap of 100 sovs.; second horse to receive 10 sovs. from the prize; 2 miles. Handicap Selling Race of 100 sovs., for three years old and upwards; winner to be sold for 1 sov.; 7 furlongs. Nursery Handicap of 100 sovs., second horse to receive 10 sovs. from the prize, for two-year-olds, winner to be sold for 1 sov., lowest weight 6st. 7lb., five furlongs; Borough Handicap, of 200 sovs., second horse to receive 20 sovs. from the prize, one mile and a furlong. It must not be forgotten that the entrance fee of 1 sov. must accompany each nomination.

The secretary of Tattersall's Club intimates by advertisement that settlement of accounts over the Grand National Steeplechase meeting takes place at the rooms, Pitt-street, to-day.

The stakes distributed at Tattersall's Club Grand National Steeplechase amount to £1385, of which the largest share—£855—was secured for Mr. Thomas Ryan by Sir Joshua's victory in the Steeplechase. Bluenose at length contributed something towards his keep by his unexpected success in the Winter Stakes, thereby crediting Mr. G. B. Rowley with £260; the creditable performance of Antaeus in the Flying Handicap brought a stake of £215 to Mr. H. C. White; Willoughby earned £205 for Mr. J. Swan (ns.) in the Hurdle Race; Mr. D. Cameron (ns) benefited to the extent of £150 by the speed of Soldier's Wind in the Selling Race; while Messrs. W. English (ns.), C. T. Roberts, E. Keys, and Dr. Cortis each received a £50 dividend for the positions held by Ayrshire, Bustler, Charcoal, and Barrie Aulh, in the Hurdle Race, Flying Handicap, Winter Stakes, and Steeplechase, respectively.

The weights for the handicap events to be decided at the Warwick Farm June meeting on Saturday next, are promised this forenoon.

After his victory in the Selling Race at Randwick on Saturday, Soldier's Wind was submitted to public competition, and after some brisk bidding on the part of a sporting lady from Northern Queensland, the son of Hamlet was bought in by his owner for £235, all of which went to augment the funds of the club, as the horse had taken the benefit of the allowance to the fullest extent.

Entries for the leading handicaps comprised in the programme for the Walgett Jockey Club's annual meeting must be in the hands of the secretary not later than to-morrow afternoon; and on the following day nominations close for the Brewarrina handicaps.

The weights for the handicaps in connection with the Albury Amateur races should see the light to-morrow.

The result of the race for the Oaks, the principal event on the final day of the Epsom Summer Meeting arrived by cable on Saturday forenoon, and appears in its proper place in this issue. L'Abesse de Jouarre, the winner, was bred by Mr. James Snarry, and is by Trappist from Festive, by Carnival from Piercy, by Atherstone from Fair Agnes, by Voltigeur. As a yearling she was purchased at the Doncaster sales by Lord Randolph Churchill for 300 guineas, and soon repaid the outlay, having secured in stakes the sum of £935 in weight-for-age events. She carried silk on eight occasions as a two-year-old, and scored three winning brackets—the May Plate, 5 furlongs, at the Newmarket First Spring Meeting, when she defeated half-a-dozen others; the Newmarket Two-Year-Old Plate, 5 furlongs, at the Newmarket Second Spring meeting; and the West Riding Champagne Trial Plate, 5 furlongs, at the Pontefract Summer meeting; ran second to Hazlehatch in the Fern Hill Stakes, 5 furlongs, at the Ascot June meeting; third in the Rous Nursery Handicap Plate, Rous course, at the Newmarket Houghton October meeting, and unplaced three times. Her engagements during the current season include the North Derby, at the Newcastle and Gosforth Park June meeting; the Great Northern Leger in connection with the Stockton August meeting, and the St. Leger Stakes at the Doncaster September meeting, so that she has several opportunities of distinguishing herself before the close of the season. Minthe, who ran second, is a daughter of Camball and Mint Sauce, by Y. Melbourne from Sycee, by Marsyas from Rose of Kent, by Kingston, was bred by her owner, Mr. R. C. Vyner, and is half-sister to the celebrated horse Minting. She faced the flag five times during her two-year-old career, but failed to secure a winning bracket, as she ran unplaced in the Seaton Delavale Plate, won by Chitabob, at the Newcastle and Gosforth Park June meeting; third in the Prince of Wales Stakes, won by Minthorpe, at York August meeting; unplaced in the Champion Breeders' Foal Stakes, at the Derby September meeting; unplaced in the Middle Park Plate, won by Donovan, at the Newmarket Second October meeting; and unplaced in the Free Handicap, won by Antibes, at the Newmarket Houghton October meeting. She opened her three-year-old career creditably by filling third position to the speedy Donovan in the Prince of Wales Stakes, at the Leicester Spring meeting; and won the One Thousand Guineas Stakes at the Newmarket First Spring Meeting; and she is engaged in the Doncaster St. Ledger. Seclusion, who came home third, is by Hermit, from Boundary, by Stockwell, from Bribery, by The Libel, &c., and was bred by her owner, the Duchess of Montrose. Seclusion faced the flag on 10 occasions during her two-year-old career and scored three wins. She made her debut in the Breeders' Foal Stakes at the Manchester May meeting, but failed to get a place, and was equally unsuccessful until the fourth time of asking, when she ran third to Leap Year and Whitehall in the International Two-year-old Plate, 5 furlongs, at the Kempton Park July Meeting. Her first victory was achieved at the Leicester Summer Meeting, when she won the Zetland Plate, 5 furlongs, from a field of nine. The Molecombe Stakes, 5 furlongs, at the Goodwood July Meeting was her next achievement; and after running unplaced twice she secured her third winning bracket in the Criterion Nursery Handicap, six furlongs, at the Newmarket Houghton October meeting, her earnings during the season amounting to £2206. Her engagements for the remainder of the current season include the Coronation Stakes, at the Ascot June meeting; the Electric Stakes, at the Sandown Park first summer meeting; the Eclipse Stakes, at the Sandown Park second summer meeting; and the Doncaster St. Leger.

Dr. J. Lamrock, of Kogarah, has accepted the position of honorary surgeon to the Moorfield Club.

Rhody has been withdrawn for the Pony Selling Race, in connection with the pony and galloway meeting at Moorefield to-morrow.

TATTERSALL'S CLUB GRAND NATIONAL STEEPLACHASE MEETING.

SATURDAY, JUNE 8.

Stewards: The committee of Tattersall's Club—Messrs. J. B. Olliffe (chairman), George Hill (hon. treasurer), W. Gannon, J. Daly, W. Forrester, J. H. Want, E. A. Oatley, M. J. Macnamara, J. M'Laughlin, E. H. Belisario. Judge: Mr. J. B. Olliffe. Handicapper: Mr. J. A. Scarr. Starter: Mr. T. Watson. Timekeeper: Mr. T. M. Alcock. Clerk of the course: Mr. J. Ashworth. Secretary: Mr. James Perry.

One of the most enjoyable reunions ever held on the metropolitan racecourse took place on Saturday, when Tattersall's Club brought off their Grand National Steeplechase meeting under most favourable auspices. Finer weather could not be desired, for the sun shone out brilliantly, and a light northerly breeze served to make the atmosphere sufficiently bracing to be pleasant. The different reserves, as well as the course, showed a slight spring of grass, and the tracks were in excellent condition. The traffic by rail and road was conducted without a hitch, and the drive to the trysting-place was thoroughly enjoyable, owing to the absence of dust on the road. The attendance numbered close on 8000 persons, and among the visitors were his Excellency the Governor, Hon. Rupert Carrington, and Sir John Robertson, besides several prominent sportsmen from the adjoining colonies. A feature of the meeting was the parade of the English Derby candidates, Kirkham and Narellan, whom the Hon. James White, in graceful deference to a generally-expressed wish of the sporting community, allowed to be exhibited prior to their departure for England on Saturday next. The pair of colts were paraded during the luncheon interval in clothing, but just before the start for the Flying Handicap they were stripped, and led round the lawn in front of the grandstand, thus affording the occupants of that structure an inspection of the first Australian-bred horses entered for the classic events of the English turf. True chestnuts in colour, well grown, and of splendid proportions, the youngsters were greatly admired, and many hopes were expressed that their owner's pluck and enterprise would be rewarded with the "blue ribbon" of 1890. Though recently broken-in, and unused to the excitement of the racecourse, the colts were neither fractious nor timid, but adapted themselves to the surroundings with the utmost composure—facts that speak well for the tuition they have undergone at the hands of T. Payten. Mr. T. Watson was very successful with the flag, and despatched his fields in every instance on excellent terms; and when it is recorded that no fines were inflicted during the day it will be understood that the riders were on their best behaviour, and gave very little trouble at the post. Mr. J. B. Olliffe, as usual, occupied the judge's box, and carried out his duties satisfactorily. The Permanent Artillery Band discoursed sweet music in the intervals between the races, and contributed much to the general enjoyment; and the whole arrangements were conducted under the supervision of Mr. James Perry, the painstaking and energetic secretary, in a style that left nothing to be desired.

The absence of Ravensworth, Friction, and a few others brought the field for the Grand National Hurdle Race down to 11, and Bellringer was so steadily backed that at the last he reached 3 to 1. Ayrshire had many friends at a point longer, and Willoughby was next in request at 6 to 1. The last-named, taking advantage of his reasonable weight, made all the running, and won easily from Friction and the favourite; and thus opened the campaign in favour of the layers of odds. With his recent good form still fresh upon him Marvel was at first elected favourite for the Flying Handicap, but as the time approached he was dethroned by Antaeus, who at the last had more friends than the son of Marvellous. The favourite got well away with his horses, and going to the front when three furlongs from home won all out from the speedy Bustler and La Valette. The remarkable feature of the race was the great run made by Glen Elgin from the three furlong post to the distance, when he suddenly appeared to collapse and again make one of the rear guard. On paper the Selling Race appeared to be a moral for Soldier's Wind, and so it proved, for he won as he liked from All Sorts. Kildare, who came from Victoria with a great reputation, was in such request for the Grand National Steeplechase, that he was steadily supported up to 6 to 4, but never appeared in the fray at any part, and was so thoroughly run to a standstill that he refused to negotiate the last jump. The field was an exceptionally good one, and after Albert had given his rider a nasty fall, the battle between Harrie Aulh and Sir Joshua was a very bitter one right up to the end. Marmion went inside the flag at the bend when in command of the field, and the error, coupled with that made by most of those engaged in the Sydney Turf Club Steeplechase, goes to show that the course should be more definitely marked out, or better still, that the horses should be allowed to go from fence to fence without any restriction as to the course. The jump at this particular place is a dangerous one, for the sun is right in the eyes of riders and horses as they come at it, and its position might be altered with benefit to everyone concerned. As in the Hurdle Race, many of the fences were knocked down, and the treble in front of the stand is constructed of such light material that the leaps more resembled hurdles than steeplechase fences. Melton, who has always shown a disinclination to face the last jump in the straight, attempted to refuse, and, blundering over it, fell heavily, and so lost his chance of filling a place. The winner, Sir Joshua, is a fine, strapping stallion, and his fencing was faultless throughout. Harrie Aulh ran a really good horse, and was well ridden by M'Sheehan. Saxon took off too far from the first fence, and striking it with his gaskins, never succeeded in getting on terms with his horses. The scratching pen played great havoc with those engaged in the Winter Stakes, and after Locksley had ruled as favourite for some time, Stamford met with such determined support that at the last 2 to 1 was the best offer. The race was well contested to the home turn, where Bluenose, cleverly ridden by young Parker, drew away, attended by Charcoal, and at last justified his appearance and breeding by scoring a clever win. The following is a description of each race:—

GRAND NATIONAL HURDLE RACE, a handicap sweepstakes of 5 sovs. each for starters, with 200 sovs. added; second horse 50 sovs. from the prize. 2 miles.

Mr. J. Swan ns b g Willoughby by Reugny, aged, 9st. 7lb. (Cox) ... 1

Mr. F. Longford's br or blk g Attraction, 6 years, 9st. 6lb. (M. Sheehan) ... 0
Mr. J. Allsop ns bg Artist, aged, 9st. (C. Phillips) ... 0

Betting: 3 to 1 v. Bellringer, 4 to 1 v. Ayrshire, 6 to 1 v. Willoughby, 8 to 1 each v. Glenvale and Peter Osbeck. 10 to 1 v. the others.

The moment the flag fell Willoughby lost no time in getting to the front, and soon established a strong lead from Bellringer, and so they raced over the first two sets of hurdles and past the stand, followed by Parade, Cracksman, Peter Osbeck, Ayrshire, and Attraction, who were well clear of the remainder of the field. After passing Oxenham's, Bellringer was pulled back fourth, and Parade and Ayrshire followed Willoughby up the hill. Parade was in trouble when half-a-mile from home, and Ayrshire and Bellringer settled down in pursuit of the leader, but the chase was hopeless, for Mr. Swan's gelding held his own and won easily by eight lengths from Ayrshire, who was four lengths clear from Bellringer, and then came Parade, Artist, and Cracksman, and after a big gap succeeded Peter Osbeck, Attraction, Glenvale, and the Drummer; while Lady Lyon walked in. Time, 3 minutes 56 seconds.

FLYING HANDICAP, a handicap sweepstakes of 5 sovs. each for starters, with 200 sovs. added; second horse, 50 sovs. from the prize. 6 furlongs.

Mr. H. C. White's b c Antæus, by Sir Modred—Nellie, 3 years, 7st. 8lb. (M. Harris) ... 1

Mr. T. Daly's b f Casette, 3 years, 6st. 8lb. (M. Dunbey) ... 0
Hon. Jas. White's br g Escort, 3 years, 6st. 4lb. (M'Nulty) ... 0
Mr. Jas. Toohey's b c Neotsfield, 2 years, 6st. 2lb. (W. Lee) ... 0

Betting: 3 to 1 each v. Antæus and Marvel, 6 to 1 v. Bustler, 7 to 1 v. Wilberforce, and 10 to 1 v. any other.

A very good start was effected and Knight Templar and Bustler were the first away, with Antæus almost on terms. Bustler showed the way up the hill a length clear from Antæus, who had Bustler at his girths, and after them came Too Soon at the head of a cluster which was whipped in by Glen Elgin. Antæus and Bustler led round the bend locked together, and the former was the first to land in the straight. When just inside the distance Knight Templar and Glen Elgin raced up to Bustler, but both faded away, and Mr. Roberts's horse, settling down, Harris was compelled to turn the whip on to the favourite, who, though tiring, struggled on, and won, all out, by a little more than a length from Bustler, who beat La Valette by half a length. Wilberforce was a couple of lengths off just in front of Too Soon and a clustered lot, after which came The Miner, Merriment, and Neotsfield. Time, 1 minute 16½ seconds.

SELLING RACE, of 150 sovs. The winner to be sold for 125 sovs. Weight for age; 7lb. allowed on each reduction of 25 sovs. on selling price down to nil. 1 mile.

Mr. D. Cameron ns ch g Soldier's Wind, by Hamlet—Zephyr, nil, aged, 6st. 4lb. (C. Parker) ... 1
Mr. H. Oxenham's br g All Sorts, nil, 4 years, 6st. 4lb. (Duthie) ... 2

Mr. W. Kelso's br g Jeremy Diddler, nil, aged, 6st. 4lb. (Gurland) ... 0
Mr. J. Swan ns b f Creeper, nil, 3 years, 6st. 1lb. (Cox) ... 0

Betting: 3 to 1 on Soldier's Wind, 7 to 1 v. Creeper, 8 to 1 v. All Sorts, 10 to 1 v. any other.

Sovereign jumped off in front, while Creeper turning round at the critical moment lost a deal of ground. All Sorts soon joined Sovereign, and the pair raced on terms to the sheds, where Sovereign had enough, and Soldier's Wind, pulling double, went up to All Sorts, and leaving him as he chose, won very easily by more than a length. B. Y. was four lengths away, and was followed by Jeremy Diddler, Sovereign, Creeper, and Fenella. Time, 1 minute 45 seconds.

GRAND NATIONAL STEEPLECHASE, a handicap sweepstakes of 5 sovs. each for starters, with 350 sovs. added; second horse, 50 sovs. from the prize. About 3 miles.

Mr. Thomas Ryan's b or br h Sir Joshua, aged, 9st. 7lb. (T. Ryan) ... 1
Dr. W. R. Cortis's br g Harrie Aulh, 5 years, 9st. (M. Sheehan) ... 2
Mr. John Cox's ch g Pestal, 6 years, 11st. 8lb. (Clune) ... 3
Mr. F. Stansmore ns br g Saxon, 5 years, 12st. 10lb. (Mr. J. Edge) ... 0
Mr. T. Corrigan's b g Kildare, aged, 12st. 8lb. (T. Corrigan) ... 0
Mr. F. Martineer's b g Melton, aged, 12st. (T. O'Brien) ... 0
Messrs. Anthony Bros. br g Marmion, aged, 11st. 10lb. (F. Hatch) ... 0
Mr. M. Quirk's ch g Drummer, aged, 10st. 11lb. (J. Keighran) ... 0
Mr. E. Keys ns b g Albert, 5 years, 10st. 4lb. (Barnfather) ... 0
Mr. W. Thompson's ch g Con, aged, 10st. (W. Rheece) ... 0
Mr. R. Phillips's g g Goalpost (late Roach), 5 years, 9st. 10lb. (Keating) ... 0

Betting: 6 to 4 v. Kildare, 6 to 1 v. Sir Joshua, 7 to 1 each v. Saxon, Marmion, and Melton, 8 to 1 v. Albert, 10 to 1 each v. Harrie Auld and Con, 14 to 1 each v. Pestal and Goalpost.

Pestal and Sir Joshua were the first to begin, and the latter led over the first fence, attended by Albert and Harrie Aulh. Albert then cleared out, and when passing the sheds had established a lead of nearly 50 lengths from Harrie Aulh, Sir Joshua, Goalpost, and Marmion, with Con and Saxon last. Albert struck the second of the treble in front of the stand, and placed Barnfather on his neck, where he remained until the horse took off at the third of the flight, when he was shot right on top of the fence; and Harrie Aulh was left at the front to show the way over the fence near Oxenham's, followed by Melton, Marmion, and Sir Joshua, who then took command and led to the sheds, where Marmion took up the running, but he went inside the red flag at the bend, and Sir Joshua was again left at the head of affairs with Harrie Aulh and Melton in close waiting, and so they sailed over the treble for the second time. Harrie Aulh was at the front when passing Cutts', and Sir Joshua joining him at the seven furlongs post the pair raced along the back of the course 10 lengths clear from Melton, whose attendants were Con, Kildare, and Goalpost. The severity of the pace told on Harrie Aulh after topping the hill, and Sir Joshua leaving him, turned into the course proper with the race in hand, followed by Harrie Aulh, Melton, Goalpost, and Pestal. Melton came very fast in the straight, but came to grief over the last jump, leaving Harrie Aulh to follow Sir Joshua home at an interval of a dozen lengths. Pestal was six lengths away, and after him succeeded Saxon, Goalpost, and Con. Kildare refused the last jump. Time, 7 minutes 17 seconds.

WINTER STAKES, a handicap sweepstakes of 5 sovs. each for starters, with 250 sovs. added; second horse, 50 sovs. from the prize. 1¼ mile.

Betting: 2 to 1 v. Stamford, 6 to 1 each v. Locksley and Keith, 7 to 1 v. Papua, 8 to 1 each v. Clogs and Charcoal, 10 to 1 each v. Jack, Retort, and Wilberforce.

A good start sent Wilberforce and Stamford away in command, but they were soon headed by Retort, who in turn gave place to Nonsense when passing Oxenham's, and the pair led along the far side of the course with half a length between them, and three-quarters of a length from them came Wilberforce, Bluenose, Stamford, and Charcoal. Retort retired at the hill, and Nonsense crying enough at the half-mile post. Wilberforce and Bluenose showed the way round the bend, followed by Charcoal and Stamford. Wilberforce had run himself out at the distance, and Bluenose drawing away from Charcoal, beat him all out by a length. Stamford, who came from the home turn at a great pace, finished on Charcoal's quarters, and after the placed three came Jack, Retort, Wilberforce, Papus, Touchstone, Clogs, Locksley, Nonsense, and Keith. Time, 2 minutes 12½ seconds.

SYDNEY HUNT CLUB.

On Saturday afternoon the hounds met at Mundy's Hotel, Gladesville, for a light run, and in the absence of Mr. Terry, Mr. Frank Farnell officiated as master. The drag having been laid by Messrs. A. Wicks and H. C. Francis in the direction of Ryde, a start was made at 2.30 p.m., passing through the Eltham Estate to Tennyson, then through some paddocks and orchards on to Matheson, they came through to Shury's Estate, where a check was made. During the run some good jumping took place. Unfortunately some falls have to be recorded, but happily they were attended with no serious results. A fresh start was then made, the drag again being laid by Messrs. Wicks and Francis through Messrs. Watson and Blaxland's paddocks, and finished at Jordan's Hotel, Ryde. During this spin some stiff fences had to be taken, but the members and their mounts proved themselves equal to the occasion, and tackled and jumped them in good style. The weather during the afternoon was beautiful for outdoor sport, and the run was keenly enjoyed by all present. The hounds, in charge of Luckey, the huntsman, were in good fettle, and ran well. It was noticed, however, that only four gentlemen appeared in hunting costume, a fact that is to be regretted, and it would be well in future for members to don the "pink," as it looks more workmanlike. Among those present were: Mr. Frank Farnell on Aristocrat, Mr. A. Wilks on Mordaunt, Mr. H. Wicks on Barney, Mr. T. Benson on Salter, Mr. H. C. Francis on Jack of Hearts, Mr. Waddell on Beamer, Mr. William Best on Darkie, Mr. F. Woodstock on Chinaman, Mr. C. V. Lamb on Bezique, Mr. G. B. Lloyd on Longfellow, Master Williamson on Valentine, Master Hicks on Jack's the Lad, Luckey (the huntsman) on Rocket, and Clarke (whip) on Snake. A dingo hunt at Penrith will take place next Wednesday on arrival of the 10 o'clock train from Sydney, and it is hoped there will be a good muster.

Dean; committee: Messrs. F. T. Davies (captain), J. H. Hitchcock (sub-captain), E. C. Hughes, A. Reading, C. E. Mayes, W. Palfreyman; hon. treasurer, Mr. Charles Lamb; hon. secretaries, Messrs. F. M'Donnell, T. J. Paton; Officials:—Bicycle races—Referees, Messrs. G. M. Moore, W. Hamilton, and E. C. Hughes; timetakers, Messrs. C. W. Bennett and R. Shute; lap-takers, Messrs. J. Phizackerly and C. E. Mayes; clerks of the course, Messrs. Geo. Nunn and A. Reading; starter, Mr. W. R. George; judges, Messrs. H. S. Badgery and J. Martin; Messrs. F. M'Donnell and T. J. Paton, joint hon. secretaries. Foot races (under the sanction of the N.S.W.A.A.A.):—Referee, Mr. W. J. Rooney; judges, Messrs. F. Maddocks and F. Bettison; time-taker, Mr. R. Coombes; starter, Mr. J. Campbell; clerk of the course, Mr. J. W. Henderson; handicapper, Mr. D. L. Aitken; Mr. John Campbell, hon. secretary N.S.W.A.A.A.

The second day's sport in connection with the Suburban Bicycle Club's championship meeting took place at the Association Ground, Moore Park, on Saturday last, in the presence of about 2500 spectators. The weather was fine, the only drawback to the racing being a strong wind that prevailed during the greater part of the day. The track was in first-class order, and some very good racing was witnessed. In the first heat of the One Mile Maiden Scratch Race, a field of 11 were put on the scratch, but at the start one of the competitors swerved, and colliding with two others the trio came to grief, but fortunately none were hurt, as they all remounted, and made an effort to overtake the others. During the running of the last lap in the final of the One Mile Open Handicap, and while the performers were bunched, one of the leading machines struck the one ridden by Hitchcock, causing him to fall, and Mayes, who had the race well in hand, was not able to clear Hitchcock in time, consequently he, too, received an awkward fall. The race, which had been full of interest up to this juncture, now became very slow, and was eventually won by E. A. Pearson. In the Half-mile First-class Race some fine form was exhibited by T. W. Busst, of Melbourne, who lowered the record from 1 minute 24 seconds to 1 minute 20 9-10 seconds. The Professional Five-mile Race was won by F. Mills, the Adelaide representative, who beat Sam Clarke by about three quarters of a lap. The race throughout was a rather dull affair, but this was only to be expected, seeing that the third competitor, Wyburd, did not put in an appearance. The Three Mile Open Handicap proved a most interesting race, and resulted in a very exciting finish between W. C. Stinton, of Melbourne, and W. C. Kerr, of the Sydney Bicycle Club, who crossed the tape in such close company that the judges were unable to separate them, and a dead heat was declared. The final heat of the 225 yards handicap (ladies' nomination) in connection with the Eastern Suburbs sports, was run off at the conclusion of the programme, and resulted in an easy win for W. S. Gray, with O. J. Miles second. The band of the New South Wales Volunteer Artillery, under the direction of Mr. Edward Kearns, discoursed a number of musical selections during the afternoon. Following are the detailed results of the various events:—

Three Mile Club Championship.—F. T. Davies, 1; J. H. Hitchcock, 2; E. A. Pearson, 3. Other starters were: W. A. Palfreyman, F. C. Eaton, and T. W. M'Donald. After going a lap Palfreyman left the track, and was afterwards followed by M'Donald and Eaton. In the last round Hitchcock, who had been leading, gave way to Davies, who won by a wheel, Pearson being some distance in the rear of Hitchcock. Time, 11 minutes 10 seconds.

One Mile Maiden Scratch Race.—First Heat: W. P. Humphreys (Sydney B. C.), 1; A. Messenger (Rovers B. C.), 2; A. F. Chapman (Union B. C.), 3. Other starters: H. Gilbert (Crusaders B. C.), J. Megeon (Rovers B. C.), C. H. Warburton (Manly B. C.), H. Sonser (Sub. B. C.), C. S. Barnes (Balmain B. C.), J. Constable (Speedwell B. C.), B. A. Simonds (Speedwell B. C.), W. F. S. Ives (St. Leonards B. C.). At the start three of the riders fell, but soon remounted and rejoined the others. Humphries, who rode a great race throughout, led past the post first, with A. F. Chapman close up, Constable being a short distance behind, the others nowhere. Time, 3 minutes 26 seconds. Second Heat: C. W. M'Donald (Crusaders B.C.), 1; H. F. Booth (Manly B.C.), 2; H. Hund (Crusaders B.C.), 3. Other starters were: F. Way (Union), H. Kirkpatrick (Manly B.C.), F. H. Smith (Glebe B.C.), H. R. Chambers (N.S.W. C. Union), — Stark (Balmain B.C.). All the men got away to a fair start, but M'Donald soon assumed a leading place. Positions remained almost unaltered until the last lap was entered upon, when M'Donald increased his lead, but was hotly pursued by Booth. The two forward men then raced well in company until near the finish, when M'Donald spurted and came in about a yard from Booth, with Hund third, the others beaten off. Final Heat: W. P. Humphrey, 1; C. W. M'Donald, 2; H. Booth, 3. Other starters were A. Messenger, A. F. Chapman, and H. Hund. All the men raced well together until the last lap was commenced when Humphrey shot ahead and won by a wheel from M'Donald, with Booth a bad third. Time, 3 minutes 18 seconds.

One-mile Open Handicap.—First Heat: E. Mayes (England), 40 yards, 1; B. Aussell (Speedwell B. C.), 135, 2; George Tombs (Redfern B. C.), 125, 3. Other starters were: E. E. Goodsell (Sydney B. C.), 90 yards; W. L. Kerr (Sydney B. C.), 110; George Tombs (Redfern B. C.), 125; George Corkhill (Balmain B. C.), 130; W. M. Palmer (Speedwell B. C.), 135; F. W. King (N. S. W. C. U.), 145; J. Constable (Speedwell B. C.), 145; R. Russell (Rovers B. C.), 150; A. F. Chapman (N. S. W. C. U.), 170; A. Fry, Sydney B. C.), 170; W. A. Kerrigan (Singleton B. C.), 175; An excellent start was effected, Mayes going away at a great pace, which he maintained for the first lap, and he completed the first quarter in the ruck. Fry, followed by Aussell, was leading at the time the bell rang, but when opposite the stand Mayes assumed the lead, and raced home the winner by several yards, Aussell being second, with Tombs immediately behind the others, finished in a bunch. Time, 3 minutes 2-5 seconds. Second Heat: A. E. Pearson (Redfern B. C.), 130 yards, 1; J. H. Hitchcock (Suburban B. C.), 135 yards, 2; W. C. Stinson (Melbourne), 90 yards, 3. Other starters were—H. A. Mutton (Sydney B. C.), 40 yards; F. Stacklebury (Speedwell B. C.), 115 yards; A. Kneen (Speedwell B. C.), 125 yards; A. Messenger (Rovers B. C.), 145 yards; A. Gellick (Manly B. C.), 170 yards; F. C. Eaton (Suburban B. C.), 185 yards. Pearson maintained the lead almost from the start, and won by several yards. Stinson, the third man, rode a good race, but Hitchcock, who finished second, proved too much for him from the distance mark. Time, 2 minutes 54 2-5 seconds.

Final Heat.—R. E. Pearson, 1; G. Tombs, 2. The other starters were E. Mayes, J. H. Hitchcock, W. C. Stinson, and B. Aussell. A splendid race was witnessed until the last lap was entered, when all the competitors were in company and racing well. A short distance beyond the post one of the riders swerved, and touching Hitchcock's machine, caused him to fall; and he in his descent was struck by Mayes' wheel, which immediately buckled, and the Englishman received a nasty tumble. Aussell and Stinson, who ran inside the post to avoid a collision at this part of the course, were, according to the rules, disqualified, and the starter entered against Tombs for wrongly starting. Time, 2 minutes 51 1-5 seconds.

One Mile Safety Handicap Race.—J. Copland (Sydney B. C.), 50 yards, 1; H. Quodling (Sydney B. C.), 160, 2; M. Lang (Speedwell B. C.), scratch. Other starters were: J. Edgar (Speedwell B. C.), 50 yards; J. Trehair (Sydney B. C.), 180; R. Harvey (Sydney B. C.), 130; W. L. Shaw (Newington B. C.), 160. Copland, who was riding strongly, overtook Quodling in the first half-mile, and retained the leading position until the finish. Lang rode a very game race throughout, but was unable to outpace Quodling, who obtained second place. Time, 3 minutes 6¾ seconds.

Half-mile First-class Scratch Race.—T. W. Busst (Melbourne), 1; J. E. Fenlon (England), 2; J. Edgar (Speedwell B. C.), 3. Other starters were H. A. Mutton (Sydney B. C), G. W. Whatmore (St. Leonards. From the start Edgar went to the front, the others falling into procession, with Mutton at the rear. In the second lap Busst opened out, and raced home an easy winner, Fenlon being second, and Edgar, in close company with Whatmore, a fine third. Time, 1 minute 20 9-10 seconds.

Final of Professional Events, distance five miles.—The points appended to the competitors' names before starting the race were:—F. Mills, 5; S. Clark, 5; G. Wyburd, 2. The two firstnamed were the only starters, Clark being the first to show ahead. For two miles the men kept company, after which Mills took a spin, and put about 70 yards between himself and his opponent. Getting good speed out of his machine, he continued to increase his lead, and eventually won by about three-quarters of a lap. The race throughout lacked interest, although the time was very fast for the distance. Time, 16 minutes 9 seconds. The score at the conclusion of the race was:—Mills, 8 points; Clark, 7 points; Wyburd, 2 points.

Three Miles Open Handicap.—W. L. Kerr (Sydney B. C.), 270 yards, and W. C. Stinson (Melbourne), 200, dead heat; E. Mayes (England), 100, 3. Other starters were: H. A. Mutton (Sydney B. C.), 100 yards; R. Turnbull (Newcastle), 100; J. Edgar (Speedwell B. C.), 140; G. W. Whatmore (St. Leonards), 160; E. M'Donald (Crusaders B. C.), 180; F. T. Davies (Suburban B. C.), 270; E. A. Pearson (Suburban B. C.), 270; F. Stacklebury (Speedwell B. C.), 200; G. Tombs (Redfern B. C.), 320; J. Jorgensen (Rovers B. C.), 320; George Corkhill (Balmain B. C.), 340; B. Aussell (Speedwell B. C.), 340; F. W. King (Sydney B.C.), 340; R. Russell (Rovers B.C.), 350; A. Fry (Sydney B.C.), 400; W. A. Kerrigan (Singleton), 400. Fry, with Aussell in attendance, led for the first two miles. In the second last lap the premier position was taken by Kerr, with Stinson close up, Mayes coming rapidly to the front when the last quarter was entered. Stinson challenged Kerr, who gamely responded, and an excellent race home ensued, both men passing the post so near each other that the judges declared it a dead heat. Mayes finished third. The others, from whose company Mutton had retired, were beaten off. Time, 9 minutes 29 seconds.

440 Yards Handicap Flat Race.—W. S. Grey (E. S. A. A. C.), 25 yards, 1; R. G. White (Sydney Harriers), 28 yards, 2; J. L. Henderson (E. S. A. A. C.), 32 yards, 3. Other starters were: W. E. Jacobs (E. S. A. A. C.), 15 yards; D. J. Kenny (E. S. A. A. C.), 16; F. G. Rabone (E. S. A. A. C.), 17; G. F. Williamson (E. S. A. A. C.), 18; H. O. Carter (E. S. A. A. C.), 18; O. F. Robinson (E. S. A. A. C.), 20; F. S. Brierly (E. S. A. A. C.), 20; L. Spencer (Sydney Harriers), 20; C. Way (Newington A. A. C.), 20; A. W. Noakes (E. S. A. A. C.), 20; A. W. Relph (Sydney Harriers), 22; W. J. Miles (Sydney Harriers), 22; W. C. Freeman (E. S. A. A. C.), 22; H. Herron (E. S. A. A. C.), 25; A. Chapman (T. A. A. C.), 26; E. W. Wachsman (St. P. A. A. C.), 35. Was won by several yards, the majority of the field not covering the distance. Time, 51 minutes 2-5 seconds.

One Mile First-class Invitation Scratch Race.—J. E. Fenlon (England), 1; T. W. Busst (Melbourne), 2; J. Edgar (Speedwell B. C.), 3. Other starters were: R. Turnbull (Newcastle B. C.), G. W. Whatmore St. Leonards B C.), F. T. Davies (Sub. B. C.), E. A. Pearson (Sub. B. C.). Pearson cut out the running for the first quarter, after which he retired, leaving Fenlon in possession of the track, with Busst pressing closely behind. When nearing home, Busst livened up, but Fenlon was on his guard, and accepted the invitation, after which a splendid race to the post was witnessed. Fenlon winning by several inches from Busst, with Edgar an indifferent third. Time, 3 minutes 4 seconds.

CARRINGTON HANDICAP.

The running in the first round of the Carrington June Handicap was commenced on Saturday night, there being a fair attendance. Maxwell and W. Wright were each disqualified for six months for unsatisfactory running. In the nineteenth heat Carmody and Burtt ran a dead heat, and in the run off the judge was once more unable to separate them. In the third attempt Burtt was put back for going over his mark, and Carmody won rather easily. The following are the details of the various heats:—

First Heat.—W. Bartlett, 28 yards, 1. Other starters: J. Ramsey 28½, J. H. Wilkinson 24, J. Pickering 29½. Won by a yard. Time, 13 seconds.

Twelfth Heat.—J. J. Delaney, 28½ yards, 1. Other starters: J. Tasker 24½, J. Westwood 29, E. Rudd 27. Won by a foot. Time, 12 4-5 seconds.

Thirteenth Heat.—F. Wain, 28 yards, 1. Other starters: R. R. Williams 24, W. J. Ferguson 28, F. Biffen 28½. Won by a yard and a half. Time, 12 4-5 seconds.

Fourteenth Heat.—L. A. Hoelscher, 26½ yards, 1. Other starters: G. Stettler 30, J. Cosgrove 28, C. Linden 25. Won by a yard. Time, 13 seconds.

Fifteenth Heat.—W. H. Phillips, 29 yards, 1. Other starters: A. H. Howard 28, J. Malone 26½, W. E. Jackson 28. Won by a foot. Time, 13 seconds.

Sixteenth Heat.—D. Hart, 25½ yards, 1. Other starters: C. M'Gilvrery 24, N. Campbell 30, J. Higgins 30. Won by a yard and a half. Time, 12 3-5 seconds.

Seventeenth Heat.—S. Robertson, 28 yards, 1. Other starters: C. Hall 25, C. A. Dunn 30, Jas W. Byrnes 25½. Won by a few inches. Time, 12 4-5 seconds.

Eighteenth Heat.—W. Kennedy, 25½ yards, 1. Other starters: W. A. Gray 27, J. P. Byrne 28½, W. Ross 30. Won by a yard. Time, 12 7-10 seconds.

Nineteenth Heat.—B. J. Carmody, 28½ yards, and J. Burtt, 27½ yards, dead heat. Other starters: W. M'Lymont 27, J. Sharpe 30. Time, 13 seconds. Carmody and Burtt ran a second dead heat in 12 9-10 seconds; and Carmody won the run off in 13 1-5 seconds.

Twentieth Heat.—R. Fairweather, 28 yards, 1. Other starters: J. Deakins 28½, B. Cullen 27½, J. Atkinson 24½. Won by a yard. Time, 13 seconds.

SPORTS AT BURWOOD.

The running of Ireland's Burwood Handicap was brought to a conclusion on the Burwood running grounds on Friday afternoon, in the presence of a large gathering. The winner was C. Banks, off the 33 yards mark. The following are the details of the proceedings:—

SECOND ROUND.

First Heat.—C. Banks, 33 yards, 1. Other starters: W. E. Jackson 34, G. R. Black 32½. Won by half a yard. Time, 11 7-10 seconds.

Second Heat.—J. Dooley, 35 yards, 1. Other starters: W. H. Sketch 31, J. W. Byrnes 33½. Won easily. Time, 11 3-5 seconds.

Third Heat.—E. G. Agnew, 32½ yards, 1. Other starters: F. Martineer 31, D. Hart 30½. Time, 12 1-10 seconds.

Fourth Heat.—O. J. Cooney, 34 yards, 1. Other starters: H. Gordon 28½, F. Corvetto 40. Won by a yard. Time, 12 seconds.

Fifth Heat.—F. Byrnes, 34½ yards, 1. Other starters: J. F. Lyons 30, J. W. Byrnes 31. Time, 12 seconds.

Sixth Heat.—H. Murray, 31 yards, 1. Other starters: W. Riley 36½, P. Murphy 37½, R. Stokes 34½. Won by a breast. Time, 12 3-5 seconds.

Seventh Heat.—D. Braithwaite, 29½ yards, 1. Other starters: T. Collins 38½, W. Mills 40. Won by 6in. Time, 12 1-5 seconds.

Eighth Heat.—J. Pearson, 31 yards, 1. Other starters: D. Inness 38, J. Westwood 33. Time, 12 1-5 seconds.

THIRD ROUND.

First Heat.—F. Byrnes, 34½ yards, 1. Other starter: D. Braithwaite 29½. Time, 11 9-10 seconds.

Second Heat.—J. Dooley, 35 yards, 1. Other starter: J. Pearson 38. Time, 12 2-5 seconds.

Third Heat.—O. J. Cooney, 34½ yards, 1. Other starter: T. G. Agnew 32½. Time, 12 2-5 seconds.

Fourth Heat.—B. Banks, 33 yards, 1. Other starter: H. Murray 31. Time, 12 2-5 seconds.

FINAL HEAT.

C. Banks, 33 yards, 1; F. Byrnes, 34½, 2; J. Dooley, 35, 3; O. J. Cooney, 34. Time, 12 1-10 seconds.

PEDESTRIANISM.

The first 16 heats of the Sir Joseph Banks Handicap of 525 sovs. will be commenced this afternoon, at 3.15, at Botany. The contests in the various heats should be interesting, as all the competitors are superior men. The old ex-champion, Tom Malone, is away in the country training for this event, and were he to win prize-money no doubt it would be a popular victory. The handicaps will be continued on Wednesday next, and the final day being Monday, the 17th.

On Saturday afternoon a footrace, between E. Clarke and G. M'Kenzie, was run on Ireland's Burwood running ground tracks. The distance was 150 yards, and the stakes £20 a-side. The race was well contested for 120 yards, when M'Kenzie forged ahead and breasted the tape four yards in front of his opponent.

AQUATICS.

ST. IGNATIUS COLLEGE CLUB REGATTA.

Favoured with magnificent weather, the members of St. Ignatius College Rowing Club held their fifth annual regatta on the waters of Lane Cove River on Saturday. There was a good attendance of ladies and gentlemen, including the Hon. D. O'Connor (Postmaster-General), Mr. T. M. Slattery, M.L.A., the president of the club (Thomas Gartlan, S.J.), and a number of rowing men from other clubs. A strong westerly wind swept across the course, making the water rather lumpy for rowing in light boats, but notwithstanding this drawback the racing was good, and all present appeared to enjoy themselves. Many of those who journeyed to the scene of the regatta spent a pleasant half-hour in strolling through the college grounds which are beautifully situated on the bank of the river, and from which some really charming views are to be obtained. Several steamers followed the various events. Mr. A. Ickerson acted as starter and umpire, and Mr. K. Giltinan officiated as judge. The open events were well contested. To the University Boat Club belongs the honour of winning the race for Maiden Fours open to all clubs, although the East Sydney representatives made a hard try for it. Mr. J. G. Kennedy (S.R.C.), the champion amateur sculler of Australasia, showed good form in the outrigger race for senior scullers, defeating Messrs. M'Rae, Jenkins, and Payne. It was to be regretted that Mr. J. Thomson and Mr. G. C. Eastes, who had entered for the event, did not start, as by doing so they would have made the event very interesting. The representatives of the Glebe Rowing Club are to be congratulated on their win in the race for senior fours, as they shaped very well all through. Had the East Sydney men not met with an untoward accident, however (No. 2 in their boat fainted when they were a little ahead of the Glebes), they would undoubtedly have pressed them for the rest of the way, and possibly have defeated them. The College Trial Fours (handicap), which was an uninteresting event, was won by O'Donnell's crew, who romped away from the other boats. There was only one entry for the All-Schools' Race—St. Ignatius College Rowing Club—consequently that event, although on the programme, did not take place. Appended is an account of the racing:—

Maiden Fours' Race (open).—U. B. C.: T. Rolin, 10st. 8lb.; R. Scarvell, 11st. 4lb.; W. Shrader, 12st. 2lb.; V. B. Mandermott, 11st. (stroke); H. Ives (cox.), 1. E. S. R. C.: A. J. Hatton, 9st. 5lb.; C. L. Quist, 8st. 8lb.; P. Evleston, 10st. 8lb.; J. M'Ivor, 10st. 9lb. (stroke); — Dalton (cox.), 2. S. R. C.: C. Pearson, 10st. 2lb.; U. Williams, 10st. 7lb.; D. Walker, 10st. 8lb.; B. Smith, 10st. 7lb. (stroke); J. Hellings (cox.), 3. M. R. C.: F. Viles, 10st. 8lb.; W. T. Bramley, 12st.; W. Moore, 12st.; F. G. Rabone, 10st. 6lb. (stroke); S. Ives (cox.), 0. The course was from Wilson's Creek to the College Wharf. S. R. C. got the best of the start, and rowing a fast and beautiful stroke, they went off in fine style, M. R. C., U. B. C., and E. S. R. C. following in the order named. Three hundred yards from the creek the East Sydney men, who shaped very well, spurted, and began to go to the front rapidly. Another hundred yards and the E. S. R. C. crew was leading and going right away for home, looking very much like winners. Passing the wharf at Longueville E. S. R. C. led U. B. C. by three lengths, the 'Varsity boat being half a length in front of the Sydney craft, Mercantile, about rowed out, being last. Higher up the stream E. S. R. C. ran across the bows of the U. B. C. boat. After this U. B. C. spurted a little, and drew ahead of their opponents. A great race then ensued, E. S. R. C. and U. B. C. trying very hard for the victory, the result being that the 'Varsity crew beat the E. S. R. C. men by a length, Sydney being third, and M. R. C. last. The U. B. C. representatives were a strong crew, but they did not exhibit the best of form. In the opinion of some persons the East Sydneys should have won the race if they had been decently steered. Crews from the Leichhardt R. C. and St. Ignatius R. C. also entered for this event, but neither started, two of the college boys being unable to row at the last moment.

Junior Pupils, in light skiffs—pair oars; course from College Wharf to the first red post.—Swan—L. Lavergne and C. M'Bride, B. M'Bride (cox), 1; Comet—F. Lillies and E. Slattery, W. Page (cox). 0. C. M'Bride and Lavergne took the lead shortly after starting and maintained it until the finish. The boys rowed well. Swan won by about four lengths. In the preparatory heats, W. M'Donald, B. Fitzgerald, beat B. M'Bride, F. D'Arcy; E. Slattery, F. Lillis, beat M. Toohey, J. Toohey; L. Lavergne, C. M'Bride, beat A. Munroe, J. De Lisle; E. Slattery, F. Lillis, beat J. Curtin, D. Prendergast; L. Lavergne, C. M'Bride, beat M'Donald, B. Fitzgerald.

Senior Sculls in outriggers—course, from Wilson's Creek to the College Wharf.—J. G. Kennedy, S.R.C., 11st. 11lb., 1; J. M'Rae, M.R.C., 11st., 2; G. Jenkins, M.R.C., 10st., 3; F. J. Payne, S.R.C., 11st. 8lb., 0. J. Thomson and G. C. Eastes did not start. Kennedy shot away at a terrific pace, rowing up to 40 to the minute for the first few strokes. He speedily gained a good lead, which he was able to maintain and increase when he liked all through the race. At Longueville, Kennedy, who was rowing very nicely, was fully three lengths in front of M'Rae, who was shaping well. Payne was third, with Jenkins last. This order was maintained for some time. Approaching River View the champion amateur ropened his shoulders, and put in a few lively strokes, thereby greatly increasing the lead he had at the wharf. Rowing on in comfort he won by about eight lengths from M'Rae, who was some short distance ahead of Jenkins, Payne being last.

Junior Pupils in skiffs, treble sculls; course from College Wharf to the second red post.—1, Arrow: J. S. Walker, H. Egan, J. Tarleton, F. M'Donald (cox). 2, Bow: J. Moloney, E. Dalton, B. M'Bride, C. M'Bride (cox). A good race all through; Arrow won with a little to spare.

Rowing Club Senior Fours. Course, Wilson's Creek to College Wharf.—1, G. R. C., C. Wilson, 10st. 5lb.; A. Fox, 12st.; W. Reynolds, 11st. 8lb.; G. Robertson (stroke), 11st.; cox. Hellings. 2, M. R. C., E. Grace, 10st. 2lb.; A. C. Hollingsworth, 10st. 6lb.; F. A. Styche, 11st. 2lb.; W. P. Berry (stroke) 10st. 8lb.; cox, S. Ives. 3, U. B. C., G. W. Millard, 11st.; F. Belbridge, 11st. 7lb.; A. C. Millard, 12st. 6lb.; W. C. Belbridge (stroke), 11st. 12lb.; cox. H. Ives. E. S. R. C., G. W. Nash (bow), 10st. 4lb.; A. W. Boshill (No. 2), 11st. 8lb.; J. A. Smith (No. 3), 10st. 8lb.; John E. Myers (stroke), 10st. 8lb.; cox, Hellings. The East Sydney and Glebe crews got the best of the start. Myers set his men a capital stroke, and answering the call in a spirited manner they soon led the Glebes, who were rowing in excellent form, and putting in good solid work, M. B. C. being third, with the U. B. C. crew last. At Longueville E. S. R. C. led Glebe by half a length, the others being some little distance in the rear. The 'Varsity crew, who were working very hard, now moved up a little, but although heavy men, they seemed unable to force the pace. A splendid race took place between E. S. R. C. and the Glebe representatives, but just as the former appeared to be winning—they were slightly ahead of the Glebes at the time—No. 2 in the boat fainted, and their chance was gone in the twinkling of an eye. Glebe held on steadily, and passed the post some distance ahead of the Mercantile, the U. B. C. representatives coming in last.

College Trial Fours, handicap.—1, New South Wales (2 lengths).—F. Page, H. Mooney, J. Plunkett, R. Hardman (stroke), B. M'Bride (cox.). 2, Queensland (scratch).—E. Lennon, H. Lennon, J. D'Arcy, J. Culligane (stroke), J. Moloney (cox.), Hillston (1 length).—R. Keating, T. Punch, A. Jennings, P. O. Donnell (stoke), C. M'Bride (cox.). This was a good contest. Hillston gave up shortly after the start, and New South Wales won by more than the handicap. The visitors were enabled to return to Sydney in good time.

The match between the 14ft. dingies Our Roy (wooden) and Violet (canvas), for a stake of £20, was sailed on Saturday afternoon over the following course: From moorings off Blue's Point, round Shark Island, round a boat off Blue's Point, thence round Fort Denison, and back to Blue's Point. At 3 o'clock the starter, Mr. H. Harding, who also officiated as umpire, despatched the dingies pretty evenly, the Violet having her third suit on with one reef down, and the Our Roy with a similar-sized sail. There was a moderate westerly wind, the tide was ebbing, and the run to the island was accomplished in good time. Our Roy carried squaresail, but the extra canvas seemed to be unnecessary, when it was proved that the canvaser could keep on even terms with her by the use of mainsail and jib only. Whilst rounding the island the wooden dingy succeeded in passing her rival, and maintained a slight lead until midway between Bradley's and Clarke Island, when the Violet overhauled her and kept increasing the lead throughout each tack. Off Kirribilli Point Violet shook out the reef in consequence of the wind falling lighter, and at Blue's Point the Our Roy retired from the contest through the hawser carrying away. The Violet sailed over the remainder of the course alone, and finished about 6.45. Mr. Chris Webb piloted the winner very creditably, and Mr. G. Holmes was at the helm of the Our Roy. Each dingy contained a crew of six.

FOOTBALL.

The following matches were played on Saturday:—

Arfoma and Wallaroo played on the northern portion of the Agricultural Society's Ground, with the following teams:—Arfoma: J. Wood (back), F. Walker, H. Hillyar, and Elphinstone (halves), Sefton, F. Hillyar, and F. Clapin (quarters), A. C. Ebsworth (captain), Bulman, Delauret, Perry, Lloyd, Kethel, W. Walker, and Hale (forwards). Wallaroo: Bennett (full back), R. Cameron, E. Cameron, and Roberts (halves), W. Cameron, and Bode quarters, C. Cameron, Hungerford, Rand Baylis, Ebsworth, Beaumont, Walters, Woolnough, and Burkitt forwards. Wallaroo won the toss and elected to kick with the wind, which was blowing strongly from the west. Ebsworth set the ball going for Arfoma and Bennett returned, a scrimmage being at once formed at the Wallaroo 25. The defenders got the best of it, but the Arfomas passed across, and H. Hillyar securing was forced out about 10 yards from the Wallaroo line. Bennett made a very nice run along the wing, dodged Hale, and finished with a good drop, but was recalled to where he had gone into touch. Arfoma again compelled Wallaroo to act on the defensive, and got the ball very close to their line, but nothing came of the attack. A very long shot off a fair catch by Wallaroo showed poor form in drop-kicking, but the advantage gained in distance enabled the Wallaroos to rush their opponents' line, and Rand took it over, but he lost the ball, and Arfoma saved. There was some very indifferent passing by the Wallaroos, and F. Hillyar tried to get away, but he held on to the ball too long, and the umpire ordered a scrimmage in consequence. Wood at length cleared his lines effectually by running the ball out and punting into touch on the northern wing. From a line up Wallaroo tried to pass across, but H. Hillyar cut in and spoilt the plan. Bulman dribbled well into the Wallaroo 25, and a scrimmage was formed 10 yards from their line. A free kick was awarded Wallaroo, and the drop sent the ball well into touch. H. Hillyar had just picked up for a run in the centre, when E. Cameron brought him down. A lamentable kick followed from a fair catch by Wallaroo about the half-way. Elphinstone made a run into the Wallaroo territory, and the return was a bad one, being into the centre instead of towards the touch line. Sefton made a good run into the Wallaroo 25, and passed to H. Hillyar, but the latter had no opportunity to advance the ball. A very doubtful pass by Bulman gave the ball to Sefton, who made a fine run from outside the Wallaroo 25, and going at a great rate touched down behind the goal posts. Elphinstone took the kick, and scored goal, half-time being called shortly afterwards. On resuming, play opened close to the Wallaroo goal, and Bennett was tackled by Elphinstone in the 25. There was some fast play near the Wallaroo line, and Kethel obtained a touch. Sefton took the kick, which was not successful. When the ball was kicked out Sefton ran across at the half way, and passed when tackled, the run not advancing the ball. Clapin took it up next, but seeing no opening, passed into the centre. Hale made a run well into the Wallaroos 25, but was forced out close to the line. Wallaroo brought the ball back with a rush, and had a shot at goal, which fell short, Wood returning. Wallaroo still playing up well, took the ball within 10 yards of the Arfoma line. The defenders worked it out to the 25, and Wallaroo had another shot at goal, but nothing came of it, and the ball went back to the fence, a dead ball. Play was resumed inside the Arfoma 25, and the ball was brought closer up, going out at length about half-a-dozen yards from the line. The whistle went for time shortly afterwards, Arfoma winning by 8 points to 0.

Elvira and Strathfield met on the southern portion of the Agricultural Society's ground in the senior badge contest, with the following teams:—Elvira: A. Martin, full back; Selvwright, Wallace, and Hartley, halves; Creer and Darling, quarters; J. Wiggins (captain), Emo, Kelly, Johnstone, Hayman, J. Murray, T. Murray, J. Martin, and Chapman, forwards. Strathfield: Valentine, Carter, Moses, Braddon, A. Wilkinson, E. Wilkinson, A. W. White, C. Mant, O. Robberds, Cadell, Ingram, E. Smith, Pownhall, K. Clark, and Helsham. Elvira secured the wind, and Strathfield kicked off, Elvira returning badly, Wallace failed to get the ball away after attempting a fair catch, and play ensued some half-a-dozen yards from the Elvira goal. The same player a little later on took a fair catch, and dropped well away. Carter started a promising run, but a hot tackle fetched him down in the centre. Strathfield lost a lot of ground by long passing, and on both sides players were continually making the mistake of passing into the midst of several players when tackled. Play followed in the Strathfield territory, and Braddon ran the ball to the centre and passed to Mant, who got as far as the Elvira 25 before he was tackled. Smith brought the ball close to the Elvira line, where a scrimmage was formed, and quickly broken, Elvira benefiting to the extent of 10 yards. A bad pass by Elvira across their own goal did not help them, but they managed to get the ball back to the half-way, where Moses secured, and after a short run passed wild, and Strathfield lost the ball. Wallace made an excellent fending run, and the play was shifted to the Strathfield 25. Braddon brought the ball back with a good dodging run but he was followed very closely and when tackled, passed into the crowd. Moses who was doing good work got as far as the Elvira 25, when he was tackled and passed. Mant picked up at the Elvira 25, and making a good run, got in. Wilkinson took the kick at a distance of about 30 yards, and made a very nice shot, but just as the ball was sailing up to the bar, a gust of wind took the ball outside the southern flag. When it was kicked off and returned Sievwright failed to get hold of it and the result was disastrous. Moses secured, and after a short run, sent the ball on to Wilkinson, who in turn passed to Robberds, and he had reached to within 5 yards of the line before Martin pulled him down. The Elviras got the best of the scrimmages but the opposing forwards brought the ball back with a rush until Wallace picked up and punted back. Moses ran well in the centre, and when threatened passed to Carter, who could not advance the ball, the pass losing as much ground as the run had gained. A very weak kick by Johnstone in his own 25 put the Elviras in danger as Moses marked from it at an easy distance, his kick being a failure. Wiggins dribbled over the Strathfield line, but he could not get hold of the ball for the touch, and Mant was just in time to save. Half-time was called shortly afterwards. On resuming, Wiggins made another attack on the Strathfield line, but, being held, he did not put the ball down at once, and the umpire whistled for a scrimmage. The ball went in and out several times on the northern wing at the Strathfield 25. Hartley and Moses made good opposition runs, and a kick along the ground sent the ball into the Strathfield goal, where, after a great race, the defenders managed to save. On the kick-out the ball was recalled and scrimmaged, some of the Strathfield men being off-side. Braddon got a fair catch, and taking a drop at a distance of about 45 yards, potted a splendid goal. After the kick-off he made another good shot, this time without effect. Lively play followed in the Elvira 25, and Braddon, picking up at close range, potted another goal. White made a grand run along the northern wing, but, unfortunately, he just crossed the touch-line and was recalled. A scrimmage followed on the Elvira line, and Carter had a fair opportunity for a kick, but he held on too long, and the kick was smothered. Another fine drop by Braddon went below the bar. Johnstone ran the ball into the Strathfield territory, and the Elviras very nearly got in, but Valentine kept his line clear. Wallace and Kelly made another determined attack, but once more Valentine came to the rescue, and time was called, the scores being, Strathfield 11, Elvira 0. Mr. Shaw acted as sole umpire, and strictly enforced the rule as to putting the ball down when held.

Parkgrove and Granville, playing under British Association rules, met on the ground of the former, and the game, which was very fast and even throughout, resulted in a win for the former by 1 goal to nil. The Parkgrove won the toss, and Sorlie put the ball in motion. For some little time the Granvilles had their opponents in trouble and got 2 fouls in quick succession in front of their goal, but without result. A corner for the Parkgrove was taken by Browning, but the Granvilles got the ball away, and a good shot from Sorlie caused the goal-keeper to use his hands. The Parkgrove forwards then rushed the ball down the field, and Connors made a good shot for goal, the ball grazing the bar as it went over. A corner for the Parkgrove was kicked by Cronin, but the Granvilles were on the alert and saved. Just then Cronin, who was playing well for the Parkgroves, was disabled, and half-time was called soon after, neither side having scored. The game for about 15 minutes after resuming play was exceedingly even. The back division of the Granville team seemed impregnable, and although M'Menemy and M'Creadie for Parkgrove sent in two really good shots, they were without avail. Sorlie was again within an ace of scoring for the visitors, but the goal-keeper (Dunstan) got the ball safely away. When it looked as if the game must end in a draw Browning (Parkgrove) kicked a beautiful goal from the half-back division, and the game soon afterwards terminated, the scores standing:—Parkgrove, 1 goal; Granville, nil. All the Granville team played well, especially Pickon, Baillie, Lusk, and Sorlie; and those who rendered most service for the Parkgrove were Thompson, Browning, Reid, Connors, and M'Menemy.

Newington and Grammar School (second fifteens) met on Wednesday, on the ground of the latter, when Newington inflicted a complete defeat on their opponents by obtaining 36 points to nil. For the winners Litchfield, Chambers, Turner, and Crofton played well, while for the losers Higgins, Cameron, and Clarke played a good game.

Newtown Waratahs and Strathfield Second met for the Union badges, and the match resulted in a win for the former after a close and exciting contest by five points to nil. The try was obtained by T. Osbourne, and converted into a goal. The following played well for the winners:—Ormiston, Austin (2), Blanchard, and Easy; and for the losers—Bulman, Roberts, and the captain. B. Griffiths gave every satisfaction as sole umpire.

The match between the North Shore Cliftons and the Ardsley Club resulted in favour of the former by 7 points. For the winners the best players were Fyfe, Lee (who obtained a touch), and M'Kenzie (who kicked a goal). Thomas, Cole, and Mountford were the best players for the Cliftons.

The Parramattas met the Newtowns on the former's ground in the Senior Badge contests. A determined game was played by both sides, but the unbeaten Parramattas scored a brilliant victory by 19 points to nil. For the winners W. Taylor, J. Frazer, and H. Davey secured touches, all of which were converted into goals by Carpenter. L. Wickham kicked a nice goal from the field. This player seems to have a decided penchant for drop-kicking goals, kicking at least one on nearly every match. For Newtown Maiden and Phillips played a good game.

Oxford played Mortlake at Mortlake, the result being a decisive win for the former by 27 points to nil. After the first five minutes it was evident that the river team were overmatched, the ball being very adjacent to their line all through. Tries were obtained by Clarkson (3), Miller, and Garland. Two of these were converted into goals by J. Druce, he also kicking two from the field. M'Manamey, Moiler, Richards, and Winter worked hard for Mortlake. Mr. J. R. Butler made a very judicious referee.

Our Melbourne correspondent telegraphs that Saturday was dull and unfavourable for football, owing to a strong wind which was blowing. About 12,000 spectators watched the match South Melbourne versus Port Adelaide. South Melbourne won by five goals six behinds to the visitors' three goals 11 behinds. Essendon 11 goals 14 behinds, beat the Maoris who obtained five goals five behinds. The following matches were played for the premiership:—Carlton, three goals seven behinds, beat Williamstown, two goals 11 behinds, and Geelong, three goals five behinds, beat Fitzroy two goals four behinds; North Melbourne, five goals eight behinds, beat Richmond, one goal five behinds. Footscray, five goals nine behinds, beat Melbourne, two goals five behinds; Port Melbourne, five goals 12 behinds, beat St. Kilda three goals five behinds.

BOWLING.

A match was played between the St. Leonards and the City bowling clubs on Saturday last on the St. Leonards green. The following played for St. Leonards:—E. Edmunds, J. Forsyth, John Keary, James Keary, Stevens, Smith, Moore, Hobson, Horsnell, Jenkins, Brown, Thompson, Bligh, Cosgrove, A. Eaton, and White. The Ballarat Club, which lately visited Sydney, left a trophy to be played for by the clubs which entertained them. Lots have been drawn, and the St. Leonards and Strathfield Clubs are to contest the trophy. The St. Leonards representatives are:—No. 1 Rink: Punch, Smith, Stevens, Edmunds (captain); No. 2, Hobson, John Keary, Moore, Jervis (captain).

LAWN TENNIS.

The Lorelly and Wahgunyah B team played on Saturday on the latter's court, and after a good contest, the match resulted in a win for Lorelly by three games. The following are the scores:—

Hicks and Turner (L.) v. Way and Cox (W.) ... 6-4
R. Shaw and E. M'Coy (L.) v. Gill and Watson (W.) 3-6
Druce and A. M'Coy (L.) v. Dunlop and H. Doust (W.) ... 6-4
Hicks and Turner (L.) v. Dunlop and H. Doust (W.) 6-1
R. Shaw and E. M'Coy (L.) v. Way and Cox (W.) ... 3-6
Druce and A. M'Coy (L.) v. Gill and Watson (W.) ... 6-5
Druce and A. M'Coy (L.) v. Way and Cox (W.) ... 5-6
Result: Lorelly, 4 sets, 35 games; Wahgunyah B, 3 sets 32 games.

THE POLICE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Since the last dreadful catastrophe—the murder of the police constable David Sutherland—suggestions are daily made through the press in various ways for safeguarding the guardians of the law and order on their lonely beats in the streets and back lanes during nights. May I be permitted to say that the plan of sending two policemen armed only with batons on each beat during nights has for a long time been in existence in Stockholm, where it has proved itself to work satisfactorily. The second man is termed an "extra (special) policeman" (distinguished by his cap only when on duty), and is reinforced for "night duties only" from any one among the people willing and acceptable to undertake these services. I understand that such men only do duty half a night at a time, and only thrice a week, the extra men commencing their services at 10 p.m. This being the most economical system, was, I believe, adopted from some of the more important continental metropolises, where it had answered all purposes, and most likely is still in use. The extra man is only in cases of severe nature called upon to attend at the police courts. Amongst a population here of 330,000 the whole complement of men required could undoubtedly be procured in this way if wanted. Men of good and steady characters acceptable to the police force would only be too willing to perform these night-watches, so as to augment their weekly earnings.

Sydney, June 8. A SWEDE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—In to-day's Herald writing re arming the Sydney police with revolvers, "Citizen" makes the following statement:—"In Great Britain, where the 'morale' and intelligence of the men bear no comparison whatever with the New South Wales police, it has been found necessary to give the men revolvers in most of the large cities, and no one has ever heard of their making an improper use of their weapons." Passing over the most ungenerous and uncalled-for slur on an honest and fine body of men, I can only say that "Citizen's" assertion is a most unfounded one. When several years ago some constables did lose their lives in the same manner as poor Sutherland did, the people at home made the usual outcry that the police should be armed with revolvers. But Colonel Henderson, and all the heads of police were dead against so doing—and except in very exceptional cases it never was done. What the authorities did do was to increase the police force, and double the night patrols in outlying and suburban districts. "Citizen" might have taken the trouble to verify his statement before committing it to print. As it is, he appears to know rather less about the organisation of the English police than he does about their "morale" and intelligence, and that is saying a great deal. I am, &c.,

June 7. AN ENGLISHMAN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Re the "Sutherland case," I endorse the views of your correspondent as to an individual subscription of 1s. in aid of a family relief fund, and I go one higher, by suggesting that the Government should frank all letters containing subscriptions (in stamps or otherwise) of that or any other amount within or outside the colony. It would cost nothing, and assist a good cause. I am, &c., WM. SCOTT.

MR. BEST'S OFFER.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—I fully endorse "Liverpudlian's" letter in your issue of to-day, re acceptance of Mr. Best's offer to preside at the inauguration of the new Town Hall organ. Though 25 years have elapsed since I last heard him on the grand organ at St. George's Hall, Liverpool, yet the mention of his name vividly recalls to my mind the enthusiasm evoked by his masterly recitals. I have no wish to depreciate the talents of our local organist, but having secured one of the finest instruments in the world, it would be worse than folly to entrust the opening recitals to any but a thorough and world-known artist, one capable of bringing out all the power and melody of the instrument, and in its varied harmonies giving the public such a musical bonne bouche that they will appreciate and applaud their city fathers for their spirited action in so ably catering for their instruction and enjoyment. As Mr. Best must be now verging on 65 years, it is very improbable that he would accept other than a temporary engagement; but as an arbiter in the selection of the permanent organist he would be invaluable.

Thanking you in anticipation,

I am, &c., WILLOUGHBY ANDREW.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—I trust you will allow me a little space to protest against the suggestion to secure Mr. F. W. Best's services for the opening of our new organ. Surely there are men here who are quite capable of doing justice to the merits of this fine instrument, provided they were allowed a short time to become acquainted with its technicalities. Although hailing from the same country as "Liverpudlian," I should be sorry to see the undoubted ability of the best of the New South Welsh organists overlooked. I am, &c.,

EPPS'S COCOA.—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately-flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well-fortified with pure blood, and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. The Bishop of London has appealed against the decision of the Supreme Court directing him to hear the case of the objectors to the reredos in St. Paul's Cathedral.

Rear-Admiral Fairfax, C.B., returned to Sydney yesterday, arriving by the flagship Orlando.

A report has been brought up from a Select Committee of the Legislative Council which furnishes a curious illustration of the careless way in which some of our public affairs are administered. When the Newcastle Pasturage Reserve Bill was brought on for its second reading in the Council, the Attorney-General stated, on the strength of information he received, that fourteen hundred acres out of sixteen hundred had been jumped by trespassers. The House was rather startled at this, and resolved to send the bill to a select committee. It appears on inquiry that the Attorney-General had been led to overstate the case, as the fourteen hundred acres included the area leased to coal-mining companies, and the trespassers have not seized more than three hundred acres. It is a good thing, however, that the bill was sent to a select committee, because, though the result of the inquiry has been to endorse the bill, all the facts of the case have been brought out, and the exposure of the neglect of successive Governments will perhaps be a useful check on anything of the kind being allowed to happen again.

The Newcastle Pasturage Reserve was marked out in 1850 for the purpose of affording a run for stock which were then being shipped to New Zealand. The immediate purpose of it passed away, but the reserve remained. On it and close around it were valuable coal seams, and after the passing of the Land Act of 1861 the land inside its boundaries was mostly leased for mining purpose, and the land adjoining was conditionally purchased. The opening of the mines drew a large number of miners to the district, many of them without much money to start afresh in the world, and they began to put up rough shelter for themselves on the reserve, as a cheaper arrangement than going into lodgings, or buying an allotment and building. And, indeed, there seems to have been no superabundant supply of township land convenient for their purpose, even if they had been able to buy and build. The common was the most convenient spot for their purpose, and was close to their work. There was nobody to forbid them, or to levy any rent, and one trespass encouraged another. At the same time, the quality of the houses put up was very inferior, because as they knew they had no title the men naturally did not care to spend too much. The houses and rooms are stated to be very small, and many of them overcrowded, but the tenements seem to have been on separate allotments, and being thus detached have fortunately good ventilation.

When the trespassers had come to number three hundred, they felt themselves strong enough to approach the Minister and ask for a favourable consideration of their position. This was as far back as 1871, and Mr. John Bowie Wilson, who was then in charge of the Department, is said to have given the deputation a favourable answer. There is, however, no official record of the promise, and nothing was done. This was the beginning of a long series of deputations, and a series of promises, all of which were destined to be broken, for during eighteen years Minister after Minister has intended to deal with the matter, but has had to leave office before being able to do so. The bill that is now before Parliament is the first that has actually been prepared, the other departmental action having been only to survey the ground. These surveys, however, have been valuable preparatory work, because it appears from them that, with the exception of a few cases in which houses will have to be shifted off the main roads, it will be possible to give every existing occupier about a quarter of an acre, and the balance of the land may be reserved or sold as may be most expedient.

The promises of successive Ministers since Mr. J. B. Wilson first gave encouragement to the trespassers in 1871 seem to have acted like a charm. Every time a deputation went up to the Minister and came back again with an assurance that a bill would be introduced to give some sort of a title, the process of occupation proceeded merrily; so that while in Mr. Wilson's time there were only three hundred trespassers to be dealt with, there are now more than a thousand, while the whole population, including women and children, is nearly five thousand. If Mr. Wilson, when giving the first promise, had at the same time sent up a bailiff to see that there was no more trespassing, and had begun to levy a fair rental on the then occupiers of the said ground, the mischief would have been arrested at its then magnitude; but the first Minister to do anything more than promise was Mr. Garrett. He issued three writs of intrusion for the sake of asserting the Crown title, and he appointed a bailiff, and so for the last two or three years there has been no increase in the number of trespassers.

The Select Committee having to deal with things, not as they ought to have been, but with things as they are, has considered the best course to pursue. At different times there have been different proposals. One Minister thought of giving trespassers annual leases; another proposed to sell the land by auction, securing to the occupier the value of his improvements; and another to sell the land at an estimated value, and this last is Mr. Brunker's plan. The committee report that they have considered all three schemes, and have finally decided to support that proposed in the bill. The eviction of so large a number of people is out of the question, especially in the light of so many Ministerial promises that they should be secured in their holdings. To lease the land would not give an adequate stimulus to improvement in the style of tenement, and that seems to have been very much wanted; and as the whole of the common is not wanted for a reserve, there is no objection to selling, provided the Crown gets a fair price. The conclusion arrived at, therefore, seems to be the best under the circumstances. The trespassers, of course, have not a scrap of legal title; and, as some of them have been there for more than twenty years without paying any rent, they have had the full value of their improvements. Still, there they are, and they have been encouraged to go there by the neglect of the Government, and to stay there by the promises of the Government, and under the circumstances a compromise must be arrived at. The value of the land will have to be determined by the local land board, but the evidence goes to show that the land is now worth from a hundred to five hundred pounds an acre, so that the Crown will, at any rate, get a revenue from the sale, and will, in fact, get more than if the land had been sold prior to its occupation. The people, by settling on the land and making a township of it, have given a value to the land which it did not previously possess. After all the claimants have been satisfied, there will still be a good deal available for auction, and an adequate amount left for public reserves.

Queensland having followed the example of Victoria, New South Wales, and the other colonies that have placed the management of their railways in the hands of non-political boards, a special interest attaches to the report of the retiring Commissioner for 1888, which will be the last complete annual report of operations under the old system. In Queensland, as in this colony, the sole Commissioner received from the Government the offer of an honourable and lucrative appointment under the new order of things; but there, as here, the alternative of retirement upon a pension was naturally preferred. The new system will be initiated there, as it has been here, by new hands—an arrangement which will probably be the most satisfactory to all parties.

It will be a source of gratification to Mr. Curnow, in handing over his trust, that the record for 1888 is full of indications of healthy progress. Thus, increases are reported (as compared with 1887) under the following heads:—Mileage open for traffic, 9·41 per cent.; train miles run, 15·70 per cent.; goods carried, 23·23 per cent.; number of passenger tickets issued, 9·25 per cent.; bales of wool carried, 17·59 per cent.; and gross earnings, 8·33 per cent. At the same time there is evidence of careful management in the accompanying decrease of 5·50 per cent. in the working expenditure. As a result, the net returns were £335,000, as compared with £243,000 in the previous year, so that there was an increase in the rate of interest on total capital expenditure from 1·951 per cent. to 2·485 per cent., and on the expenditure on opened lines from 2·151 per cent. to 2·754 per cent., which represents in cash an increase of 12s. per cent. The lines open in Queensland do not yet pay working expenses and interest. The balance last year to be made up from the consolidated revenue was £251,000 when the interest upon the total capital is considered; but continuing the calculation to the lines open for traffic, the deficiency was £194,000, which was £61,000 less than that on the previous year, and these figures show the results after deducting the loss in working upon the Mackay railway and eight separate branches.

The first railway in New South Wales was opened in 1855. The first section of a railway was opened in Queensland just ten years later. Up to the end of 1887 we had constructed 2036 miles. At the close of 1888, 1931 miles were constructed in Queensland. Our neighbours in the North may therefore be credited with the display of much spirit and enterprise. At the dates to which Mr. Curnow's figures refer, as above, they had 4 miles 79 chains of railway per thousand of the population, against 1 mile 76 chains in this colony, and in Victoria also. In reaching this point they incurred a relatively heavier debt than we, although actually one of less than half the amount. The cost of their railways was £12,169,000, or £31 8s. 2d. per head; whilst ours was £26,532,000, or £25 8s. 10d. per head. The cost per mile in Queensland was £6302, against £13,031 per mile in this colony, though it should be mentioned that Mr. Coghlan calculates the average cost here as £11,037. The difference in cost is partly due to the fact that in Queensland the gauge is 3ft. 6in., whilst we have the standard gauge of 4ft. 8½in. Last year contracts were let for the construction of rather more than 126 miles at a cost of £2995 per mile; but the first section of a line of some 37½ miles is being constructed from Normanton towards Croydon, with metal sleepers laid on the surface of the ground after ploughing and rolling, at a cost which is estimated not to exceed £2600 per mile, including surveys, construction, material, buildings, supervision, and rolling-stock. It is intended to allow the storm-water to cross this line without artificial intervention.

In view of the character of the Queensland railways, as thus indicated, we turn with interest to the question of the cost of maintenance, and find it set down as follows:—Queensland, £121 4s. per mile; New South Wales, £190; Victoria, £179 8s. 1d.; South Australia, £79; and the working expenses per train mile were: In Queensland, 37·82d.; New South Wales, 54·05d.; Victoria, 46·32d.; and South Australia, 38·07d.

It is worthy of notice that the whole of the railways are reported to have been well provided with locomotives and rolling-stock for the regular traffic during the year, although the difficulty of maintaining and distributing a sufficient supply is becoming greater every year. There are eleven separate railways, the detachment of which necessitates the maintenance of a number of repairing shops, and occasionally the stripping of the locomotives and waggons that have to be transferred from one to the other. It will be remembered that some time ago contracts were taken for the construction of a considerable number (75) of locomotives in the colony. The contractors are, it is said, making fair progress, and it is expected that five or six of these engines will be delivered by the close of the year. As illustrating the facilities for the manufacture of rolling-stock that exist in the colony, it is mentioned that in August last, in consequence of the Newcastle coal strike, 100 additional hopper waggons were required for the increasing coal traffic. Contracts for 50 waggons each were let to two separate firms, and the 100 waggons were ready for traffic in about 28 working days.

We have noticed above the number of detached railways by which the scheme of construction in Queensland is characterised. A very useful map, showing the railway systems of the four colonies, is appended to the report, and a glance at it is enough to show the contrast between the general scope of railway enterprise in Queensland, and that in the other colonies. In all of them there is far more centralisation than in Queensland. We have, it is true, lines starting from two chief seaports, but the greater part of the works constructed or authorised converge upon Sydney. In Queensland lines start from the seaboard, and run inland from Moreton Bay, Rockhampton, Townsville, and Cooktown, with shorter lines from Bundaberg, Mackay, Bowen, Cairns, and Normanton, near the Gulf of Carpentaria. Most of the longer lines have branches to feed them, and others, to make connections and fill up gaps, have been proposed or approved. The detachment of these numerous lines has probably been the cause of a relative increase in the expenditure and diminution of receipts, but the conviction is hardly to be avoided, that when the separate links are connected together, and the country is more thickly settled with an industrious population, the railways of Queensland will have a prosperous future before them.

It is satisfactory to find that Mr. O'Connor has taken up the question of the Post Office clock. We have erected at great cost a magnificent structure which should be an ornament to the city, but the effect is entirely spoilt by an ugly-looking cavity in the tower where the clock should go. There is just ground for dissatisfaction in this, but the inconvenience which the citizens suffer is another and perhaps a stronger reason for complaint. There is no clock in Sydney which can be seen for more than a very short distance, and such public clocks as we have are not to be trusted for giving the exact time. What the city wants is a clock which can be seen at a good distance all round, both by day and by night—a clock, moreover, which can be depended upon for giving the true time. We were promised such a clock upon the completion of the Post Office, but we seem to be as far from the realisation of the promise as we were two years ago, when a contract was taken by Mr. Tornaghi. The tower continues to wear that vacuous unfinished appearance which is so irritating to the sight, and no apparent steps have been taken to supply the defect. It may be presumed that the contractor has done something towards the construction of the clock—it may be reposing in his workshop for all that we know to the contrary—but what we want to see is a movement towards putting the mechanism in the place prepared for it. Manufacturers, we are aware, have sometimes to contend with difficulties; but it must be remembered that while the contractor in this case promised to complete the work in one year, he has allowed two years to go by without even beginning to put up the clock. The Postmaster-General is right in describing this delay as extraordinary, and he is equally right in the determination he has come to not to allow things to remain as they are any longer. Mr. O'Connor is taking measures which will end in something being done—at least we may hope so—and the thanks of the community are due to him for his zeal and energy.

The Commission appointed in Queensland to inquire into the condition and prospects of the sugar industry presented a very discouraging picture, and its members differed as to the measures to be recommended for its revival. Immense sums (for the colony) have been sunk in this enterprise, yet there is much doubt whether it can be saved from collapse. The greatest difficulty is to be found in the fall in the price of sugar since the days when the mania for sugar-planting was at its height. If the attempt to suppress the bounty system on the Continent of Europe should succeed, the outlook for Queensland in that respect may become brighter; but this cannot be anticipated with any degree of certainty. The next great difficulty was connected with the labour question. Two of the three Commissioners—Messrs. Cowley and King—entertained strong opinions as to the need for having command of coloured labour. This question was raised by Mr. Cowley, in the Legislative Assembly of Queensland, on Thursday last, with a result of eliciting from the Government a definite statement that there was no intention to extend the provisions of the Polynesian Labour Act. Sir Samuel Griffith expressed his delight at this determination, and as both parties were thus agreed, it would seem that, so far as the sugar industry may depend upon foreign labour, it is doomed. The preponderance of opinion amongst those who have studied the question on the spot points to the conclusion that coloured labour is a necessity for the planters. It is not merely a question whether white men can work in the overpowering heat of the cane-fields, though that is a very important issue; nor is it simply a matter of cost. The question of trustworthiness is also to be considered. There is less fear of the blacks than of the whites suddenly striking for better terms when the crop wants cutting and the planters are in a corner. However, it has been remarked that at two general elections the constituencies have pronounced against coloured labour. Politicians cannot afford to disregard the voice of the constituencies, even though in obeying it the prospects of a great national industry may be sacrificed. No doubt there is a great deal to be said against the introduction of this kind of labour, and there are considerations which may have a more direct bearing on the welfare of a community than those dependent upon the success or failure of a particular form of productive enterprise. But it is not quite clear that there is not an unnecessary element of panic in this opposition to coloured labour, nor is it certain that the chief objections would not be removed by the employment of coolies from India instead of the kanakas.

A meeting of the Cabinet will, it is understood, be held this afternoon, when the case of Mr. John Davies, C.M.G., M.L.C., will be again considered. The Premier has, we are informed, communicated by letter with the Attorney-General on the subject, and he had an interview with Mr. Simpson on Saturday afternoon with respect to this and some other matters of importance.

The Government have not yet had the question of the establishment of a separate department of defence, as proposed in the resolution passed by the Legislative Council, under consideration. The subject will no doubt be brought under their notice in an official manner on an early date.

His Worship the Mayor of Sydney, received on Saturday the following cablegram, dated Washington, June 7:—"The President directs me to return his sincere thanks on behalf of the American people for your expressions of sympathy in regard to the recent Pennsylvania disaster. James G. Blaine, Secretary of State."

The Minister for Works (Mr. Bruce Smith), accompanied by Mr. J. Barling, Under-Secretary, and officers from the Harbours and Rivers branch of the Department, visited the reclamation works at Shea's Creek on Saturday. The object of the Minister was to see for himself the progress which has been made in the works, and to decide upon what further work is necessary there, with a view to giving additional employment to the men who are now out of work in the city.

The following resolutions were passed at a large and influentially attended meeting held at Tamworth on June 6:—1. That this meeting deeply regrets the cause of Mr. Levien's resignation of his seat in the Assembly as one of the members for the Electorate of Tamworth. 2. That this meeting is of opinion that no taint of dishonour rests upon Mr. Levien, either by reason of the offence imputed to him, or because of the severe punishment it has brought upon him. 3. That this meeting has much pleasure in expressing its unabated confidence in Mr. Levien as one of the representatives for the Tamworth electorate, as also in his honour and integrity in both his private and professional capacities. 4. That this meeting desires to approach their Honors the Judges, who adjudicated upon the case with all possible respect, and would be rejoiced if their Honors could see their way clear to remit the whole or part of the penalty they imposed upon Mr. Levien, of whom the Chief Justice in pronouncing judgment remarked that nothing dishonourable was known to the Court. 5. That copies of these resolutions be forwarded to the Honorable the Attorney-General, the Hons. P. G. King and E. Barton, Ms.L.C., and J. P. Abbott, M.L.A., and the Crown Solicitor, with the request that they will present the resolutions to their Honors the Judges, and support by their powerful advocacy the desire of this meeting as expressed in Resolution No. 4.

A children's hospital, which is under the direction of the Nursing Sisters of the Little Company of Mary, was opened at Lewisham by Cardinal Moran yesterday afternoon. In his address the Cardinal spoke in terms of admiration of the labours of the late Father Damien, the leper priest, at Molokai, and instituted a comparison between the catholicity which prevailed in Catholic institutions and the intolerant spirit which he complained of as being manifested by those who controlled some institutions not established on a Catholic basis.

The public school recently erected at St. Ives was formally opened by Mr. J. F. Burns, M.L.A., on Saturday, in the presence of a large number of ladies and gentlemen and most of the children of the neighbourhood. Sir Henry Parkes, who was to have performed the opening ceremony, could not attend owing to the pressure of important official business which required his presence in Sydney. A report appears elsewhere.

The marine excursion of the Natural History Association to Hunter's Beach, Middle Harbour, on Saturday, was attended by about 32 members, who, under the leadership of Mr. John Brazier, F.L.S., assisted by Mr. Whitelegge, were very successful in their search for marine specimens. The excursionists took the steamer to Mosman's Bay, and then walked across to the Beach. The recent heavy weather had thrown up immense numbers of shells, some being very rare, and a large quantity of seaweed, among which were found 15 different species of Zoophytes. The following are some of the specimens obtained:—Conus aplustra, Natica chamnitsi, Pectin humatus, Lima multicosta, Cassus acpatina, Dolum variagatum, and Venus limilata. A large number of sea eggs were obtained, one of them, Bogoniocidaris tubaria, being a very rare one indeed.

On Saturday afternoon the Dean of Sydney laid the foundation stone of All Saints' Mission Church, at Petersham, in the presence of a number of parishioners. The building is situated in Crystal-street, and will be of Gothic design and constructed of brick on concrete. The size will be 68ft. x 28ft., including vestry, organ chamber, and chancel, while due allowance will be made for a future extension. Mr. D. Ross is the architect, and Messrs. Beaumont and Lock, the contractors. The cost of the structure will be £750, exclusive of fittings. The usual service attending similar ceremonies having been performed by the Dean and the Rev. C. Baber, the customary bottle containing the current coins and newspapers were duly deposited in the cavity, and the stone laid. The Dean in a few words expressed his gratification with the progress of the parish. The Rev. C. Baber said that the building would only be used as a mission church, and that there was to be no division of the parish. The population had increased rapidly within the last few years, and that fact had rendered the structure then in course of erection very necessary. A collection was taken up on behalf of the building fund, and the proceedings closed with the pronouncing of the benediction.

The fifth annual regatta held in connection with the St. Ignatius Rowing Club took place on Lane Cove River on Saturday afternoon, when some very good racing was witnessed. The weather being fine there was a large attendance of visitors, many of whom spent some time in the beautiful grounds surrounding the college that stands on the crest of the hill at Riverview. Mr. J. G. Kennedy, the champion amateur sculler of Australasia, won the race for senior scullers in outriggers, and the Senior Fours race was won by a crew from the Glebe Rowing Club. The representatives of the University Boat Club were successful in winning the Maiden Fours' race.

The case of the men who were sentenced at the Tamworth Circuit Court to what was stated in the Legislative Assembly to be long terms of imprisonment for drunkenness has been inquired into by the Government. The Premier points out, however, that the men were not convicted of drunkenness in the ordinary acceptation of the term, but of getting drunk to render themselves incapable of giving evidence with the object of defeating the ends of justice. This, he points out, is not the first occasion Judges have had reason to complain of conduct of this kind in the same circuit.

The two girls, named Lynch, who have been detained by the police authorities here for an offence under the Queensland Fugitive Offenders Act, have been admitted to bail and will be brought before the Police Court on Wednesday, and if their identity is proved they will, as a matter of course, be returned to Queensland. They have been arrested under what is called a provisional warrant, which is issued under an Imperial Act. The Government could not, in the opinion of the Premier, take any action on behalf of the girls. Whatever the character of the law may be it has been enacted in Queensland, and the Queensland people are spending their revenues in bringing out immigrants to that colony. There are two or three distinct phases of the case which Sir Henry Parkes thinks would naturally strike whoever is familiar with the facts. The girls accepted the conditions under which the Queensland Government bring out immigrants, and the terms upon which their passages are paid. Having entered into that distinct contract they were morally as well as legally bound to carry it out. They went to Queensland, it would appear, with the overt intention of not keeping the contract, but of going away to another colony, which is essentially an improper action. Their improper conduct is supported by the fact that as soon as they arrived in Queensland they communicated with their friends, who sent them money from Sydney, and they could not, the Premier says, be unaware that they were doing wrong, for they changed their name from Lynch to another name, under which they took their passages to Sydney. The Government here have nothing to do with the policy of the Queensland law. The girls are in Sydney with an officer sent from Queensland to apprehend them, and the officer took out the provisional warrant to enable him to take the girls to Brisbane. The Government could adopt no other course without being unneighbourly towards a friendly State. The resolutions, of which notice has been given in the Legislative Assembly by Mr. Wall, can in no way alter the position of the Government. They are mere abstract motions which can have no binding effect whatever. The Government must recognise the law of a neighbouring State, whether it is opposed to the liberal instincts of the people of New South Wales or not.

A quarterly meeting of the Church of England Association of New South Wales will be held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall this evening.

This evening at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, Pitt-street, under the auspices of the Local Option League and the united temperance organisations, Mr. T. W. Glover, from the United Kingdom Alliance, will begin a temperance mission. There will be a public welcome, and the members of the temperance orders will appear in full regalia.

The name of Mr. John W Rock, in the matter of the water gas invention, was in error printed Rick in out late report.

AFFAIRS IN SERVIA.

RESIGNATION OF THE METROPOLITAN THEODOSIUS.

[By Cable.]
(from our correspondent.)

LONDON, June 8.

A telegram from Belgrade announces that Theodosius, the Metropolitan of Servia, has resigned his see.

Archbishop Michael has been re-installed as Metropolitan of Servia.

[When the divorce proceedings were instituted by King Milan against Queen Natalie, in July, 1888, the Archbishop Michael opposed the scheme, and he was suspended by the King on a charge of contumacy, and was subsequently deposed. Proposals for a compromise with the Servian Synod having failed, King Milan induced Theodosius to pronounce him divorced, and a decree was issued. The Times' correspondent on April 23, writing upon the question of the retirement of Theodosius, and the recall of the Archbishop Michael, says:—"King Milan has been privately doing his utmost to persuade the Metropolitan Theodosius not to resign his see, and I now learn from Belgrade that he has succeeded, the aged prelate having declared that he will retain his office. Should the Metropolitan hold firmly to this resolution, the schemes of the Queen's friends will receive a check, but the consequences to the internal peace of the country may be serious, for a sharp conflict must arise between the Cabinet and the Regency. Archbishop Michael claims his restoration to the Metropolitan see as a matter of right, alleging that his deposition was illegal, and this opinion is supported not only by the Radical Ministers, but by one of the Regents, General Beli Markovitch. On the other hand, M. Ristitch and General Protitch, who took the King's side in the divorce question, are opposed to Archbishop Michael's restoration. M. Ristitch was indeed for a long time a stanch partisan of the Archbishop, but he is now dismayed at the thought of what might occur if the restored prelate were to quash the King's divorce." Following up the subject on April 29, the Times correspondent in Vienna remarked that "The Radical Cabinet in Servia seem to have come to an arrangement with Archbishop Michael for a restoration of the Servian Patriarchate. This Patriarchate was established by the last of the Servian Czars, Stephen Douschan, but was abolished by the Turkish Government about 100 years ago. The Partriarchate of Carlovitz has never been acknowledged by the Orthodox Churches in Russia or Greece. The present intention of the Servian Government is apparently to declare the Servian Church subject to a Patriarchate independent of the Œcumenical Patriarch at Constantinople, and to appoint Archbishop Michael to this office."]

DISASTROUS FIRE IN AMERICA.

GREAT DESTRUCTION OF PROPERTY.

NUMEROUS FATALITIES.

(from our correspondent.)

LONDON, June 7.

A disastrous fire has occurred at Seattle, in the territory of Washington. The fire devastated an area of 74 acres, the damage to property amounting to 20,000,000 dollars. Many persons lost their lives during the progress of the fire.

Seattle is the capital of King County, Washington Territory, on the eastern shore of Puget Sound. The city is the base of supplies for a large tract of country inland, in which are mines, lumber camps, and extensive agricultural interests. Its trade and importance as a seaport have been increasing rapidly during the last few years.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

COMMENCEMENT OF THE WORK.

[By Cable.]
(from our correspondent.)

LONDON, June 8.

Workmen have commenced operations at Greytown, in connection with the construction of the Nicaragua Canal.

The Home News of May 3 contains the following:—"Now that there seems to be every probability of the entire collapse of the Panama Canal, the scheme of the Nicaragua Maritime Canal Company should have an assured future. Being altogether in the hands of the Americans, and likely to be carried out with their usual zeal and enterprise, the new canal, when completed, will rank with the greatest engineering feats of the age. The bill incorporating the company met with some opposition, but this was easily overcome, and only a few days ago the President of the United States gave it his sign manual. Though rather longer than the projected Panama Canal, the new one through the Republics of Nicaragua and Costa Rica presents incomparably fewer engineering difficulties. The climatic conditions, too, are infinitely more favourable, and there is only a small region of lagoons and swamps, in striking contrast to the pestilential areas embraced in the unfortunate undertaking of M. de Lesseps. The Nicaragua Canal Construction Company have adopted the survey made by Commander H. C. Taylor, of the United States Navy. That officer counsels the construction of two harbours, one at Greytown, on the Atlantic side, and the other at Brito, on the Pacific. With regard to the prospects of the Nicaragua Canal, its promoters take a very sanguine forecast. The estimate, however, is based on reliable data, and, all things considered, it may, with confidence be conceded that the opening of the canal will lead to the diversion of much of the trade to Australia and New Zealand which now goes by the Suez Canal."

EPSOM SUMMER MEETING.

THE OAKS.

[By Cable.]
(from our correspondent.)

LONDON, June 6.

The Epsom Meeting was brought to a conclusion to-day, when the race for The Oaks resulted as under:—

Renewal of The Oaks Stakes of 50 sovs. each for fillies then three years old; 8st. 10lb. each; the owner of the second filly to receive 300 sovs. and the third 155 sovs. out of the stake; 1½ mile.

Lord Randolph Churchill's bl f L'Abbesse de Jouarre, by Trappist—Festive, 3 years, 8st. 10lb. 1
Mr. R. Vyner's b f Minthe, by Camballo—Mint Sauce, 3 years, 8st. 10lb. 2
Mr. Manton's ch f Seclusion, by Hermit—Boundary, 3 years, 8st. 10lb. 3

The "ladies' race" claims precedence of all other classic events connected with the English Turf, inasmuch as it was instituted a year prior to the Derby, and was first run in 1779, when Lord Derby's filly Bridget, a daughter of Herod, piloted by R. Goodison, won from a field of a dozen. Since then the list of winners includes the names of a number of fillies who afterwards became famous at the stud, and to whom breeders of colonial thoroughbred stock are indebted for the best strains of blood. Prominent among the winners of the Oaks are Eleanor by Whiskey, who also secured the Derby of her year (1801); Neva, by Cervantes, and Corinne, by Waxy, who won the One Thousand Guineas in 1817 and 1818 respectively; Pastille, by Reubens (Two Thousand Guineas 1822); Zinc, by Woful, and Cobweb, by Phantom (One Thousand Guineas, 1823 and 1824 respectively); Queen of Trumps, by Velocipede (St. Leger, 1835); Mendicant, by Touchstone (One Thousand Guineas, 1846); Blink Bonny, by Melbourne (Derby, 1857); Governess, by Chatham (One Thousand Guineas, 1858, after a dead-heat with Gildermire); Formosa, by Buccaneer (One Thousand Guineas and St. Leger, 1868, and a dead-heat with Moslem for the Two Thousand Guineas, for which the stakes were divided); Hannah, by King Tom (One Thousand Guineas and St. Leger, 1871); Marie Stuart, by Scottish Chief (St. Leger, 1873); Apology, by Adventurer (One Thousand Guineas and St. Leger, 1874); Spinaway, by Macaroni (One Thousand Guineas, 1875); Jannette, by Lord Clifden (St. Leger, 1878); Wheel of Fortune, by Adventurer, and Thebais, by Hermit (One Thousand Guineas, 1879 and 1881 respectively); the well-performed Reve d'Or, who distinguished herself in 1887; and Seabreeze, who established a brilliant record last year. The stake closed for the above event with 111 subscribers, the smallest entries since 1843, when 91 were nominated. On breeding lines the entrants compared favourably with those of former years, and the following famous sires are well represented: Lowlander, Isonomy, Wisdom, Hermit, The Miser, Rosebery, Barcaldine, Ben Battle, Sir Bevys, Muncaster, Robert the Devil, Master Kildare, Bend Or, Sterling, Galopin, Hampton, Chippendale, Arbitrator, Retreat, Le Destrier (French), Charibert, Camballo, Springfield, Scottish Chief, Saxifrage (French), Town Moor, Thuringian Prince, Wenlock, and Childeric. Mr. "Manton" had the largest number of nominations (5); Lord Bradford, 3; Dukes of Westminster, Beaufort, and Hamilton, and Lords Durham, Rodney, and Londonderry, two each; and the other leading sportsmen, with the exception of the Duke of Portland and Lord Calthorpe, were represented. Last year only half a dozen took part in the race, which was won easily by Lord Calthorpe's Sea Breeze, who was a couple of lengths in advance of Belle Mahone, with Briarroot a length away third, the journey having been accomplished in 2 minutes 42 4-5th seconds.

THE FLOODS IN PENNSYLVANIA.

MESSAGE OF SYMPATHY FROM THE QUEEN.

PRESIDENT HARRISON'S REPLY.

[By Cable.]
(from our correspondent.)

LONDON, June 8.

Her Majesty the Queen has forwarded to President Harrison a message of sympathy with the American people, in the terrible calamity which has befallen the citizens of Johnstown and the other States affected by the floods.

President Harrison, in replying, accepts the message as an expression of the generous character of Her Majesty, and as an evidence of the goodwill of England towards America. He specially thanked the Queen for her kindly sympathy.

The wife of a leading citizen of Johnstown has been discovered alive amongst the débris from the floods. She had a remarkably narrow escape, for, close at hand, a coffin was found containing a corpse, which had been partly burned.

THE CRONIN TRAGEDY.

[By Cable.]
(from our correspondent.)

LONDON, June 7.

It has been ascertained that Major Le Caron warned Dr. Cronin of his impending doom in the middle of April last.

Alexander Sullivan denounced Cronin as a personal enemy and a perjurer, and states that he was expelled from the Brotherhood. Cronin was a British, and not an American, citizen.

It is now alleged that Le Caron was assured by Luke Dillon and Sullivan that there was a plot to murder Dr. Cronin.

The evidence of the complicity of Sullivan is said to be thickening.

THE JEWISH COMMUNITY IN MELBOURNE.

ESTABLISHMENT OF A JEWISH EDUCATION BOARD.

[By Telegraph.]
(from our correspondent.)

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

About 200 members of the Jewish community spent over three hours this afternoon in the Synagogue discussing the best means of giving religious instruction to the Jewish youth of Melbourne and suburbs. The meeting was the outcome of a conference of delegates. It was resolved that the present means of imparting Jewish instruction and religious education to the Jewish youth of the metropolis was unsatisfactory and inadequate, and it was decided that a general Jewish education board be established for Melbourne and suburbs independently of the congregation, and that the maintenance of the schools be defrayed by the school fees and subscriptions.

NEWS BY THE MAIL.

[By Telegraph.]
(from our correspondent.)

THE TIMES-PARNELL COMMISSION.

LONDON, via Albany, May 10.

When the special commission resumed its sittings on Tuesday morning Mr. Parnell at once made an explanatory statement with regard to the damaging admissions made by him just before the Court closed on the previous Friday afternoon. He said that on reference to Hansard he found that he had been referring to the Ribbon societies, which began to crumble away in 1872, and not to Fenian organisations. At the date of the speech, February, 1881, the Ribbon societies were practically non-existent. He referred to the context of the speech to show that he was comparing the state of Ireland in 1881 with regard to secret societies with its state years before. After this explanation, Sir Richard Webster resumed his cross-examination. The first questions referred to the missing Land League books and correspondence, but Mr. Parnell threw no light on the subject, declaring that he either never possessed the information required from him or had forgotten it. Dr. Kenny, Tim. Harrington, or Moloney would probably know more about books than anybody else, although when he was making every possible inquiry on the subject it had never occurred to him to ask Moloney. Mr. Parnell was keenly pressed by the Attorney-General with regard to his defence of certain Moonlighters at Cork at the Winter Assizes, and especially respecting one Connell, who turned informer. The witness, who was in Kilmainham at the time, became aware of certain important facts concerning the man Connell, but he did not communicate his knowledge to the authorities because he believed that they were thoroughly resolved to accept Connell's evidence, and that no interference on his part would do any good. Mr. Parnell was totally ignorant as to whether a hundred guineas were paid out of the funds of the Land League for the defence of the Moonlighters, and would give no definite answer to the question whether he would have approved of such a payment, inasmuch as he was not acquainted with the whole of the circumstances. Sir Richard Webster then questioned him as to his private accounts; Mr. Parnell replying, bank-book in hand. A great majority of accounts related, witness said, to purely private and personal business. Some had reference to schemes of agricultural improvement in Ireland in which he had been engaged. The precise nature of other payments he could not recollect, but undertook to find out, and only a few were made on behalf of the league. A number of loans and donations to Parliamentary colleagues figured amongst the accounts. Sir Richard Webster then asked numerous questions as to the number of persons understood to be connected with the advanced section of the Nationalist party. These included General Millin, Dr. Carrol, Alex. Sullivan, Michael Boyton, and Gallagher. The Attorney-General read abstracts from Mr. Parnell's American speeches from the Irish World. Mr. Parnell declared that Patrick Ford garbled the speeches in order to suit the taste of the readers of the Irish World, and persuade them that his views were far more advanced than they were. Mr Parnell was very severely cross-examined on this point, and admitted that he had never made this statment publicly before that day because his attention had never before been called to the matter. Questioned further as to his amended version of the statement that secret societies ceased to exist in 1881, he admitted that he knew at the time from Davitt that there were dangerous secret societies in the West of Ireland, but he did not think he had that in mind when he made the speech. What he really had in mind was the possibility of a great revival of Ribbonism throughout the country. He did not caution the authorities about the secret societies because he thought they knew more about the matter than he did. He and his colleagues were making strenuous efforts to put down crime, but it was no easy matter to calm people irritated and frenzied by the passage of such measures as the Coercion Act. He did not communicate with the leaders of the league in the West with the view of putting down secret societies, nor did he ever denounce them himself. This concluded the cross-examination, and Sir Charles Russell immediately rose to re-examine Mr. Parnell on certain points raised. Mr. Parnell said that the Irish World ceased to collect funds for the league after his release from Kilmainham. During 1882 and the two following years Ford collected funds for the policy of dynamite; but in 1885 he began to veer round again, finding this policy did not pay. With regard to agrarian outrages, information in his possession showed that they were committed by the lower class of Fenians and the remnants of the old Ribbon societies, who went about committing crimes for the purpose of intimidating the larger tenants from paying rent. These societies differed from the old Fenian and Ribbon associations in having no central organisation, but being purely local, and in each case isolated. Certainly there was no general conspiracy in the country. At the time of the height of the League movement, the American membership was between a million and a million and a half men. As compared with that, the membership of the Clan-na-Gael was infinitesimal, and not more than 30,000 or 33,000 at the outside. Mr. Parnell repeated that Mr. Davitt's views all along had been much in advance of his own, and he was willing to have bought out landlords on the basis of 20 years' purchase, whereas Mr. Davitt would not hear of it, thinking the terms far too high. At this point the Court rose. Continuing the re-examination next morning, Mr. Parnell said that on one occasion during his first official visit to American in 1879, he was met at New York by a reception committee of over 300, including many leading merchants, bankers, lawyers of the city, and others of a representative character. Persons whom the Attorney-General alleged had been connected with the Clan-na-Gael formed only an infinitesimal fraction of the various reception committees. When he returned to Ireland Mr. Parnell had a consultation with Mr. Davitt, the result of which was an arrangement that Mr. Davitt should draw up a circular to the League branches and should take occasion in all speeches to denounce outrages. Mr. Davitt was arrested by Sir William Harcourt's orders while in the course of carrying out these arrangements. Generally speaking, he believed that the effect of this open movement had been to draw away large bodies of young men from secret societies. Mr. Parnell expressed his willingness to have his private accounts investigated as far as the period of serious agrarian outrage was concerned. The President observed that this could hardly be of use to the Court, and suggested that the accounts should be referred to Mr. Cunninghame, secretary of the Commission, who would go through them with the assistance of counsel. It was agreed that Mr. Graham and Mr. Asquith should assist the secretary. This part of the re-examination was therefore closed with a comprehensive statement by Mr. Parnell that the funds of the League had never to his knowledge been applied to any improper purpose. The Judges then severely commented upon the conduct of Mr. Parnell's solicitor and counsel in not advising him to disclose certain documents. Sir James Hannen said he had learnt for the first time of a shorthand book of letters of Mr. Parnell's dealing with the Land League. This ought to have been disclosed. Sir Charles Russell professed not to understand the point, and he was severely rebuked by Mr. Justice Smith. Another scene occurred between Sir Charles Russell and the Judges soon after, when Sir R. Webster called attention to certain names appearing on the counterfoils of Mr. Parnell's cheque-books, as proving the necessity for further explanation. Mr. Parnell wished to be cross-examined regarding these names at once. This the Attorney-General refused to do until the further documents required were in his possession. Sir Charles Russell supported Mr. Parnell's demand, and when the President had pointed out that this course was irregular, Sir C. Russell said, "As your Lordship regulates the proceedings of this court, we defer to your opinion, but hold our own opinion all the same." "We are not here," replied Sir James Hannen, "to hear private opinions, but to see that the inquiry is properly conducted." "All the same," retorted Sir C. Russell, "we maintain our opinion." "I am aware you have said that," warmly answered the President, "it is a most improper mode of continuing the discussion, and one which I hope you will abandon." Mr. Parnell then went on to make an explanation, when the President stopped him with the remark that he was following the example set him, and repeating that which was not called for. Then Sir Charles Russell, in an obvious passion, addressing the witness, said, "Do you wish to be cross-examined about these accounts to-day?" "Most certainly," replied Mr. Parnell; but again the President interposed. "It is not," he said, "a question of what Mr. Parnell desires, but of what we direct." "Well," said Sir C. Russell, "give us an explanation about these cheques." "We must stop this," interrupted the President, severely, "and the best thing will be to adjourn Mr. Parnell's evidence until these documents are before us." Sir C. Russell abruptly left the court, and the incident ended.

The next witness called was Archbishop Walsh, who gave evidence as to the state of Ireland generally in 1879, and testified to the necessity of such an organisation as the league to save the tenants from ruin. The Archbishop was about to state his opinions in regard to the effect of the Land League upon the state of the country, when an objection was raised, and a prolonged argument ensued. Before it was finished Mr. Biggar interposed to point out that hirelings of the Government had been allowed to give evidence similar to that sought from the Archbishop. "Hirelings" could not be allowed by the President, and "officials" was substituted, Mr. Biggar winding up with a declaration that if the evidence was not admitted the whole inquiry would end in a farce. "You have not assisted us, Mr. Biggar," sarcastically observed the President, and there was more laughter as the hon. member sat down. Ultimately the Court ruled that the Archbishop must give facts, if he knew of them, about the league, and not mere abstract opinions. His Grace was still under examination when the Court rose.

Immediately on the resumption on Thursday morning, Sir C. Russell apologised to the President for his conduct the previous day. He said he now felt that he had acted very improperly in persisting in the expression of his own opinions after the very strong ruling of their Lordships, and he considered he owed it to the Court to express regret, and he now expressed it. The President accepted the apology, and expressed the hope that the case would be conducted in future in the same spirit as that which had prevailed for a long time past. Archbishop Walsh then stated that he and the clergy under his jurisdiction always set their faces against secret societies, and had encouraged and incited the people to walk in the paths of constitutionalism. In cross-examination he said he occasionally read the United Ireland. He disapproved of its personal abuse of its political opponents. He had been in court during Mr. Parnell's examination, and heard the extracts read from the Irishman. The sentiments expressed in those passages he considered abominable, and they had come upon him as a surprise. Pressed to give his opinion on boycotting the witness said the only form of boycotting which could be tolerated was that which was known by the name of exclusive dealing. Anything in the nature of intimidation was, in his opinion, most reprehensible, but the whole teaching of the Land League was that boycotting, in the sense in which he understood it, was the best means of keeping the country free from outrage. Witness said he recognised two kinds of boycotting, one of which involved intimidation, whilst the other came under the definition of exclusive dealing. The former he entirely disapproved of, but with regard to the second opinion he was much less decided.

The next witness called was the Rev. Michael O'Connell, president of St. Jarlath's College, Tuam. He dwelt upon the miserable condition of the peasantry, and the details were painful enough, but scarcely relevant. Mr. Biggar asked the witness to come to the question, but as he was totally irrelevant, the President desired him to desist, and Mr. Biggar once more subsided. The Rev. J. P. Considine, parish priest at Andrahan, Galway, was next examined, but the Court rose before anything important was elicited. This morning Considine stated that in his district the priests were everywhere most anxious to put down crime, which would have been much more serious but for the existence of the Land League. People joined the league of their own free will, and were never under pressure or intimidation. Mr. Murphy, in cross-examination, drew attention to the speech of 1880, in which Considine said, "I tell you the wretch who does not join the Land League deserves to go down to the depths of cold dead damnation of disgrace." After considerable shuffling, Considine endeavoured to induce the Court to believe all he meant was that a man not joining the league would be disgraced in the eyes of his fellows. All the rest of the speech was equally violent, but Considine stuck to the assertion that he was a moderate man, and that in speaking as he had he was acting in accordance with the doctrines of the Church. Witness was very severely cross-examined in regard to his share, which appears to have been very considerable, in boycotting certain people, notably the postmaster, who had lent cars to the police, and his answers created a markedly unfavourable impression. The postmaster mentioned asked witness to get the boycott removed. Considine did so, and a day or two after he received the sum of £15 from the man, the money to be allotted in certain specified ways. Two peasants were then called to contradict the police evidence given in regard to the agrarian murders. The Bishop of Galway gave general evidence of the distress in Mayo during 1882 and the subsequent years. No landlords did anything to alleviate the distress. He instanced Lord Dillon, who had 450 tenants, and who never visited his estate. Father Fahy having given similar evidence, the Court adjourned.

CENTENNIAL FESTIVITIES IN FRANCE.

The centenary of the French Revolution, the opening of the Paris Exhibition, and the centenary of the assembling of the States-General at Versailles in 1789, were celebrated on May 5 by a special fete at Versailles, and subsidiary celebrations took place throughout France and her dependencies. The city was gay with decorations; there was lovely weather, and Versailles was crowded with visitors. President Carnot left the Elysée in a close carriage, with an escort of cuirassiers forming a guard. A tall, powerful man stepped out of the immense crowd, strode up to the carriage, and fired a pistol at President Carnot. Momentary consternation prevailed, but M. Carnot remained composed and smiling, showed his face at the carriage window, and allayed a panic. There was great shouting of "Vive Carnot! Vive la Republique!" The crowd surged towards the President's carriage, giving a splendid ovation, directly the carriage proceeded. The universal impulse was to lynch the intending assassin. The police forced him into a cab, and he escaped with difficulty, the crowd shouting "a bas Boulanger!" The man's name is Perrin, and he is an ex-Zouave. He declared merrily that he fired a blank cartridge to attract attention to his grievances. He declared he had been unjustly imprisoned, and had lost his situation. He had a wife and child starving. It has since transpired that the man has exhibited traces of insanity, though ordinarily of gentle disposition.

President Carnot with considerable ceremony unveiled the tablet fixed in the main entrance of the Hotel des Menus, at Plaisirs, where the States General met. M. Tirard delivered a speech eulogising the Revolution. President Carnot, addressing 1500 favoured guests, referred to the Third Republic as a crowning point of the imperishable work begun 100 years ago. Nothing in the shape of a Boulangist demonstration occurred.

The Paris Exhibition opened on May 6, but no foreign ambassadors attended. Most Government were represented by charges d'affaires. The means of locomotion were quite unable to meet the traffic. It is estimated that a quarter of a million of people visited the Exhibition on the first day. There were enormous crowds outside, and everything passed off in a quiet and orderly manner. Just as the mortars on the Eiffel Tower were noisily announcing an official inauguration, the Agent-General of Victoria, in full uniform, accompanied by Lady Berry; Mr. Walker, also in uniform, and Mrs. Walker, followed by various members of the Victorian, New Zealand, and Tasmanian Commissioners entered the Victorian Court and proceeded to the drawing-room annexed to the section where lunch was in waiting. As they were entering the room, two baskets of the choicest sprigs of flowers were presented to Lady Berry and Mrs. Walker by Miss Ethel Huybers, daughter of the Secretary of the Victorian Royal Commission. Meanwhile, the entrance hall in the central building where the official ceremony of inauguration was to take place, was filled with 1500 guests who had been specially invited. The Assembly represented the pick of the legislative and diplomatic bodies, together with the important officials of the various foreign commissions. Sir Graham Berry and Mr. Walker, amongst the latter, were assigned excellent positions near President Carnot. Lady Berry and Mrs. Walker received invitations to witness the ceremony from the ladies' gallery, and when they presented themselves at the entrance to the gallery they were told there was no room, all the seats being occupied. In consequence, they were forced to take refuge on the balcony outside, from which they could see nothing of the ceremony within, or hear a single word of any of the speeches. Australians are not at all satisfied with the treatment they have so far received, treatment of which the above incident is only a specimen. They say that, considering the magnificent hospitality the French Commissioners at the Melbourne Exhibition received, they had a decided right to expect a reception in some measure reciprocal.

VICTORIA.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

Captain Anderson, inspector of fisheries, reports that the splendid hauls obtained on the trawling expedition of the steamer Lady Loch go to show that deep-sea fishing may be developed into a most profitable industry in these waters. Mr. Oxley, an expert trawler, is so satisfied that he intends to purchase or charter a suitable vessel for trawling. The experiment proved the presence of oysters in those waters. As many as three and a half dozen were brought up at one time.

Early on Saturday morning a woman was found on the Port Melbourne line, near the Montague station. An examination showed that she had sustained a fracture of the skull, and there were also lacerations over the whole body. She was removed to the hospital, but died soon afterwards. A letter was subsequently found indicating that her name was E. J. A. Richardson, of Hotham Hill, and that the case was one of suicide. In her bag was found a certificate of character from the matron of the Austin Hospital for Incurables in Sydney, where she was laundress for nine months.

The corn trade sectional committee of the Chamber of Commerce has resolved that it is very undesirable to increase the existing duty on grain, especially oats, as the increase would prove an extra burden on the labouring classes.

On the 2nd instant the Salier, hence to Bremen, was spoken by the Hohenzollern in latitude 34·26 S., and longitude 112·49 east.

QUEENSLAND.

BRISBANE, Sunday.

A conference of representatives of mortgage companies and building societies was held on Friday to consider the Workmen's Lien Bill, now before Parliament. The general provisions of the bill were discussed. It was decided to adjourn the meeting for a week in order to afford an opportunity for each society to consider and formulate its objections with the view of their being discussed and consolidated, and afterwards presented in the proper quarter. An opinion was expressed that, although the intention of the Act was laudable, yet, by engendering a feeling of insecurity on the part of mortgagees, whom, as well as owners, it is proposed to hold responsible, mortgagees might object to lend money for building purposes, and the consequent check to building operations would injure the class which the bill was designed to benefit.

A fatal accident occurred yesterday afternoon to a young man named Frank G. Tabbart, son of the inspector of stock in Tasmania, and nephew of the Hon. E. B. Forrest. A horse atttached to a dray in Parbury, Lamb, and Co.'s yard bolted. Tabbart, who was a clerk in the employ of that firm, endeavoured to stop the runaway, and got jammed between the wheel of the dray and the wheel of another dray standing in the roadway. He was so severely injured internally that he died in a few hours.

An immense audience assembled at the Opera House to-night, to hear the Rev. Mr. Buchanan's lecture on the recent American disaster. Thousands were unable to get in. The collection, which was for the benefit of the sufferers, amounted to £165.

A return football match between the Rockhampton and Brisbane teams was played on Saturday, and resulted in a win for Brisbane by 15 points to nil.

NEW ZEALAND.

AUCKLAND, Sunday.

A severe westerly gale, with heavy rains, has been raging since Friday night, but no shipping casualties are reported. Yesterday the barometer here fell to 28·9, the lowest reading ever recorded in the district.

The court of inquiry into the wreck of the Matai exonerates the captain and officers from all blame.

The Sydney ketch Gratitude, which has been hovering round the northern ports of New Zealand for some two months, has arrived here, having been ordered by the Customs to report herself.

THE POST-OFFICE AT MITTAGONG.

[By Telegraph.]
(from our correspondent.)

MITTAGONG, Saturday.

A largely-attended public meeting was held last night at the Church of England schoolroom, to appoint a deputation to wait upon the Postmaster-General to urge the erection of a post and telegraph office for this town. Mr. H. Childs, J.P., presided. Statements were made to the effect that both the number of letters passing through the office as shown by the Government returns and the revenue derived exceeded those of Camden, Campbelltown, and Liverpool, having nearly doubled since 1883. It was further shown that the interest on a new building would cost less than was now paid in rent for premises which are in every way unsuitable for the purpose, and the lease of which will shortly expire. A deputation consisting of Messrs. Murray, Griffiths, Vaughan, Beaumont, Snowden, Wright, Edwards, Mealing, Owen, and Larkin, together with the members of the district, was appointed to present a petition signed by the inhabitants.

BOWRAL, Saturday.

Mr. R. G. Ferguson, who has been for the past two and a half years accountant at the Bowral Commercial Bank, and has been recently promoted manager of the Robertson branch, was the recipient of a purse of sovereigns this afternoon from his Bowral friends, and some highly-eulogistic and complimentary speeches were made.

The cottage hospital is to be opened on the 1st August next. The Premier and other members of the Ministry and members of the district have been invited to attend.

The weather is very cold, westerly winds prevailing.

CANOWINDRA, Saturday.

The weather continues unsettled; 96 points have fallen for the past week. The farmers have completed wheat-sowing. The prospects of the next harvest are very good. There is an abundance of feed for stock everywhere.

FORBES, Saturday.

The weather to-day was fine and cold, but there are heavy clouds hanging about, indicating a further downpour.

GRAFTON, Saturday.

An unoccupied dwelling situated at South Grafton, the property of Mr. A. Weatherstone, was burned during the night. A haystack belonging to a farmer named Barnier, residing near Carr's Creek, was also destroyed.

A south-westerly gale blew all yesterday, the gusts at times having great force.

LISMORE, Saturday.

A magisterial inquiry was held this morning, touching the death of an old sealer, named Alexander M'Donald, aged 60, who, when driving home yesterday in company with his wife, said, "I'm done, old woman," and getting out and sitting on a bank, suddenly fell over and expired. The evidence pointed to heart disease as the cause of death.

Heavy westerly winds have prevailed this week, and have blown down the telegraph lines, trees, cane and other standing crops, but they have now moderated, and telegraphic communication is restored. The new police magistrate, Mr. Jones, arrived yesterday. Business is generally quiet.

MUDGEE, Saturday.

Yesterday as Messrs. Payne and Dowell were driving across the river at Wilbertree they had a narrow escape of being drowned. The stream turned the buggy clean over. Mr. Payne swam to one side and Mr. Dowell to the other. The latter was caught in the root of a tree, or he would have been washed away.

The Agricultural Society had a meeting to-day. It was decided to have a show in August. There will be a general horse parade and sheep show.

NARRABRI, Saturday.

Robert Brand, employed at Wilson's Hotel, Bugilbone, well sinking, was killed yesterday by falling down the shaft, a distance of 80ft., through the breaking of the rope.

A man, whose name is unknown, was picked up by the police on Sunday morning last, lying out in the rain. The unfortunate man had been exposed to the storm all night, and was apparently paralysed. He was taken to the hospital, where he died last night, never having regained complete consciousness.

NEWCASTLE, Saturday.

The Wallsend Colliery was laid idle to-day out of respect to the late Mr. J. Y. Neilson.

A splendid seam of coal, 7ft. thick, has been struck by the diamond drill at Tomago, on the Hunter River, at a depth of 65ft.

NOWRA, Saturday.

Strong westerly winds with a genial temperature are drying up the flood waters rapidly. There has been no loss, and so far, a mild and prosperous winter is in prospect for the dairy farmers.

The railway deputation from here and from Berry and Gerringong will include many influential residents, who will urge the calling of tenders without further delay, as suggested to a Kiama deputation by Sir Henry Parkes.

The heavy gun practice by H.M. warships has been plainly audible here during the past few days at 14 miles distance.

SILVERTON, Saturday.

Judge Fitzhardinge and Mr. A. F. Dawson arrived last night from Wilcannia. The Quarter Sessions are to be held on the 12th instant. The weather is fine and warm.

TUENA, Saturday.

It has been raining almost continuously for a week. The weather is very cold. The country is looking splendid.

A Land Court was held at Tuena on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. A large number of cases were disposed of.

TUMUT, Saturday.

Heavy rain fell on the uplands last night. The river is a banker to-day. Sixty-five points were recorded this morning. During the present month 136 points have fallen to date. The weather is fine again, but unsettled. Grass is abundant. The young wheat is splendid.

WEST MAITLAND, Sunday.

Mr. James Robson, late colliery manager at Homeville, near West Maitland, died in the hospital on Friday night, from the result of a painful accident recently sustained by a collision with a cab. Mr. Robson was riding across Long Bridge on horseback, and collided with a cab, the shaft of the vehicle entering his groin. An inquest was held yesterday, and a verdict of death from injuries accidentally received was returned.

WILCANNIA, Saturday.

Further news relative to the sinking of the steamer Cumberoona shows that while coming through the passage at Christmas Rocks at quarter speed she ran on the rocks, knocking a hole in her bottom, port side, about 30ft. from the bow. Before the cargo could be removed to get at the leak she sank in about 6ft. of water.

Menindie reports that the Golconda passed down the stream. Bourke reports Saddler left to-day for Wilcannia. Wentworth reports 2in. of rain, making a total for the past six months of over 12in; Tarella station reports 132 points; Mount Murchison, 322 points during May.

The annual meeting of the lodge Moorabin, 122, N.S.W. Constitution was held on Thursday evening, when the investiture of officers took place. Owing to the absence of a full board of installed masters, the installation of Brother Keeble, W.M. elect, had to be deferred. The undermentioned brethren were duly installed in their respective offices by Past-master Barnes:—Bro. W. C. Macdougall, S.W.; Bro. J. R. Holding, J.W.; Bro. J. M. Byrnes (by proxy), treasurer; Bro. W. J. Dalzell, secretary; Bro. S. M. Cummins (by proxy), S.D.; Bro. E. Hull, J.D.; Bro. T. Ottaway, J.G.; Bro. J. G. Marriott, tyler. Bro. THE STOCKTON COLLIERY.

[By Telegraph.]
(From our Correspondent.)

NEWCASTLE, Saturday.

Operations at the Stockton Colliery have been suspended until Monday in order to allow the Government inspectors, with three miners, to go over the mine and inspect the places which are alleged to be dangerous. The miners did not want to knock off, but the manager thought that while men were in fear of anything, it was best to stop work until an inspection was made.

Sunday.

The apprehensions with regard to the Stockton mine are considered groundless. The report of the Government officials is expected to be made public on Monday.

AMUSEMENTS.

"THE UNION JACK" AT THE ROYAL.

There is no understanding the ways of theatrical managers. Why Mr. Bland Holt elected to commence his Sydney season with "The Ruling Passion" when he held such a strong card as "The Union Jack" is entirely beyond our comprehension. Perhaps he was jealous of the torrents of very real rain which flooded the city at the end of May, and was ambitious of excelling the downpour in a stage imitation. Perhaps he likes to follow the example of the historical little boy who keeps the plums in his cake till the last. For there is no comparison between the two plays. They are as different as chalk and cheese. "The Union Jack" is as strong a melodrama as heart of man, or woman either, can desire. It is adequately acted by Mr. Bland Holt's company, and the scenery, admirable throughout, is at times beautiful in the extreme. From two such practised playwrights as Henry Pettitt and Sydney Grundy something above the average piece of this kind is to be expected, and the result is by no means disappointing. To the critical mind there are grave defects in the joint work of these writers, but from a popular point of view nothing is found wanting. The drama tells a powerful, although not always a pleasant story; its situations are striking and cleverly thought out; and it contains several genuinely comic gems which are funny to a degree. Mr. Pettitt has had a long and varied apprenticeship in the matter of constructing melodrama, and he is now a past master in the craft. He knows the kind of play that the public like, and he is careful to give it them. In ingenuity of construction he has few rivals, and he is adroit in sketching character. Mr. Grundy has been of much assistance to Mr. Pettitt because of his masterly command of English, which has imparted a pleasing literary flavour to the piece, although it must be admitted that certain incidents are told too bluntly, and that the dialogue in the more powerful scenes is not so forcible, nor so vigorous, as the action warrants, nay demands. The combined efforts of these two authors have, however, been the means of adding a really good melodrama to the rather scanty stock which our dramatists have of late years furnished to the stage. "The Union Jack" is not by any means a "Silver King," which is the finest of modern melodramas, but it is infinitely beyond pieces of "The Ruling Passion" order.

There are only four acts, and each act is crisp and telling. The scenery is diversified. We are now in a military camp, anon in a Devonshire apple orchard; the deck of a gunboat gives place to a picture of an English lane in winter, and there are several "interiors" of much beauty. The first scene is a lawn, with a trellis porch and a red-bricked gabled house. The two first characters presented are old stage favourites, the sprightly maid-servant, with rosy cheeks and a military lover, who is soon succeeded by a more favoured suitor, to wit, Peter Fly, a rollicking, rolling, good-humoured sailor, admirably impersonated by Mr. Bland Holt, who never lets the fun flag while he is on the stage. The serious part of the story is speedily told. Sir Philip Yorke, middle-aged, aristocratic in appearance, and gentlemanly in tone, has committed a financial indiscretion, the proof of which is in the possession of one Captain Morton, as black-hearted a villain as ever trod the stage. He has, under promise of marriage, betrayed a young girl, whose brother, Jack Medway, has just come home from sea. Morton is about to leave the country with his regiment, and he makes this the excuse for breaking off his connection with Ruth Medway, and he forces Sir Philip to carry his currish message. Now Sir Philip is the guardian of two young orphan ladies, Ethel and Ivy Arden, and the pair of villains plot to marry these ladies. There is a good mechanical change of scene to Rose Cottage, a single-story dwelling-place, with an apple tree in the centre, and a view of cliffs and the sea in the distance. Here there is some excellent fooling between the maid-servant and her soldier lover, who attempt to flirt while, unknown to them, the sailor is secreted in the apple tree. The sailor pelts his military rival with the fruit, and finally drops between his sweetheart and the soldier, apparently "from the clouds." This scene is highly amusing, but it is excelled later on. The comic element gives place to Ruth Medway and her sorrows. Her brother returns, and her face and her reception of her relative should tell the story of her shame. But the dramatists have thought fit to put the incident into language none too delicate or soothing. Such scenes should never be related in so many words. They should be suggested only, and if it is necessary to use words for the telling of such an incident, surely the language employed should be soft and refined? It seems to us that much more could have been made of this scene between the brother and sister if it had been conceived and treated in a poetic spirit. Even as it stands, there is too much glare on the stage. The lights are altogether too brilliant for anything intended to be saddening and sympathetic. Nevertheless, it is but fair to state that the curtain descended on a very successful first act, which concludes with Jack Medway vowing vengeance on the betrayer, whose name he does not know, of his sister's honour.

The second act opens with a capital view of Aldershot Camp and some clever evolutions by a numerous body of soldiers. But the brass band used on the stage in this scene must be improved. It was sadly weak and out of tune on Saturday. Morton continues his machinations, and contrives that Ruth shall be lured to the quarters of a gallant young lieutenant, Stanley by name, and the plighted husband of Ivy Arden, the idea being that Jack shall discover his sister there and wreak vengeance on Stanley for Morton's sin. It so happens that Ethel Arden and her sister visit Stanley, and while awaiting his arrival find the hidden Ruth, who is of course no party to the scheme of Morton. Ivy leaves the scene in a huff, but her sister remains, so that when Jack Medway rushes in, thinking to confront Ruth with Stanley, he finds the two women together. Morton follows up his cunning snare by his own presence in Stanley's quarters, and is denounced by Ruth, whose brother assaults him. The deck of a warship is the first scene of the third act. Here Medway is being tried by court-martial for the assault on Morton, who so provokes him that he knocks down a set of marines and escapes by jumping through a port-hole amid a volley of musket shots—an impossible feat which must be forgiven the melodramatic hero. The scene which follows—the garden gate—should by no means be missed by those who go to see this play, both on account of the beauty of the painting and its clever comedy. The soldier swain has a letter directed to the heroine, whose address the servant is anxious to obtain; so she gains the sailor's assent for her to cajole the soldier while she accomplishes her purpose. Peter Fly accordingly hides behind the gate while Polly flirts with the military person, Peter being provided with a "baccy" box which squeaks horribly, it being arranged that he is to make use of this "signal of distress" when he considers that Polly has reached the limit of his endurance in her flirtation with the redcoat. Polly obtains the letter, and hands it to Peter, who notes the address, and returns it to the soldier's unsuspecting breast at the expense of a kiss, which is gall and wormwood to the faithful Fly. This scene must be witnessed in order to be appreciated. It is valuable in itself, but it is well acted by all concerned in it, especially by Mr. Holt, with his wry face and nerve-destroying "baccy" box. The third act concludes with a stormy scene between the escaped Jack Medway and Morton, in which the latter attempts to murder Medway. But our hero departs unhurt, and Sir Philip, annoyed at the constant humiliations to which Morton has made him submit, seizes the dagger from the floor and stabs his tormentor to the heart, but not before Ethel Arden has realised that he is a murderer. There is no reason for this murder, which is bad in art, and not necessary to the play. It is too late, for one thing, as it makes a new interest in the piece, and the proper ending for the act is where Medway spares the life of the scoundrel who had attempted to kill him. The fourth and concluding act is well arranged and brings matters to a satisfactory and natural issue, Sir Phillip being arrested for Morton's murder, and Stanley cleared of all blame, while Jack Medway marries Ethel Arden.

The story, it will thus be seen, is interesting, although it deals with familiar materials. The comic portion is nicely balanced with the tragic, and the whole plot is elaborately and effectively worked out. The situations are striking and well received, and the dialogue, if it is occasionally lacking in polish and sometimes wanting in weight, contains many good lines and smart sayings. One scene, especially, is written in the best style of high comedy. This is in the first act, where two people, who have been boy and girl lovers, but have now grown up and forgotten each other in appearance, gradually discover their position. This scene is depicted with so much imagination and grace that it is a sharp contrast to that which follows between Medway and his sister, to which we have already alluded as lacking in those qualities which adorn the love episode. But these are matters which a general audience does not stop to consider. The play is strong, and its characters are evenly distributed. It is fortunate that this is so, for Mr. Walter Howe, who appears as the hero, has hardly the physique or the power for the part. He is not commanding in the character, which requires an actor of presence, power, and passion. He means well but he fails to be impressive. He also dresses badly. An English naval officer would hardly come ashore on a visiting expedition in such a hybrid costume as white trousers and a blue jacket with a crown on the sleeve, to say nothing of a German cap tilted on the back of his head. In a seaport city like Sydney it is just as well to be correct in these matters, a remark which also applies to the scene of the gunboat in the third act. When Mr. Pettitt visited Portsmouth for the purpose of obtaining local colour for this play, he must have been decoyed on board a vessel of the old Victory type in the belief that he was seeing a modern man-of-war. A very able impersonation is given by Mr. Charles Holloway, who, as Sir Philip Yorke, is gentlemanly, dignified, and easy in style, and never wanting in force when it is required. Mr. Albert Norman is incisive and sufficiently brutal as Morton, and Mr. Wilmot Eyre is agreeable in the small part of Lieutenant Stanley. We have already commended that clever comedian, Mr. Bland Holt, for his admirable portrayal of the jolly sailor, Peter Fly. Miss Kate Bishop has little to do as Ethel Arden, but, like a true artist, she does that little well. The most dramatic portion of her playing occurs in the later scenes, but in the earlier part her comedy is excellent. Mrs. Bland Holt is piquant and lady-like as Ivy Arden, and Miss Blanche Lewis deserves every praise for her sympathetic portrait of Ruth Medway. Miss Virginie Vivienne is a pert and acceptable Polly Pippin, and the minor characters are well cared for. A word as to the mounting of the play. The programme announces "beautiful scenery by George Gordon, assisted by Mr. James Peale." We can cordially endorse the managerial statement, for the scenery used in this production is very beautiful indeed and worthy of mention. It is quite suitable to the drama, and pleasant to look upon. Where all is so good it is difficult to particularise, but perhaps the best pictorial effort in the production is the scene of the lonely toll-house, in an avenue of tall trees on a winter's night. The painting, especially in the perspective, is marvellously good, and the lighting of this scene—a bluish-green, with a yellow lantern light for contrast—is as artistic as it is effective. We must not omit to add that all the ladies attire themselves most handsomely, notably in the last act, where the four female characters there assembled wear charming costumes, which are delightfully draped.

HER MAJESTY'S.

The "Romany Rye," which has been played at this theatre continuously from April 20 will be withdrawn this week to make room for other attractions. The long run which Mr. Geo. R. Sims's melodrama has attained is due to its vivid story, the ability displayed in its acting by Mr. George Rignold and his company, and the magnificence of its stage effects. It is a remarkable production and the success with which it has met must be very gratifying to Mr. Rignold, who has been rewarded for his liberality and hard work.

CRITERION.

"Last Nights" are also announced here, and lovers of comedy acting of exceptional merit have no later than Friday to make the acquaintance, or to renew it, as the case may be, of Mr. Robert Brough, Mr. Dion Boucicault, jun., and Mr. G. W. Anson in their diverting impersonation in the three-act farcical piece "On 'Change."

OPERA HOUSE.

"The Beggar Student," thanks to the tunefulness of its music, the ability displayed in its interpretation, and the prettiness of its scenery and costumes, is now fairly launched on the high tide of success. Intending visitors may be reminded of the old showman's cry, "Be in time, be in time," and they should see the rise of the curtain on the first act, for it is in the commencement of the comic opera that some of its best melodies are heard. "Colonel Ollendorf," vocal waltz; "The Kiss on the shoulder," Simon's song; "The Polish Girl's the girl for me," and "Joy and grief are close allies," which is so well rendered by Miss Lilian Tree, all occur in the first act, and they happen to be as catching and popular airs as any in the piece.

GAIETY.

Mr. John F. Sheridan and his clever variety company are giving their five final performances of "Fun on the Bristol," preparatory to producing, on Saturday next, a new burlesque.

STANDARD.

To-night will witness the representation of a drama, called "Mad, or Called Back to Life," which, although not entirely new to Sydney, is sufficiently novel to attract lovers of sensational fare to this house of cheap prices.

HAYMARKET MUSIC HALL.

The Faust Family combination opened at the Haymarket Music Hall on Saturday evening, to a very good house. The Fausts gave their White Marble Statuary, with prismatic effects, and depicted exceedingly well,—Defeat of the Gladiators; Surprise and Innocence Betrayed; Tobias before burying the Dead; The Gladiators; Entrance of the Baby Statue; The Wrestler and the Little Peacemaker; The Praying of the Innocents; Scene in a Street in London; William Tell; Group from a Statue Gallery. The French clowns were very funny in their comicalities with violins, and created great laughter. Mr. Martyn Hagan and Miss Lucy Fraser added very considerally to the success of the entertainment by their latest specialties. Herr von der Mehden played a cornet solo "La Violette with variations, and produced music from glasses, &c. His efforts were the means of producing much applause. Messrs. Ted and Victor Faust, Master Eugene as the dummy gave a very clever performance entitled the "Grand Risley Performance," introducing single, double, and triple somer-saults. The London Handbell Ringers played on about 50 bells some well-known selections. The whole concluded by a funny sketch called "The Terrible Infants," by the Faust Family. The performance throughout is a very clever and amusing one.

ENTERTAINMENTS TO GERMAN SAILORS.

Two social evening parties have been given to the sailors of the German man-of-war Olga since her arrival from Samoa after her sad experiences there. Both watches of the men have been thus entertained. Mr. Shearston, the sailors' friend, arranged these festivities for the men, and Trafalgar-house was in each case the scene of action. The first party was held on the 10th of May and the second on last Friday night. On each occasion the captain of the ship, Baron von Erhardt, and some of his officers were present for a while. The English men-of-war's-men in port assisted in entertaining their German comrades on each evening. Trafalgar-house has been much frequented by the Olga's men, and on Friday evening the captain very warmly eulogised the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Shearston to his men, and thanked them for the same. The Imperial German consul-general, Mr. A. Pelldrum, the members of the German Club, Mr. H. von der Heyde, Dr. Schwarzbach, and Mr. A. Shadler have liberally assisted Mr. Shearston in his efforts; and to the musical part of the evening Mr. Beaumont Read, Mr. J. S. Porter, and several ladies contributed largely. Mr. Shearston delivered an address to the men on each occasion, and a hearty vote of thanks was conveyed to him by one of the petty officers; and three German cheers and the singing of the "Watch on the Rhine" and the English National Anthem closed each evening.

THE SILBON-STIRK COMBINATION.

The enterprise of Messrs. Hiscocks and M'Mahon, in commencing a series of matinee performances at the Exhibition Building, will, no doubt, be gratefully recognised by many who would otherwise be debarred from witnessing the wonderful feats of the Silbon and Stirk families, and the amusing antics of the Girards and the Dales. The first matinee, which was given on Saturday afternoon, was attended by a fair audience, consisting principally of ladies and children, and we need hardly say that the juveniles thoroughly appreciated the performance given for their especial benefit. The programme was practically the same as that gone through at the usual evening performances, the Dales, the Stirks, the Silbons, and all the other clever people who are included in this strong combination each appearing with great success in their respective specialities. In the evening the performance drew an immense crowd, upwards of 3000 persons being present, and the entertainment was received with great enthusiasm. The management have decided to repeat the matinee performances every Saturday during the season.

NEWINGTON COLLEGE ATHLETIC CLUB.

The Petersham Town Hall was crowded on Friday evening upon the occasion of an entertainment in aid of the Newington College Athletic Club. A portion of the proceeds will be devoted towards the College Musical Society Piano Fund. The proceedings opened with an overture, piano and organ, by Miss G. Kelynack and Mr. F. Morley. Messrs. H. Kelynack and Phillips gave a duel scene from "The Rivals" (Sheridan); Mr. Gradwell sang "The Death of Nelson," and subsequently gave the solo, "My Old Friend John;" Miss Sheridan contributed two solos, viz., "Forget, Forgive," and "Love's Old Sweet Song;" Miss Kelynack played a selection from "Faust." The members of the Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium, under the direction of Mr. G. W. Renshaw, gave several gymnastic displays. These were much appreciated and frequently applauded. Several choruses were contributed by the members of the College Musical Society, under the baton of Mr. C. A. Flint, with satisfactory effect. Mr. A. Hunter's violin solo, "Marche aux Flambeaux," was well rendered. Mrs. Watson and Miss G. Kelynack contributed a duet "When the Swallows," and the members of the Athletic Club amused the company with a comic "comedy." The building was tastefully decorated with bunting and groups of bayonets.

On Saturday afternoon, at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, Pitt-street, the annual "audit" of Madame Charbonet-Kellermann's pupils was continued. On Thursday evening the more advanced pupils had their hearing, the remainder being presented on Saturday. The audit commenced as early as 2 o'clock because of the enormous length of the programme, which contained no less than 32 pianoforte solos, of which some had two and three movements, beside the songs kindly contributed by Miss Mildred Birch and Mr. J. T. Donovan. As may be imagined so lengthy an entertainment proved somewhat of a tax to some of the listeners, but probably most of the audience had a more or less direct interest in certain items of the performance, as the gathering would naturally be chiefly composed of relatives and friends of the pupils. The players were kindly welcomed by the audience, and their efforts were rewarded by considerable applause.

The Alhambra Music Hall drew a crowded house as usual on Saturday night, and the audience was delighted with the programme placed before them. The songs, dances, sketches, and negro minstrel eccentricities were thoroughly enjoyed.

All the skating rinks were largely patronised, and the attractions offered were highly appreciated. The Speedwell Bicycle Club is announced to give a special party at the Crystal Palace Rink this evening. A programme on a somewhat elaborate scale was arranged at the Darlinghurst Rink. Great efforts are being put forward for the fancy and evening dress carnival which takes place on Thursday evening next. The Elite was very attractive, owing to the appearance of Maltby and Mademoiselle Emilia.

The third of a series of popular concerts, the object of which is to aid the society of St. Vincent de Paul in relieving the poor, was held at the Sydney Catholic Hall, Princes-street, on Saturday evening. The entertainment was under the presidency of Mr. C. O'Neill, president of the society. It is understood that the parochial branch of the society expends something like £300 a year in affording relief to the poor. Amongst those who took part in the concert were Mrs. J. Wood, Miss Slatter, Miss Pearce, Mr. J. T. Donovan, Mr. Frank Dick, Mr. P. J. Barrett, and Mr. Fred Leston. Mr. J. A. Delaney presided at the piano.

The aquariums were just as popular as ever on Saturday afternoon. Special performances were provided at both Bondi and Coogee.

The Cyclorama of the battle of Gettysburg has lost none of its popularity. Some hundreds of sight-seers passed through on Saturday.

Our Melbourne correspondent telegraphs that a large audience greeted Mr. F. M. Clark's European celebrities at the Victoria Hall on Saturday night. At the Theatre Royal the new London Dramatic Company are doing good business with "The Pointsman." At the Princess Theatre on Saturday night "Patience" succeeded "The Yeoman of the Guard" played to a full house. At St. George's Hall on Saturday a crowded house witnessed the first appearance of Harry Rickards's new English and Irish company. The Alexandra was well filled on the occasion of Phillip Beck's reappearance in his dramatised version of "Madame Midas." The piece is well mounted, and it was a successful performance. A series of four final concerts by Mr. Santley are announced for this week, commencing on Tuesday. Maccabe gave his entertainment, "Begone Dull Care," to a crowded audience in the Athenæum on Saturday night.

MILITARY MATTERS.

SHAM FIGHT AT LONG BAY.

Taking advantage of the presence of the Queanbeyan and Bega companies of the Mounted Infantry, who are encamped at Paddington, in the vicinity of the rifle range, Major-General Richardson improvised a sham fight at Long Bay and La Perouse on Saturday, which came off under the most favourable circumstances. The day was warm and bright, and the country sufficiently dry after the late rains to facilitate operations. The troops comprised the 1st Regiment, under Colonel Farrell; the 2nd Regiment, under Colonel Goodlet; the Volunteer Artillery, under Colonel Wells; and the Mounted Infantry, under Major Lassetter. The Engineers Corps likewise took part. Fully 800 men were employed in the day's instruction, which was most agreeable to both officers and men. The forces left the Victoria Barracks at 10 a.m., and, headed by the 1st and 2nd Regiment bands, marched out of the city, through Randwick, and along the Bunnerong-road, until reaching the junction of the Long Bay-road, where a halt was made for luncheon. At 2 o'clock the troops were arranged for the sham fight, the two regiments, together with the Volunteer Artillery, forming the defending force, and the Mounted Infantry the attacking party. Colonel Farrell took up a position with the 1st Regiment on the Botany side of the country, commanding the approach by way of the La Perouse and Botany-road, while Colonel Goodlet distributed his men across the ranges and along the coast approaches. The two regiments were spread over some three miles of scrub lands, thus rendering it impossible for an enemy to slip through or to escape them in any way from the directions of Long Bay or La Perouse, where landings might be made with comparative ease. The Mounted Infantry were taken out along the coast as far as they could go, Captain Thompsitt being in charge of the Queanbeyan contingent and Captain Bland of the Bega division. Captain Thompsitt had the advice of Major Lassetter, and Captain Bland the assistance of Captain Antill, of the Picton M. I. The attack was begun shortly before 3 o'clock, when a section of the Mounted Infantry were seen flying through the country in the direction of the La Perouse-road. They were scarcely within the range of fire at the time, and this, taken with the pace at which they travelled through the scrub, left the red-coats little or no opportunity to sight them. Colonel Farrell dropped to the situation at once, and prepared for an attack on his right flank, which he very easily frustrated by a tactical move and well-appointed outposts. Colonel Goodlet was not to be hoodwinked and drawn away from his position along the coast ranges with the westerly step taken by the only portion of the Mounted Infantry visible up to that time. Doubtless he observed that it was intended as an inducement for him to concentrate his position in the Long Bay Valley, and thus permit of an opening near the coast for the advance of the invaders, but he maintained his ground and forced the enemy's attack. The first fire was opened on a section of the Bega Company by a detachment of the 1st Regiment after unsuccessful overtures for the surrender of Colonel Farrell. The Mounted Infantry before even firing a shot sent a messenger to Colonel Farrell asking his immediate surrender to save slaughter; but the colonel, instead of submitting and quietly laying down his sword, waxed wrath with indignation, and hurriedly sent the courier about his business. Presently the flag of truce was renewed, and the same messenger dared to approach the colonel to ask an interview for his commanding officer; but he was inexorable, determined not to surrender at any hazard, and therefore unwilling to parley. In fact, the colonel was so aggravated by the overtures that he denied the messenger an audience with him, and deeply wounded the feelings of the expectant mounted infantry men. All negotiations were then broken off, and hostilities began in sham earnest. The invaders were only visible in odd places to the outposts, and the infantry firing lines, with one or two exceptions, had little or nothing to do until Captain Tompsitt was forced up from the timber on the coast, and brought into something like open conflict. The battle was soon over after this. The whole of the 2nd Regiment opened a splendid fire, and theoretically speaking killed every man and horse that ventured to the front. The only sheltered approach at the use of the enemy was via La Perouse-road and Botany; but Colonel Farrell having seen this early in the struggle, prepared for all emergencies, and successfully prevented the advance of his opponents in that direction. The order to cease firing was given at 4 o'clock. The Mounted Infantry were positively defeated exactly as arranged, the object being to demonstrate the strength of the position of a defending force in that neighbourhood. An enemy could never make any progress at Long Bay or La Perouse against a well-trained force. A great feature in the day's proceedings was the attention paid to the outpost duty. Surgeon-Major Williams was present with his complete medical staff corps, ambulance waggons, and cacholet. Their services were, fortunately, not called into use, although many of the Mounted Infantry came to grief and received severe shakings. In one instance Major Lassetter, with his orderly and bugler, galloped into a bog and were rolled out of their saddles. The horses went almost out of sight, and much difficulty was experienced in experienced in extricating them. In view of accidents in the bush, where ambulance waggons are of no use, Dr. Williams sent the cacholet in the thickest of the horsemen, but there was no use for the pack-horse and the folding chairs amongst them. Subsequent to the troops being formed up for the return march, a spirited animal ridden by a lady onlooker took fright and bolted into the scrub on the Botany side. The lady held on until she became exhausted, and fainting in the saddle, fell helplessly to the ground. Surgeon-Major Williams was quickly on the scene, and every attention was also paid the sufferer by Major-General Richardson, Colonel M'Kenzie, Captain Bayly, and other officers. When she had sufficiently recovered she was placed on the pack-saddle and conveyed to Randwick, where she was placed in a hansom and sent home. The cacholet will be used on each occasion that the Mounted Infantry are taken any distance from the camp.

The Church of England members of the Mounted Infantry in camp were marched to and from St. Andrew's Cathedral yesterday morning, headed by the band of the 2nd Regiment, the church authorities having provided the necessary accommodation for the troops. During the afternoon the band played a programme of music, and some hundreds of people were attracted to the camp. The band calls forth the highest praise for having turned out at 9.30 yesterday morning after a heavy march on Saturday and then played until 5 o'clock in the evening. Their offer to escort the Mounted Infantry on the church parade and play in the afternoon was purely voluntary, and it speaks volumes for the esprit de corps which animates the forces. It should also be mentioned that the band of the 1st Regiment made a similar and unsolicited offer. Major Lassetter warmly thanked Bandmaster M'Mahon for the great compliment paid to his forces, who cheered lustily as the band left the camp at 5.30 p.m. The programme for to-day's operations at the camp is of a limited character, nothing but company drill being attempted.

On Saturday evening Major-General Richardson, the Hon. Rupert Carington, Colonel Mackenzie, Colonel Farrell, Captain Bayly, Captain Knox, and a party of distinguished visitors were entertained by the officers, Surgeon-Major Williams occupying the chair. A pleasant evening was spent in vocal and instrumental music, recitations, and comic sketches.

LONELY DEATH IN THE BUSH.

[By Telegraph.]
(From our Correspondent.)

NARRABRI, Saturday.

A man named William Finn left Pilliga on the 25th ultimo in a spring-cart for Keelendi. He was missed, and it was supposed he got lost in the bush. The matter was reported yesterday to the police, who found him dead. Finn had been thrown from his cart, having died where he fell. The horse and cart were fast against a tree a short distance off. The body was greatly decomposed. There was money and other property in the cart. Finn was slightly under the influence of drink when he left Pilliga.

MEETINGS.

HARBOURS AND RIVERS SERVICE ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Harbours and Rivers Service Association was held in the Temperance Hall on Saturday afternoon, when there was a large attendance of members. Mr. Collins, president, was in the chair, and introduced Mr. Schey to the members. The report and balance-sheet were adopted. The report states that the association is steadily progressing numerically and financially, there being 323 members on the books. During the year there were two deputations to the Engineer-in-Chief, both of which were fairly successful. The balance-sheet shows that the receipts amounted to £94 13s. and the expenditure to £21 3s. 2d., leaving a credit balance of £73 9s. 10d. The election of officers was then proceeded with, and resulted as follows: President, Mr. D. Smith; vice-presidents, Messrs. J. Dawes, jun., and Stevens; secretary, Mr. Collins; treasurer, Mr. Crewes; trustees, Messrs. Parker, Hyde, and Seddon. A resolution was passed giving the council power to form a committee to take steps to bring about the amalgamation of the association with the Railway Association. A resolution was also passed investing the council with power to take steps to mark their appreciation of the late Engineer-in-Chief, Mr. E. O. Moriarty, on his retirement from the service. Mr. Schey addressed the meeting at some length on trades unionism.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

The weekly meeting of the Agricultural Society was held at the society's office on Friday last. There were present: Hon. R. H. Roberts (in the chair), Messrs. J. Nowlan, J. J. Walters, F. Harvey, W. Harris, A. T. Pringle, D. M'Master, F. B. Kyngdon, J. Leeds, Nugent Brown, J. E. Pemell, A. Bruce, and T. L. Peate. The minutes of the previous meeting were read, found correct, and signed. The election of persons to fill the vacancies on the council was postponed until next meeting. The sub-committees appointed in the various sections to draw up the prize schedule had not quite completed the work, and were requested to do so by the next meeting. A deputation was appointed to wait on the Premier, asking that the sum of £2000 be handed over to the society to be offered as prize-money at the next show; prizes for plant and appliances for irrigation, water-boring, and water conservation to be made a special feature. Letters from Messrs. F. W. Alcock and L. J. Harnett, resigning their position on the council for want of time to attend the meetings, were read. A sub-committee was appointed to draw up prize schedule for jumping prizes.

A public meeting was held at the Dulwich Hill Athenæum on Thursday evening for the purpose of taking steps to inaugurate a fitting celebration to be observed upon the occasion of the opening of the tram-extension to that place. Mr. W. Webster occupied the chair. About 30 persons attended. After a deal of discussion, a committee was appointed to supervise the preliminary arrangements, with instructions to report to a future meeting.

The annual sermons of the Waterloo Primitive Methodist Church were preached yesterday week by the Revs. J. Ashmead and J. E. Metcalfe to crowded congregations. On Tuesday evening the church was filled at the tea and public meeting. Mr. S. F. Berry (in the absence of Mr. W. White, who was from home) presided, and addresses—bearing chiefly on the new church about to be erected—were delivered by the Revs. B. Kenny and J. Ashmead and Mr. P. Tyas, superintendent of the Mission Church, Glebe. During the evening the choir, under the leadership of Mr. John Morris, rendered some suitable anthems, Miss Kenny presiding efficiently at the organ.

The Glebe Young Men's Institute held their fortnightly meeting in the Presbyterian schoolroom on Wednesday, the 5th instant, Mr. J. S. Mollison, vice-president, in the chair. Mr. Andrew M'Credie read an essay on the "Life of the late Rev. Norman M'Leod, D.D.," which obtained a most attentive hearing. The essayist commended the young men to take the same motto for their life as M'Leod, viz., "Trust in God, and do the right." Mr. Mollison and Mr. J. Edwards contributed readings from "The Old Lieutenant and his Son."

The regular meeting of Captain Cook Tent, No. 1, I. O. Rechabites, was held in the Temperance Hall on Friday evening last. Mr. Joune, D. R., presided in the absence of the Chief Ruler. After the preliminary business one candidate was initiated, and a visiting member from England was introduced. A letter was read from the D. C. R. intimating his acceptance of chairman at the anniversary social on the 18th instant, particulars of which are to be shortly advertised. Several matters of business were transacted, including the resignation of Dr. Roth as medical officer; and instructions were given to advertise for tenders for the position, the appointment to be made at the next meeting. The officers were nominated for next term, after which the general public were admitted, and an excellent programme of vocal and instrumental music and recitations was rendered by members and lady and gentleman friends. Altogether a pleasant evening was spent. Bro. F. A. Morgan, P.D.S., addressed the audience, which was numerous, on the principles of Rechabitism. Several others spoke, and at the conclusion five propositions for membership were made.

A meeting of the Parramatta School of Arts committee was held on Friday evening last, Mr. R. H. De Low, president, occupying the chair. It was reported that Sir Henry Parkes had promised to open the forthcoming School Children's Exhibition, to be held this month, and that he would be accompanied by the Hon. J. H. Carruthers, Minister for Education. Notice of motion was given to the effect that in future the School of Arts should be kept open on holidays (Christmas Day and Good Friday excepted).

On Saturday night an open air meeting was held at the tram terminus, Marrickville, when addresses were given relative to the imposition of a sewerage rate by the Borough Council. The principal speaker was Mr. W. Webster, who considered the rate in question inequitable and illegal. The speaker condemned the action of the council in paying for the unearthing of a large number of the temporary water supply pipes, which, he alleged, should have been taken up by the contractor; he also denounced the press for reporting the condition of the municipality during the recent floods.

The monthly meeting of the Sydney branch of the New South Wales Railway and Tramway Service Association was held at the Oddfellows' Hall, Elizabeth-street, on Friday evening, under the presidency of Mr. W. H. Swain. Messrs. Lyons and Clubb were elected committee-men to represent the tramway department, and Messrs. M'Guire and Urch were chosen on behalf of the Permanent Way Department. It was resolved to endeavour to induce the commissioners to provide improved quarters for the guards at Redfern terminus. The secretary, Mr. Burrowes, reported having made a trip along the South Coast line, with the result that a branch was about to be established at Wollongong; a large number of new members had also been enrolled.

HARBOUR VIEWS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—The most beautiful places of our harbour are those nooks where the monotonous bush is relieved by clusters of houses, and one of those few beauty spots is Double Bay. The view from the 'bus-stand at the top of Ocean-street I am sure could not be equalled anywhere, but now the authorities have decided to block the view for ever, and an ugly bathing place is to be erected right in front of the reserve, thus not only spoiling the beauty of the place, but also shutting out the invigorating sea breeze from the people's recreation ground. What are the men of culture who live in the neighbourhood thinking about, that they don't intercede on behalf of the people of Sydney, and stop this vandalism. Trusting some abler pen than mine will take the matter up.

I am, &c.,

The following passengers left Sydney per s.s. Oonah on Friday evening, for Hobart:—Miss Maillard, Miss R. Finigan, Miss B. Finigan, Miss Chapman, Messrs. J. Christie, J. B. and P. Hunt, W. Whitehouse, Pitfield, Ward, and eight in the steerage.

The steamer Eva left the Australian Wharf 1.15 p.m. of the 7th, cleared the heads 5 p.m., passed Wilson's Promontory 2 a.m. 8th, Gabo Island 5.30 p.m., Montague 1.20 a.m. 9th, Cape St. George 8 a.m.; entered Sydney Heads 3.30 p.m., and arrived at company's wharf 4.20 p.m. 9th. Experienced strong W.N.W. and west winds to Gabo Island, moderate and clear from thence to arrival.

The T. S. N. Company's steamer Corinna left Formby at 5 p.m. on Saturday for Sydney. She should reach this port early to-morrow morning.

The steamer Emma Fyers, Captain W. Russell, left Cape Hawke June 5, and arrived here at 10 a.m. yesterday. Cargo: 180 bags maize.

At the last meeting of the Launceston Harbour Board Captain M'Nair, master of the steamship Devon, wrote as follows:—"I beg to ask you to consider the desirableness of having some provision made for swinging vessels and adjusting compasses, as at present vessels are compelled to go to sea sometimes in the hands of fresh masters without any deviation card or any knowledge of the deviation of the compasses. I think that this is placing shipmasters in an unfair position, and must some day lead to a serious casualty." Warden Ditcham suggested that before the next meeting the master warden communicate with the Hobart and Melbourne boards on the subject, and the suggestion was approved.

The steamer Konoowarra, Captain H. Smith, left Brisbane wharf at 1.20 p.m. on the 7th instant, cleared Cape Moreton at 6 p.m., passed Smoky Cape at 5 p.m. on the 8th, Port Stephens at 4 a.m. on the 9th, and entered the Heads at 10.45 a.m. the same day. Fresh W.S.W. wind and strong head sea throughout.

The steamer Hauroto left Wellington for Sydney on Wednesday night last. She is expected here to-night.

A Melbourne paper says:—"Freight quotations now ruling in London for colonial ports will be found in our telegraphic columns. There is a noticeable point, viz., that the rates for both close, naked, and packed weight, whether by sailing vessel or steamer, are lower by 7s. 6d. to Sydney than to Melbourne. This great difference in favour of Sydney, added to the light port charges there as compared with Melbourne, is telling heavily against our re-export trade."

The steamer Tomki, Captain H. Jackson, crossed the Clarence bar on June 8 at 1.30 p.m., and arrived at Sydney on the 9th at 7 p.m. Experienced S.W. and westerly winds, with fine weather. Cargo: 1500 bags maize, 18 cases eggs, 8 coops poultry, 16 kegs butter, 30 hides, 3 cases fish, 17 bags bark, 38 pigs, 2 cows, and sundries.

The barque Veritas, from Java with sugar cargo for the Colonial Sugar Refining Company at this port, passed Cape Otway yesterday afternoon.

The China Navigation Company's steamer Taiyuan left Port Darwin at 6 a.m. on Friday for Sydney. She is inwards from Hongkong.

The ship Helensburgh, bound from Melbourne to Newcastle, passed Green Cape at 4.55 p.m. yesterday.

A barque, hull down, passed Gabo Island at 7 a.m. yesterday, heading north. A ship bound south passed Green Cape at 8 a.m. same day, and a barque passed Port Stephens at 7 p.m. on Saturday, bound south.

The steamer Allowrie, Captain Walker, left Eden at 8 a.m. 8th instant, called in Tathra, Merimbula, Bermagui, and Ulladulla, and arrived in Sydney at 9 a.m. 9th. Experienced fine weather and fresh west winds. Cargo—356 kegs butter, 1230 cheese, 400 bags bark, 3 bales skins, 100 bags maizena, 112 pigs, and 47 packages sundries.

The steamer Dingadee, Captain Marcus Osborn, from Circular Head via Formby, left Circular Head 7 p.m. June 5, arrived at Formby 4 a.m. same day, left Formby at 4.30 p.m. 6th instant, passed Kent's Group at 8 a.m. 7th instant, and Gabo Island the following day at 3.30 a.m.; passed Jervis Bay at 11 p.m. on the 8th instant, and entered Sydney Heads at 9.30 a.m. on the 9th, arriving at the wharf at 10 a.m. Experienced strong N.E. wind to Kent's Group, and head sea, when a westerly gale was encountered, with a heavy beam sea and squally weather, and continued till off Gabo Island, when it moderated, and continued from the same quarter, with fine weather, till arrival.

The steamer Woodburn, Captain E. Farrell, from Macleay River, left there 2.45 p.m. June 8, and arrived in Sydney at 5 p.m. yesterday. Cargo: 2285 bags maize, 129 pigs, 5 cases fish, 13 kegs butter, 1 horse, 4 hides, 7 cases eggs, 6 coops poultry, 3 calves, and sundries.

The following changes are noted in the Tasmanian Steam Navigation Company's steamers:—In consequence of Captain H. Fame, of the Pateena (s.), going on leave of absence, Captain Bentley, of the Moreton (s.), will take charge of the Pateena (s.). Mr. M'Eachern, first officer of the Pateena (s.), takes Captain Bentley's place in the Moreton (s.); Mr. Kennedy, second officer of the Flora (s.), will fill the position as first officer of the Pateena (s.); and Mr. Wilkinson, second officer of the Moreton (s.), exchanges in the same capacity into the Flora (s.).

The steamer Wellington crossed Port Macquarie bar at 2.15 p.m. on the 8th, and arrived in Sydney at 10 a.m. on the 9th instant; experienced strong W.S.W. winds and fine weather throughout the passage. Cargo: 927 bags maize, 6 hides, 45 pigs, 6 coops poultry, 15 cases eggs, 8 bags potatoes, 2 cases fish, 7 quarter-casks wine, 10 packages sundries.

The agents of the Orient line state that the inward bound steamer Liguria, timed to leave Melbourne for Sydney yesterday, may be expected to arrive here at daylight to-morrow.

The steamer Australian, Captain R. Affleck, crossed the Clarence bar at 2.15 p.m. on the 8st instant, and arrived in Sydney at 8 p.m. on the 9th. Cargo: 1550 bags maize, 82 bales wool, 54 bags bonedust, 7 casks tallow, 101 hides, 12 pigs, 30 cases eggs, 12 coops poultry, 300 pieces cedar, 5 cedar logs.

The steamer Lawrence, Captain Cooper, crossed the Clarence bar at 6.50 a.m. on the 8th, and entered Sydney Heads at 6.45 p.m. on the 9th. Had fresh winds from W. to S.W. and throughout. Cargo: 400 bags maize, 147 casks tallow, 2730 cases meat.

The steamer Maranoa, Captain Higgen, left Cooktown for Sydney at 9.20 a.m. on 1st instant; called at Port Douglas on same date, Cairns and Townsville on 2nd, Bowen on 3rd, Mackay on 4th, Rockhampton on 5th, and Brisbane on 6th, leaving the latter place at 3.30 p.m. on the 7th; passed the South Solitary at 9.15 a.m. on the 8th, Seal Rocks at 9.30 p.m. on same date, and arrived alongside the Grafton Wharf at 6.30 a.m. on the 9th. Experienced fresh to strong S.W. winds, with moderate head sea, from Brisbane to arrival.

The three-masted schooner Maile, Captain W. S. Lane, with a cargo of potatoes from Circular Head, arrived yesterday, after a smart passage of four days. She left on the 5th and met with fine fresh southerly and westerly weather to port.

THE MAIL STEAMERS.

The M. M. Company's steamship Yarra left Marseilles on the 1st instant for Sydney, via ports, and Suez on the 7th instant.

The P. and O. Company's R.M.S. Massilia, hence to London, via ports, passed Gabo Island at 8 a.m. yesterday. She is due at Melbourne to-day.

The steamship Hohenzollern (N. G. Lloyd's line) arrived at Melbourne from Bremen on Saturday. She is expected to arrive here to-morrow.

The Messageries Maritimes steamer Yarra passed Suez outward on the 7th.

THE TANNADICE.

The E. and A. Company's regular trading steamer Tannadice between Australia and Hongkong put in an appearance yesterday in command of Captain Neil Shannon. No changes have taken place in the officers since her last previous visit, and the ship has returned in her usual creditable order. She has cargo for Melbourne, Adelaide, and New Zealand ports; but it being her time to undergo survey, it is not certain that she will extend further than this port this trip. Captain Shannon reports:—May 8, 2 p.m., left Hongkong, and at 6 p.m. anchored off Macao; 9th, embarked Bishop of Macao and party, also detachment of troops for the Portuguese garrison at Timor; 10th, got underweigh at daylight and left Macao, made Cabra, Philippine Islands 10 p.m. on the 12th, passed through the Basilan Channel on the 15th, and anchoring off Dilli, Timor, on the 19th, 3 p.m. landed passengers and cargo, and left Dilli 6 p.m. on the 21st. Arriving at Port Darwin at daylight 24th, discharged 110 tons cargo and embarked 50 mules (shipped by C. and E. Millar) for Queensland ports and Sydney; left Port Darwin 6 a.m. the 26th, arrived Thursday Island at 8 a.m. on the 30th, left 1 p.m. same day. Arrived at Cooktown anchorage 2 p.m. on the 1st June, landed cargo and 18 mules; 7.30 p.m. same day left Cooktown, arrived at Cleveland Bay 9.45 p.m. on the 2nd, left 5 p.m. on the 3rd, arrived at Moreton Bay at 3 p.m. on the 6th, left 0.30 a.m. on the 7th, passed Cape Moreton at 4.30 a.m., passed South Solitary at 1 a.m. on the 8th, and Seal Rocks at 4.50 p.m., and entered Sydney Heads on the 9th. On leaving Hongkong experienced S.E. winds and fine weather across the China Sea to the Philippines, variable winds from S.E. to S.W. down the Philippines, with short spell of squally weather, heavy rain, thunder and lightning; from Basilan to the Equator, light variable winds, mostly between south and east to Timor; fresh S.E., increasing to a strong breeze, from Timor to Port Darwin, thence to Thursday Island fresh S.E., squally at times, and S.E. fine down the Queensland coast, came away wet as Cape Moreton was approached, finishing with strong westerly winds, fine clear weather, decreasing in strength, to arrival.

NEW LIGHTHOUSE.

Captain Neil Shannon, in command of the E. and A. Company's steamer Tannadice, reports that on May 12, on passing Cabra Island, Philippines, observed the new lighthouse light was lighted. This was the first time he had seen it, no notification being given in Hongkong papers.

THE BOTHWELL CASTLE.

The Union Steamship Company have arranged for the steamer Bothwell Castle to run in the New Zealand trade for a few months. The steamer arrived here from Bombay with wheat, and will, after discharging, go direct to Lyttelton. She is a strongly built vessel, of good power, and 2500 tons gross register. The cargo trade is so brisk at present the Company found it requisite to put on the Bothwell Castle to meet the demands of shippers of produce. It is considered likely that she will get away to-morrow.

THE RINGAROOMA.

After several months lying idle at Port Chalmers, the Ringarooma has again been placed in the Sydney trade. She is in command of Captain George Allman, a name familiarly known in connection with a number of valuable inventions identified with navigation. Her officers are Mr. D. Spence, chief, and Mr. George H. Martin fills the position of purser. Mr. W. R. Douglas has charge of the engine department. The steamer carries a crew of 45 hands, all told. She left Dunedin on May 26 at 11.20 a.m., arriving at Lyttelton on the following day at 12.50 p.m. Sailed again on the 28th at 4.30 p.m., and made fast to the Wellington Wharf on the 29th at 8.50 a.m. Proceeded northwards same day at 5 p.m., anchored in Napier roadstead on the 30th at 1.10 p.m.; sailed same day at 6.10 p.m., and anchored at the Gisborne roadstead on the 31st at 7.20 a.m.; sailed again at 9 a.m., and arrived alongside of the Auckland wharf at 1.30 p.m., on the 1st June; sailed from Auckland on the 3rd at 4.45 p.m., had Cape Maria Van Diemen abeam at 1 p.m. on the 4th; same day had the Three Kings abeam at 3.10 p.m.; passed through Port Jackson Heads yesterday morning. Experienced variable winds and moderate sea from Auckland until the 6th, then strong head winds and heavy sea to arrival.

THE MATAI.

The inquiry into the circumstances of the wreck of the steamer Matai on the New Zealand coast has terminated. The captain and the officers were exonerated from blame. The weather at Auckland and vicinity has been very bad the past few days, and it is feared that shipping along the coast has suffered, though up to yesterday no information as to casualties was to hand.

H.M.S. ORLANDO.

The flagship Orlando returned yesterday from Adelaide with the Admiral on board. Ten days or so were spent there during which the Birthday Ball was held (May 24), and was attended by the officers of the ship. His Excellency the Earl of Kintore visited the flagship during her stay, and upon the vessel being thrown open to the public she was visited by thousands of South Australians. The officers got up a football match with an Adelaide team and came off victorious. A similar outing with the Maori footballers in Melbourne later on, however, resulted in their defeat. A very sad accident occurred while the ship was there. While passing some gear aboard from a steamer alongside, a youth, Charles Wootton, slipped and fell between the two vessels, where he was crushed to death. He was a native of London, where his mother is living, and the officers on board describe him as the making of a smart man. The estimation in which the crew held him is shown by the fact that a subscription was made amongst them and a sum of £8 collected for his mother. A call was made at Williamstown after leaving Adelaide, and the Orlando was visited there by the Acting-Governor, Sir William Robinson. Only a few days' stay was made there, and the ship proceeded to Jervis Bay. It may be mentioned that 4-hours' trial of the steaming capabilities of the flagship was made between Adelaide and Melbourne. The speed attained was 17·5 knots. The full indicated horse-power was developed, but the speed was not up to her reputed capacity. This was due to the foulness of the hull, no doubt, the vessel not having docked for several months. She will likely visit Auckland shortly, and will dock there, the practice being to dock twice a-year. At Jervis Bay the flagship was kept steaming about, and the crew were put through some special drill, also torpedo practice. Occasion was taken to hold the first prize firing, when every gun in the ship large and small was fired, as in action. The report of the two 22-tonners was heard many miles away, and some splendid shooting was done with the 10 6in. guns and the Nordenfeldts. The target used was in the form of a 3-masted raft, with canvas on in imitation of a vessel under sail, and at a distance of about a mile the projectiles from the ironclad scattered the target in all directions. Several of the men were complimented by the captain upon their proficiency at the firing. It is satisfactory to hear from the firemen on board the Orlando that the ventilation in the stokehold is vastly improved. Further progress is to be made in this respect. Up and down draughts are to be supplied while the ship is in port here this time. After these have been added it is hoped and believed that all ground of complaint will then have been removed.

H.M.S. CALLIOPE.

Soon after the flagship entered yesterday H.M.S. Calliope arrived in port. The two ships left here in company and were together at Adelaide, Melbourne, and in Jervis Bay, as mentioned in the Orlando's report elsewhere. Departure was taken from Sydney on May 10, arrived at Adelaide May 15. Was thrown open there and was crowded with visitors from the shore. The Governor also visited the ship. Left Adelaide on the 30th ultimo, and arrived on the 28th at Melbourne, stayed from Tuesday to Sunday there, anchoring off Williamstown. Arrived at Jervis Bay, and exercised with the Orlando at torpedo and heavy gun practice. While lowering one of the boats, a seaman named Rolph was hurt, and upon the vessel's arrival here yesterday he was conveyed to the hospital for treatment. It is very likely the Calliope will be docked at Cockatoo dry dock before she leaves here on another cruise.

THE MASSILIA.

On Saturday last the P. and O. Company's R.M.S. Massilia left here for London. There were not so many spectators on the wharf as was the case during the passenger-going season, though a fair number of the friends of the homeward-bound passengers assembled at the northern end of the company's shed and cheered as the well-known steamship got underweigh. The Massilia had considerable quantities of tin and copper on board as cargo, some specie, and a quantity of ore. A list of the passengers by her is given elsewhere.

STEAM TRADE WITH AUSTRALIA.

The London correspondent of the Manchester Courier says:—"The Peninsular and Oriental and Orient Companies are not to be allowed to have the Australian trade all their own way, if the German and French companies can help it. The Messageries Company are building four new steamers for the service equal to anything now on the route. It is stated on good authority that the first of these, the Australien, will be ready in September next, and the company looks forward to be able to deliver the English mails in 28 days from London to Melbourne." A full description of the Australien appeared in these columns a few days ago, also a cable announcement of the launching of the vessel at La Ciotat. It has further been noticed here that not only are the P. and O. Company, the Orient Company, and the French Company competing hotly for the trade with Australia, but the German line equally so. On Saturday last appeared the notice describing the North-German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II. lately launched for the trade, also the news that two steamers, each 7000 tons, were in course of construction in Germany for the same owners and specially for this trade. These vessels are to land the mails from Berlin at Adelaide in 26 or 27 days. Then there is the newly-formed Hamburg-Australian line, whose steamers will shortly be leaving for Australia. Thus it will be seen that, so far the wants of shippers and passengers to Australia from Europe are fully anticipated by the steamship companies.

THE EXPORTS OF NEW SOUTH WALES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—I am not in the least surprised that Mr. J. P. Wright is exceedingly anxious to obliterate from the public mind some portion of the impression that must have been made by the figures contained in my report on the exports of New South Wales. Mr. Wright points attention to the fact that about one-sixth of our exports were "merely re-exports." On this point all I have got to say is, that the figures given for other countries also included re-exports; and small as are the exports of the neighbouring colony of Victoria, probably Mr. J. P. Wright is well aware that no inconsiderable portion of them represents New South Wales' wool and other goods which are re-exported from Melbourne. Further, Mr. Wright points to the fact that "a certain portion of the exports consist of gold." Here, again, I have to remind him that the exports and imports of specie are included in the trade returns of all countries, and they could not possibly be omitted from the returns of these colonies, in which gold-mining forms an important industry. Indeed, referring again to Victoria, the export return of that colony always contain a certain proportion of gold, sometimes a very considerable proportion.

Mr. Wright then comes down to the fact that the bulk of our exports represent pastoral products, and he wishes it to be inferred that in the production of these commodities the expenditure for labour is of a very trifling kind, and that, indeed, the wages actually paid are on a low scale. I must decline to enter into a lengthy discussion on the subject of wages. I content myself with pointing to the fact, that both parties in the Legislative Assembly are united in their opinion that the position of the pastoral industry is unsatisfactory. If, therefore, the squatters who are engaged in the production of wool have only been receiving small profits, it is evident that the bulk of the receipts for wool and other pastoral products have been paid away. Undoubtedly, a good portion has been paid to the banks, but a vast sum has also undoubtedly been paid for labour. The error Mr. Wright falls into is in supposing that the few station hands whom he enumerates constitute the whole employment of labour on the part of the pastoral industry. He forgets the enormous employment on the railways; he forgets that the many towns now in the West owe their origin and continued existence entirely to the pastoral industry. Mr. Wright knows, or ought to know that distress in the pastoral industry is felt throughout the whole industrial system of the colony, which would not be the case was it not tremendously dependent on that industry.

Mr. Wright's letter illustrates his careless manner of dealing with figures. He deducts from the total of our exports the sum of £392,307 twice over, first as a re-export and second as gold coin. If Mr. Wright can show that our exports, either gross or net, are insignificant or less relatively in any way than those of protectionist countries, by all means let him do so. Until then he must accept as true the statement that New South Wales, in proportion to her population, has a great lead of every other community in the world as a seller of its own commodities. I am, &c.,

WINDSOR AND THE FLOODS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—Long before the Government Astronomer's memorandum was read to the Royal Society, or your own leader was published, it was announced from this Observatory, both in the Herald and in our local newspapers, that had the rainfall in the catchment area of the Hawkesbury been as great as that recorded here the town of Windsor would probably have been submerged. I have now the melancholy satisfaction of knowing that my opinion is more than confirmed by both of the authorities referred to. After the alarming statements which have been made by authority—but with which I do not altogether agree—there is one point on which the Government is bound to afford us some information. A commission was appointed some years ago, under the presidency, I believe, of Mr. Moriarty, to discover some method for ameliorating the effects of floods in the Hawkesbury. At the request of that commission I supplied all the data which I had myself recorded respecting the floods since 1856. I regarded the appointment of that commission as a wise one, and I accordingly looked forward with much interest to the result of its labours. Among other things it would be interesting to know from such an authoritative source if there is any likelihood of a rapid escape of the flood waters after their arrival at the level of the great flood of 1867. In the useful Royal Society paper by Mr. Josephson, C.E., there is a map showing the contour level of the great flood, but it does not afford any information on the point referred to.

I am, &c., JOHN TEBBUTT.

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL AT LEWISHAM.

Cardinal Moran performed the opening ceremony in connection with a children's hospital at Lewisham yesterday afternoon. The building, which seems to be well adapted for the purposes for which it has been erected, occupies a site near the Convent of the Maternal Heart, and has been erected under the auspices of the Nursing Sisters of the Little Company of Mary, an organisation which commenced its work at Petersham about four years ago. During that period the sisters have nursed no fewer than 200 patients, of whom more than 100 were in absolutely destitute circumstances. Besides attending to the sick the community trains novices, and already has some 13 or 14 postulants under their care. The hospital occupies an elevated site, is well lighted, well ventilated, and has been designed to accommodate between 30 and 40 patients. One half that number will be accommodated in an upper ward, and the remainder in a ward on the ground-floor. The cost of the structure was about £1500. Of this sum £1261 had been raised prior to yesterday. A further sum of £230 was handed in yesterday, together with promises of subscriptions amounting to £85 a year. It was announced that Dr. M'Sweeney, Dr. Fitzpatrick, Dr. Collingwood, and Dr. Thring had generously promised to discharge the medical and surgical work of the hospital. Amongst the gentlemen who were present at the opening ceremony were the Post-master-General (Hon. D. O'Connor), the Hon. R. E. O'Connor, M.L.C., the Hon. George Day, M.L.C., Mr. F. B. Freehill, Mr. J. T. Toohey, the Rev. Dr. O'Haran, the Rev. Dr. Barry, the Rev. Father Long, and a large number of other clergymen.

The CARDINAL said he did not know that there was any more pleasant duty could devolve upon a bishop than that he found himself taking part in this afternoon. It was a work of charity and benevolence, which was the divine mission of Holy Church. The Church did not take her place in the desert or in the solitude. Her mission was for the whole Church, and whilst she held in one hand the torch of divine truth shedding its rays not for one people, or for one tongue, but for all nations and all languages, she with the other hand poured out the balm of oil into the wounds of poor suffering humanity. From the day the Saviour gave his divine command to Holy Church, she had been faithful to the mission she had received, and whilst she scattered the rays of divine truth from pole to pole, amongst all nations and tribes, she was not wanting in pouring out balm and healing oil into the wounds of poor sinful men. It was precisely in accordance with that divine mission that the sisters had devoted themselves to administering some relief to the poor suffering children who should be consigned there to their care, and also to alleviate the burden of those who were afflicted with blindness. A few months ago the whole world was disturbed from its lethargy by the reports published in the public press regarding that hero of charity who had just attained his reward in the island of Molokai. Father Damien spent his life for many years unknown, showing forth the heroism and perfection of true Christian charity. (Applause.) It was only through the casual visits of some English and American travellers that the heroism of that devoted Belgian priest became known to the world. He entered upon his task there 16 years ago, and it might be truly said that for the first 13 years his name was hardly ever heard outside the precincts of Molokai. The scene of the priest's labours was a valley which at one time was the crater of a volcano. It was a valley of death. None dwelt there but poor lepers, gathered from the Hawaiian Group and other islands of the Pacific. That saintly martyr devoted himself wholly to administering to those suffering from leprosy, and when he first arrived there he had not even a house to shelter him. He was but one type of those whose splendid lives ministered to the diseased. In the hospital they were opening to-day, and in every hospital, devoted sisters spent their lives ministering to the poor and the sick. They saw every day the same heroism of charity. When eight nuns were required for the leper hospital in the Havannahs, and a note was sent to the convent at Syracuse that nuns were required, in one day 80 offered themselves for that heroism of charity. In such cases it was not that there was any difficulty of obtaining such heroes and heroines of charity, but the difficulty was to select from amongst the many who presented themselves. He trusted that in those walls that same charity would ever produce abundant fruits. The only passport to the attendance of the sisters in that hospital would be the suffering condition of the poor children who presented themselves. The sisters were like that hero of charity at Molokai. He had no question to ask as to whether the sufferers were Catholics or Protestants. About half the number of lepers were Catholics; the others belonged to various denominations. Father Damien was the only minister of religion there, and he ministered to all. At that hospital the portals would be open to everyone, and the condition of suffering would be the only condition that would be required of those who entered there. He was sorry that in some of the institutions around them which received the subsidy of the State the same spirit of charity did not prevail. A few days ago, whilst the terrible hurricane was sweeping over the city, a good Catholic lady, being penniless, far away from home, and fearing to encounter the storm, entered one of those night asylums. Having rested for a time she was summoned to night prayers. She said that she was a Catholic and could not conscientiously join in any worship that was not in accordance with her Church. She was told that if she did not join in the prayers the door was open and she must go out. Nothing remained for that woman but to face the pitiless storm rather than do that which was against her conscience. They had another instance of the same kind of spirit almost at their doors, in an institution known as the Children's Home. Some time ago a poor Catholic woman who was there was anxious to have the assistance of a priest. The secretary gave word to the priest that priests could not be admitted. At his (the Cardinal's) request the priest wrote inquiring whether any mistake had been made in that matter, and he got an official reply stating that a majority of the ladies had approved of the rule and no priests would be admitted. He trusted that neither in that institution nor any single Catholic institution throughout the length and breadth of the land would such bigotry be shown. (Cheers.) The only thing they desired to do was to treat those who treated them in that way, and poured out offensive tirades every day in the papers against their holy faith, with the greatest charity. Should those who differed from them require their aid they would willingly give it. (Applause.)

OPENING OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOL AT ST. IVES.

The Public school just erected at St. Ives was formally opened on Saturday in the presence of a large number of ladies and gentlemen and most of the children of the place. Sir Henry Parkes was to have performed the opening ceremony, but owing to official business could not fulfil his promise, and his place was kindly taken by Mr. J. F. Burns, M.L.A. The visitors from Sydney included Mr. Thos. Garrett, M.L.A., Mr. Johnson, secretary of the Education Department, as well as several officers of the department, and Mr. R. Burdett Smith.

Mr. BURNS, who was received with warm applause, said that he regretted that the author of the Public Schools Act and the measure known as the Public Instruction Act was unable to be present. But important official business, about which it was desirable that the Government should come to a decision as early as possible, demanded the gentleman's presence in Sydney. He had also to apologise for the absence of Mr. Cullen, M.L.A. He (Mr. Burns) had been unexpectedly called upon to perform the pleasing ceremony of opening their school—(applause)—and he felt that it was due to them that he should make some observations on the happy event which had brought the assemblage together. (Applause.) He had been all along a supporter of the principles embodied in our educational system, and had watched closely the administration of the Public Schools Act. He believed it could not now be denied that the principles of the Act were generally accepted by the people of this colony—(applause)—and that the system of education established by it was regarded with confidence by the people. (Renewed applause.) The Government of this colony had performed its duty in reference to primary education in a manner that was entitled to general admiration. (Hear, hear.) They now possessed about 2500 schools, in which 250,000 children were enrolled as pupils. The number of schools had gone on increasing year by year, and he was glad to know from Mr. Johnson, the secretary of the department, that although the department was meeting all the reasonable demands for public instruction, yet the increase in the cost of the system during the last two or three years had been almost nominal. In 1887 there were about 125 new schools erected, and he believed the number of new schools in 1888 would be found to be about the same, so that so far as administration was concerned great economy was exercised by the department. The colony possessed not only the ordinary Public schools, but all the appliances for conducting the education of children in large numbers, and provision was also made for half-time schools, in order that the means of education might be brought within the reach of children in the scattered districts of the colony. The population of New South Wales was only a little over a million, and the expenditure on account of education amounted to close upon £900,000 per annum, of which about £800,000 was expended entirely in connection with the Public school system. It could not be denied that the elementary education provided by the Public schools was as liberal and broad as could be found in any other part of the world, the State confining itself to secular instruction, which was as much as it was called upon in this mixed community to provide. He congratulated them on the establishment of this school at St. Ives, and said he looked forward to the locality being largely populated before long. They were at an elevation of 600ft. from the sea-level, in a healthy district, where good land abounded, and when the railway from Hornsby to Milson's Point was completed they were pretty sure to have thousands visiting St. Ives who had never before had the privilege. In anticipation of a large population it was well they had made such good school provision. As the question of the extension of the railway to the waters of Port Jackson was one in which they took great interest, he thought he might state that he had learned that at a meeting of the Executive Council last week a resolution had been passed authorising the extension of the line from Gore's Hill to the Lane Cove-road—(cheers)—and Mr. Cowdery, of the Railway Department, had been instructed as far back as the 18th ultimo to have plans prepared, with a view to tenders being called as early as possible for the extension of the tram line at North Shore, so as to bring it into close proximity with the proposed railway station at Lane Cove-road. (Cheers.) He also knew that it was the intention of the Government to ask Parliament as soon as possible to sanction the extension of the railway from Lane Cove-road to Milson's Point, and from the manner in which the proposal to make the extension had been received in the previous Parliament, and as it has been concurred in both by the Government and the Railway Commissioners, there could be no doubt that when the Government submitted the proposal for the approval of Parliament and the Works Committee, it would pass without much contention of any kind. The Railway Commissioners recognised that the line was one that would eventually give the Government a handsome return for the expenditure that might be incurred. (Cheers.) He expressed his pleasure at the privilege of being present, and declared the school open. (Cheers.)

The children sang "God Save the Queen."

Having inspected the neat and well-designed school and the teacher's residence, the party sat down to luncheon, Mr. P. F. Richardson being in the chair. The toasts of "The Queen" and "The Governor" were honoured, and the chairman proposed "The Parliament of New South Wales."

Mr. BURNS, in returning thanks, said he believed the desire of the members of our Parliament was to do the best they could in the interests of the country. He regretted, however, that there were so many members, as there was too much talk and too little work. If the House of Commons had as many members in proportion to the population as we had, instead of there being 600, there would be 5000 members. (Laughter.)

Mr. GARRETT said he had had the honour of being in Parliament for 30 years with but a short interval. (Hear, hear.) If Parliament was not what it should be, it was in effect what the people made it. But in regard to personal character, ability, and statesmanship, he thought our Parliament would compare favourably with any similar institution in the world—even with the House of Commons. (Hear, hear.) He never heard anyone run down our Parliament except our own people. If people would only compare the results of our Legislature with those of older countries, they would see that in many things we had set them an example which they were glad to copy. He thanked them for the toast, and for inviting him to be present. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. R. BURDETT SMITH, being called on, also addressed himself to the toast, expressing the hope that he would before long be in Parliament again. (Hear, hear.) He had much pleasure in being amongst them, for he had been associated with their district since 1876, and he thought that he and Mr. Burns had done something to advance it. (Hear, hear.) He congratulated them on the many evidences of advancement he saw, on the prospect of the railway being opened soon, and suggested that the tramline extension might be made concurrently with the railway extension. (Hear, hear.) He hoped Mr. Burns would convey the suggestion to the Minister of Works. (Hear, hear.)

The CHAIRMAN proposed "Our Public School System of Education," coupled with the names of Mr. Johnson and the other officers present. Mr. Johnson, in returning thanks, said that he had visited schools in Great Britain and America, and saw nothing that would compare in discipline, in effective instruction, and in all that constituted a good school, with what he left behind him. (Hear, hear.) The other officers also replied. Mr. Burns proposed "The Chairman," to which Mr. Richardson replied, and the proceedings closed with cheers for Mr. and Mrs. Richardson.

POLICE.

Mr. A. M. Fisher, S.M., disposed of the business in the Charge Division of the WATER POLICE COURT on Saturday. John Triptree, 33, seaman, charged with inflicting grievous bodily harm on one Louis Cornish, was remanded until Tuesday, no evidence being taken. George Smith, 38, fisherman, was fined 20s., or 14 days' gaol, for using obscene language in Dowling-street. Norah Mitchell, 44, no occupation, was fined 20s., or seven days' gaol, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct in George-street. James Lutterborough, 18, and James Arnold, 16, newsboys, were charged with playing cards in a public place off King-street, to the annoyance of the passers by. Lutterborough was fined 10s., or 14 days' gaol; and Arnold was fined 5s., or seven days' imprisonment. Annie Smith, or O'Brien, 37, no occupation, was charged with unlawfully assaulting one Lydia Hansen, and further with maliciously damaging six panes of glass, two window-curtains, and other articles, value £4, the property of the said Lydia Hansen. The prosecutrix, who resides in Crown-street, stated that on the 20th May she was standing at her gate, when the prisoner came up and abused her. The woman was drunk at the time. Prosecutrix told prisoner she did not want to speak to her, when the latter picked up a stone and beat her on the head with it, inflicting somewhat severe injuries, which were subsequently attended to at the Sydney Hospital. Later on, on learning that the prosecutrix had given information to the police, the prisoner smashed her windows and other property. The accused said the prosecutrix struck her first, and she then beat her in self defence. The police gave the prisoner a bad character. The Bench fined her £4 and 4s. 10d. costs, or in default two months' gaol for the assault. For the malicious damage she was further ordered to pay £4 and fined £2, or in default four months to gaol, cumulative.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

DROWNED IN A TUB.

The City Coroner, Mr. J. C. Woore, J.P., held an inquest at Homebush, on Saturday morning, concerning the death of a child named Myra Douton, aged 15 months, who was found drowned in a tub of water on the previous afternoon. The discovery was made by a girl living in the next house, who saw the child's feet above the water in the tub. The deceased was extricated, and medical aid was summoned, but life was pronounced extinct. A verdict of found drowned was returned.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

MAMMONISM.

The subject of Dr. Jefferis's lecture last evening, in the series upon "Isms which Haunt Us," was "Mammonism." The reverend gentleman prefaced his remarks with the statement that the remaining lectures of the series will be devoted to isms that haunt us in the city—to pauperism, socialism, and nihilism. That night he would speak about Mammonism, the gospel of greed. The world was yearly growing richer. The amount of wealth stored up as capital was almost incalculable, and the increase was far greater than the increase of population. In America, and in England and the colonies also, the contrast between wealth and poverty was dire and significant. This vast increase of wealth, he noted, was confined to toChristian nations, and of these in chief to Protestant nations. Paganism offered no advantages for the accumulation of wealth, and Romanism offered no advantages for its accumulation save for religious purposes. In fact it seemed as if the conditions of Christianity favoured this marvellous accession of wealth by the people who had embraced it. Should we decry and denounce wealth as the corruption of morals and piety? The increase of wealth meant an increase of the objects and conveniences which men rightly prized. No one could say that poverty was better than wealth, that the lot of the Australian aboriginal or of the South Sea Islander was more favourable for the higher life of humanity than that of the well-paid English mechanic or of the thrifty English merchant. There were many notes and warnings in the Scriptures, but it must be observed they were all directed against the abuse of wealth, and not against wealth itself. Mammonism was well defined in the words of St. Paul—"The love of money is the root of all evil"—not money, but the love of it. Mammonism was the love of it. It was the "making gold our hope, and refined gold our confidence." Taking it in its prominent features, we might think of Mammonism in the pursuit of money, and then in the possession of money. There was a pursuit of money lawful and necessary. Money had to be gained; we were bound to have it, and we could not get it without a good deal of earnest striving, unless the prudence of God came to us in very questionable shape. It was the unlawful pursuit of money against which he urged his young men hearers, and the pursuit might exist in different degrees of wrongfulness. He called the one a devotee of Mammon who placed the getting of money first among life duties. Under the influence of such a passion man descended to the level of the animal. His moral and spiritual horizon was bound up by the love of gain. This ardent pursuit of money in most cases developed character and qualities distinctly upon the side of evil. He who followed Mammon became hard and cynical, and careless of others; he not only neglected civic and national duties, but he looked upon the world as his oyster and man as his blade. Speculators in land and houses and stocks, gamblers, and all cunning tricksters were of this class. Now, look at some of the results of Mammonism when money was in actual possession. He had known rich men without a trace of the spirit of Mammon. There were poor men with plenty of it—craving, craving to the end without success. The evil he complained of displayed itself in rich feasting and ostentatious show, under which the manly qualities of nature disappeared. In conclusion, the rev. gentleman suggested to those of his young men in possession of money beyond actual need what could be done with their superfluous means. He discountenanced careless charity. Poor people, helpless invalids, and neglected children,—help to these, however bounteous, would not corrupt. Public institutions, voluntary agencies, and attractive places of amusement might all be provided from the superfluous wealth.

FASHIONS UP TO DATE.

Not a moment lost in securing the very last, in shipping them to Australia and placing them on our counters. A pleasing and everchanging variety all the year round.

WINTER DRESSES.
Our Stocks are unlimited. Therefrom the picking and choosing process may be performed with ease and satisfaction. FRENCH CASHMERES and MERINOS at twenty per cent. under down-town prices. Don't believe what we say, but apply the unfailing test of comparison.

TOYS and FANCY GOODS.
A branch wherein the inquirer is lost in wonder, bathed in delight, surrounded by the invigorating tonic of joy. Here affectionate friends come for presents, here lovers ramble in search of fitting gifts; here happy children join in the chorus of pleasure which is always chanting its joyous song. Bric-a-brac from all parts of the universe, Bags, Purses, and all things useful, ornamental, and delightful.

JEWELLERY AND WATCHES.
Gems of the first water and time-keepers—the very best WEDDING RINGS, and lover's tokens, emblems of delightful bondage and blissful moments. Bangles and Brooches, Spectacles and Spy Glasses, Opticians' Sundries, and scientific aids to sight.

BOOKS AND STATIONERY.
We believe in the education of the masses, hence this department. SCHOOL BOOKS are a great speciality with us; likewise we can help our friends to many an hour's pleasant reading if they will only favour us with a glance over our bookshelves. All kinds of useful and ornamental stationery, at much lower prices than asked by down-town stationers.

TOILET REQUISITES AND MEDICINES.
We are not doctors, but we sell all the very best Patent Medicines. We promise no impossible cures, but the medicines we dispense have eased many a sufferer. Brushes, Combs, Fancy Soaps, Perfumery, and all the choicest goods and newest ideas in Toilet Requisites.

CLOCKS AND ELECTROPLATE.
In clocks, we keep "goers" only. Guaranteed time-keepers, and no others. In ELECTROPLATE, we have the prettiest show in Sydney, and for a very little money most elegant specimens of the art are procurable.

ABRAHAM'S PILLS
Are prepared entirely from the vegetable Materia Medica, and do not contain any mercurial or mineral preparation whatever, and as they gently stimulate the liver and act mildly on the bowels, will be found exceedingly useful where habitual costiveness exists, and being also tonic in their character no feeling of weakness or prostration will be experienced after taking them, as is often the case after ordinary pills.
As a general family medicine they are invaluable, for they may be safely taken by either sex at any time; and as no alteration of diet or confinement to the house is necessitated they will be found particularly beneficial, for they can thus be taken directly any symptoms of indisposition appear.
In boxes, 1s, 2s, 5s.
Prepared only at the Laboratory,
434, GEORGE-STREET, SYDNEY.

STEEDMAN'S SOOTHING POWDERS FOR CHILDREN CUTTING TEETH.
CAUTION TO PURCHASERS.
The value of this well-known Family Medicine has been largely tested in all parts of the world and by all grades of society for upwards of FIFTY YEARS. Its well-earned extensive sale has induced SPURIOUS IMITATIONS, some of which in OUTWARD APPEARANCE so closely resemble the original as to have deceived many purchasers. The proprietor therefore feels it due to the public to give a special caution against the use of such imitations.
Purchasers are therefore requested carefully to observe the four following distinctive characteristics, without which none are genuine:—
1. In every case the words JOHN STEEDMAN, Chemist, Walworth, Surrey, are engraved on the Government stamp affixed to EACH PACKET.
2. Each SINGLE POWDER has directions for the dose, and the words "John Steedman, Chemist, Walworth, Surrey," printed thereon.
3. The name Steedman is always spelt with two EE's.
4. The manufacture is carried on solely at Walworth, Surrey.
Sold in packets by all Chemists and Medicine vendors, at 1s 1½d and 2s 9d each. Sold in Sydney by ELLIOTT BROTHERS.

CHARMING OCEAN FRONTAGE at GORDON BAY, COOGEE BAY.
CLIFF BROOK, FAMILY RESIDENCE with 11 ACRES 1 ROOD 8 PERCHES, having considerable frontages, viz., 886ft. to BEACH-STREET
637 10-12ft. to BATTERY-STREET,
the other side line is of great depth, and there is a wide frontage to the waters of GORDON BAY, a secluded small sandy beach.
The Residence is a Cottage of large accommodation, massively built of stone, and the grounds being ample in extent present pleasing features, part tastefully laid out into drives, lawns, shrubbery, paddocks, &c.
Should a Buyer desire to retain only a portion of the Domain with the house, the residue could be parcelled out into Villa sites and sold. It is almost next to the property and former residence of Hon. Chas. Moore, M.L.C., now known as the Baden Baden Hotel, only a few minutes' walk from Coogee Bay tram terminus, and the route to the spot is admitted to be the finest drive out of the city, via park, racecourse, Randwick, and Coogee Bay road, taking in views of the surrounding and intermediate localities.
Inspection invited. Cards on application to Auctioneers.
This is an exceptionally PICTURESQUE ESTATE POSSESSING MANY INTERESTING FEATURES,
both in regard to its surface and boundary on the water, as touching the latter you at one time have the mirror-like bay, at another the gentle murmur, or again, the heaving booming sea; yet the residence lies snugly calm, encircled with a strikingly effective plantation of well-grown trees, &c.
A SERIES of SPLENDID SITES for SUPERIOR MARINE RESIDENCES could be divisioned off the large area and thus help to conserve the good character of this charming retreat, and relieve the purchase money, in part, if that be a desideratum.
THE COTTAGE covers a wide space, and is approached through massive gates, and by a well formed wide carriage drive. Ascending by a flight of stone steps you land on broad verandahs, front and side. The interior accommodation comprises noble hall, drawing room, dining-room, breakfast-room, three bedrooms, bathroom, &c. The other offices are pantries, kitchen, servant's dining-room, scullery, large laundry (fitted), two servant's rooms over, fuel bins. In basement are four well-lighted cellars. The entrance lodge is a cottage of stone with three rooms and kitchen, and beyond is range of stone-stabling of excellent design for convenience, also tool-house, cow house &c.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

SATURDAY EVENING.

In the Stock and Share market to-day very little business was done, the only sale reported being in National Building at 5.

A dividend (the second) of 1s. per share has been declared by the directors of the Sydney Cyclorama Company, Limited.

The Municipal Council of the city of Fitzroy, Victoria, in the beginning of May, called for tenders in London for a loan of £39,000 on debentures, bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum: 5 per cent. of the loan was payable on application, and the remainder on the 6th June. The minimum was fixed at £109, and the loan was made repayable in 1919. As we have since learnt by cablegram, tenders to the amount of £125,000 were sent in, and an average price of £113 7s. 2d. was realised. Deducting the accrued interest given to investors, as shown by the terms of the advertisement published in the Times, the net price realised was about £111 4s., involving an interest payment by the Municipal Council of Fitzroy of about £4 6s. 7d. per cent. per annum, allowing for redemption at par at due date.

It appears from our files to hand that the British Government has officially notified that all outstanding three per cents will be paid off on July 6. But to ease the final operation of conversion, holders to the amount of £15,000,000 were given the option of being paid on May 14 the sum of £101 6s. 8d. for each £100 of stock. This sum is about 5s. more than the amount of the interest that would accrue up to the date of payment. Mr. Goschen is thus offering a bonus of 5s. per cent. for the immediate presentation for redemption of the amount of stock named, 2s. 6d. per cent. more than was offered some time back. The holders of stock have done better than those who accepted conversion last year, not only by this amount, but also by the fact that they would be able to purchase 2¾ per cents. at about 99, including 5s. of accrued interest. Thus they are about 30s. better off than the holders who accepted conversion on the terms first offered by Mr. Goschen. To what extent the holders of the stock accepted the new offer we have yet to learn. It was regarded as probable that the Chancellor of the Exchequer would on July 6 pay off the holders of the unconverted portion of the debt by the issue of exchequer bills or bonds, and with money in hand. Looking at the conversion in the light of the closing operations, Mr. Goschen has reason to congratulate himself that the holders of the large bulk of the debt did not display so much obstinacy as those who stuck to their stock to the last.

THE supply of Australian fruit in England when the home grown products are out of season, has not yet been furnished to the extent that will be found possible when the methods of preservation are perfected and freight reduced to a minimum. Referring to the subject in the European Mail, "the Anglo-Australian in London" says:—

"In regard to Tasmanian apples, it is interesting to note that at sales of these by White, of Covent Garden, the prices have ranged from 10s. to 18s. per bushel case. It is not, however, satisfactory that Mr. Braddon received no intimation that this sale was to be held, although Mr. White was in correspondence with the Agent-General, asking his good offices with the P. and O. Company in regard to freights. This somewhat justifies the charge brought against the fruit salesmen here, that they work in a sort of 'ring,' and will not, by advertising, &c., make Tasmanian fruit sales as public as they might be, and, let me add, as they ought to be. In connection with this, I may notice also that some excellent specimens of Tasmanian apples may be seen at the Auxiliary Army and Navy stores. As English varieties are now out of season, the prices quoted for Tasmanians are from 1s. to as much as 3s. 6d. a dozen."

Negotiations for the settlement of the price of copper on a basis that will let off the holders of the heavy stocks with as a little loss as may be possible, and at the same time put the mining companies in a better position, have been in progress for some time. The difficulties encountered when divers interests have to be considered, embracing copper production throughout the world, have been very great. The principal one is the large stocks held, amounting to 175,000 tons, in England and France; about 150,000 tons being the quantity said to be in the hands of the French syndicate. While the stocks continue so large the price will almost inevitably be kept low. And thus comes in the interest of the mining companies to join in a combination to limit their output. But as to the extent of the limitation there have been differences, and, at latest mail dates, all attempts at agreement had failed. One proposal was on the basis of a price of £45 per ton. The Spanish producers, however, could not at the time be got to agree to the proposal of the the American Copper-mining companies. A cablegram since received has stated that the latter have agreed to limit their export of copper by 20,000 tons annually. The proprietors of the Rio Tinto mine in Spain had agreed to reduce their output by 15 per cent.; both conditional on present holders warranting to dispose of only 25 per cent. of the stock annually. Other cablegrams seem to show that this arrangement was in view of another fixing the price of copper at £45, and which is said also to have been determined on. A later cablegram says that the proprietor of the Tharsis Mine declined to discuss the proposal to limit its output. This mine, however, only produced about 11,000 tons per annum under the agreement with a syndicate, while the American and Rio Tinto mines produced about 120,000 tons out of the total of 180,000 tons comprehended in the agreement.

The P. and O. Company's R.M.S. Massilia left to-day for London, via ports, with 770 bales wool, 1 case cigars, 10 casks insecticide, 95 bales skins, 2 boxes silver (£600) coin, 300 bars (10 tons, 16cwt. 2qr. 21lb.) bullion, 620 bags ore, 1 box sovereigns (£3000), 2660 ingots (76 tons) tin, 230 bags bark, 7286 ingots and 50 tons copper, 150 bags (7 tons 10cwt.) matte, and sundries.

The following was the Customs revenue received to-day:—

Spirits, £990 10s. 8d.; wine (still), £8 15s.; wine (sparkling), £60; ale, porter, and beer (in bottles), £3 14s. 1d.; tobacco and snuff, £409 11s. 6d.; cigars, £94 3s. 8d.; tea, £107 2s. 3d.; chicory, (raw), £1 8s.; sugar (refined), 6s. 8d.; sugar (unrefined), £1 15s. 11d.; sarsaparilla (under 25 per cent.), 19s. 3d. Specific duty: Bacon and hams, £12 9s.; bitters over 25 per cent. of proof spirit, £5 9s. 5d.; candles, £36 9s. 2d.; cement £10; cheese, £9 11s. 6d.; cocoa and chocolate, £2 16s.; confectionery, £2 11s. 2d.; fish, £3 13s. 4d.; galvanised manufactures, 6s. 10d.; jams and jellies, 1s.; oil (kerosene), £120; oils (other), £10 17s. 3d.; paints, 15s.; salt, £20; spirits (methylated), £19 8s.; timber (undressed), £18 17s. 4d. Harbour and light rates, £15 5s. 8d.; pilotage—Sydney, £143 19s. 8d.; harbour dues, £24; excise on tobacco, £312; excise on beer, £8 10s. Total, £2457 7s. 4d.

MONDAY MORNING.

The Tannadice (s.) arrived yesterday from Hongkong with Eastern produce, including 5800 mats of sugar.

At the late meeting of the North China Insurance Company, Limited, a dividend on capital equal to 11 per cent. per annum was declared; a bonus of 15 per cent. per annum was returned to contributing shareholders; and 40,000 taels was carried to reserve fund.

COMMERCIAL TELEGRAMS.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

MELBOURNE, SATURDAY.

Investment stocks are firm, without much change in values. Silverton Trams and National Trustees sold higher. Mercantile Finance and Australian Property and Investment were quitted at lower rates. The Colonial Sugar Refining Company notifies that it will not book any more orders at present, excepting with the condition that the price is to be fixed on delivery at the rate then current.

Wheat is dull, with a tendency to ease. Feed grains are very firm. A good purchase has been made for Sydney. The maize market is showing a rising tendency.

PRODUCE MARKET.—SATURDAY.

At the wharfs to-day the supply received was principally from the Hunter River. The business transacted was on a very limited scale. The wholesale quotations were as follows:—

Maize.—Best dry Northern River maize, from 3s 4d to 3s 6d per bushel; soft, from 2s 6d.

Oats.—Seed descriptions, 3s 6d to 3s 9d per bushel; feed, 3s to 3s 3d.

Bran.—Quoted is 1d per bushel.

Pollard at 1s 1½d to 1s 2d per bushel.

Hay.—Shipments are arriving more freely from the Hunter River. Best lucerne descriptions to £7 per ton; other kinds from £4 10s.

Chaff.—Victorian oaten, £6 to £7 5s per ton; straw, £5 to £5 10s; Adelaide, £7 to £7 15s; New Zealand, £6 10s; Tasmanian, £6 to £7.

Onions.—Prime lines are scarce, and still quoted £18 to £19 per ton.

Potatoes.—Launceston and Circular Head unaltered at £4 15s and £5 per ton respectively; New Zealand, £4 5s.

Butter.—Factory-made from Illawarra districts, 1s 3d to 1s 4d per lb; in keg, 1s to 1s 1d.

Cheese.—Colonial sorts range from 4d to 7½d per lb., according to quality; New Zealand, 6d to 8½d.

Bacon.—Hand-cured southern steady, 8d to 9½d per lb.; machine-cured, 6d to 7½d, colonial roll, 9½d; New Zealand, 10d.

Lard.—Best, in bladders, 6½d to 7d per lb.; bulk, 3d to 5d.

Eggs.—Northern River lots quiet, 1s 9d to 2s per dozen; southern ports lines, 2s.

Poultry.—Unaltered at per pair fowls, 3s to 4s 3d, ducks, 3s 3d to 4s 6d; geese, 5s to 7s; turkeys, 6s to 12s.

STATION PRODUCE.

At the auction sales of sheepskins to-day there was a large attendance of buyers. Competition was active, and the reported firmness of the European wool market tended to the strengthening of values. Harrison, Jones, and Devlin, Limited, F. L. Barker, Winchcombe, Carson, and Co., Brunker and Wolfe, Goldsbrough, Mort, and Co., Limited, and J. H. Geddes and Co., report sales at the following rates: Butchers' full-woolled skins, 70d to 84d; good, 52d to 65d; fair growth, 40d to 50d; half-woolled, 30d to 38d; inferior and damaged sorts, 20d to 25d; pelts, best, 12d to 16d; others from 6d to 12d; lambskins from 6d to 42d; dry skins of superior quality, 6d to 6½d per lb.; good, 5½d to 5¾d; fair, 4½d to 5d; medium and short, 3d to 4½d; pelts from 1d.

Sales of hair, horns, and bones were also held, and, there being a good demand, prices were well maintained. Hair: Horse mane and tail, 13½d to 15d per lb; cow, 9½d to 12½d per lb; stumps, 4½d to 8d. per lb. Horns: Large, 23s to 40s per 100; medium, 15s. to 24s. per 100; small, 5s to 10s. per 100; tips, from 2s. per 100. Bones: Shanks, 3s to 7s 6d per cwt; common, 2s 9d to 3s per cwt. Hoofs, £2 to £2 15s per ton; knuckles to £3 10s; wax, 9½d to 10½d.

MINING INTELLIGENCE.

Business in mining circles on Saturday morning was somewhat animated, Broken Hill stocks being chiefly in demand, and sales were effected at substantial advances on Friday's prices. For New Norths, in particular, active inquiry was made, and good business was done in this property. British Broken Hills changed hands at 76s., while Centrals quitted at 80s., and new issue at 78s.; Souths found acceptance at 79s., and Junctions advanced to 40s. 6d., New Norths being transferred at 34s. 6d. Pinnacle Tribute sold at 20s. 6d. For other properties there was a limited demand, and prices remained practically unaltered. In gold there was but little business done, Victorys selling at 18s., and for coal shares the inquiry was weak. Stocktons were in greater confidence, and sales closed firm at 50s.

The following transactions were recorded on Saturday by the Sydney Stock Exchange:—Morning: Stockton Coal, 48s., 49s., 50s.; British Broken Hill Silver, 76s.; Junction, 40s., 40s. 6d.; South, 77s., 78s., 79s.; New North, 32s., 32s. 6d., 33s., 33s. 3d, 33s. 6d., 33s. 9d., 34s., 34s. 6d.; Central, 76s., 77s., 78s., 79s., 80s.; new issue, 75s., 74s. 6d., 75s. 6d., 76s., 76s. 6d., 77s., 78s.; South Extended, 8s. 6d.; Central Block, 1s. 6d., 1s. 3d.; Imperial 7s.; contributing, 5s. 6d.; New Lewis Ponds, contributing, 3s. 7d., 3s. 6d., 3s. 8d.; Pinnacle Tribute, 20s. 6d.; Rising Sun, 2s. 3d.; Victoria Cross, 10s. 3d.; Webb's, new issue, 10s.; Victory Gold, 18s.

MELBOURNE, SATURDAY.

Silver shares opened in strong request, and a good business was transacted. Central Broken Hill, British, New North, Victoria Cross, and Pinnacle Tribute had most demand, and realised a good advance. Broken Hill Proprietary were in request, and sold in fair parcels at rising prices. South Broken Hill opened firm, but did not maintain the price. South Extended and Block 5 sold below the opening rates. Block 10, Block 14, and Broken Hill Junction changed hands at late quotations. In gold stocks, Black Horse, United, Star of the East, and Working Miners were dealt in at higher prices.

Sales:—Broken Hill, £33 10s., £34; Block, 10, 51s., 51s. 6d.; Block 14, £6, £6 1s.; Junction, 41s., 40s.; South, paid, 76s., 72s. 6d.; British, 77s. 6d., 79s.; Centrals, paid, 77s. 6d., 80s.; Centrals, new issue, 72s. 6d., 76s.; Cosgrove, 2s. 6d.; Cordillera, 2s. 6d., 2s. 5d.; Lewis Ponds, 3s. 3d.; New North Brokens, 31s. 6d., 34s. 6d.; Pinnacle Tribute, 20s. 6d., 22s. 6d.; Rising Sun, 2s. 9d.; Victoria Cross, 10s. 3d., 10s. 7½d.

The manager of the Pinnacle Tribute Silver Mining Company, Limited, reports that the machinery is working satisfactorily. The Ball stamp is most effective, reducing 40 tons in eight hours. The concentrates average 54oz. of silver for 48 per cent of lead to the ton. When the vanners are added a yield of 80oz. of silver and 60 per cent. of lead is anticipated. The lode at the 200ft. level is 15ft. wide.

ADELAIDE, SATURDAY.

The mining manager of Baker's Creek Gold-mining Company telegraphs that 963oz. have been obtained from a crushing of 105 tons. Have cut a big reef in the eastern crosscut from Barnfield's tunnel.

SILVERTON, SATURDAY.

The Gipsy Girl Silver-mining Company: West level is now in a total distance of 21ft. from the shaft. The vein followed is at present 16 inches wide, composed of carbonate of iron and oxide of iron, carrying a vein of galena 6in. wide. On the hanging wall two men are engaged stoping 30ft. from the surface, and clean galena has been raised. The lode at Davey's shaft, 1ft. wide, is yielding a fair quantity of clean ore. 217 tons of crude ore have been treated by concentration, yielding between 70 and 80 tons of clean ore. 80 tons of clean ore are waiting for despatch, but the roads are impassable. Pioneer Mine: At the 200ft. level, No. 1 shaft, good grade galena carbonate ore has been broken. In No. 2 shaft, at the 200ft. level, the south drive has been extended 5ft. during the week. 70 tons of ore have been despatched for the week. The heavy rains have interfered with the despatch of ore and iron stone.

BROKEN HILL, SATURDAY.

In consequence of various rumours being afloat in town last night about an important discovery at the North mine, I visited the property this morning, but the manager was absent, so I could not go below. I saw him later on, when he stated that in the reef from the south drive at the 200ft level, native silver had made its appearance. The find was made yesterday afternoon, and he informed his directors by wire. The point is about 130ft. from the British Blocks boundary, and 6ft. above the back of the level. They were in galena and country rock before the material changed to carbonate of lead, carrying native silver and copper. The silver has a beautiful appearance, resembling lace-work, and already twenty bags have been filled with ore, as altogether too good to be dumped on the carbonate heap. The manager wired to his directors to-day that the bulk assays had yielded 200oz., but the clean stuff would go over 400oz. of silver per ton.

At Purnamoota there is some excitement over a good prospect obtained from the quartz reef where a small rush took place a few weeks ago, but the alluvial workings turned out unremunerative.

Smith and party have been sinking below where the 4½oz. nugget was alleged to have been found. The reef was got through some feet below the surface, and they have now sunk about 15ft. in it. The quartz showed gold freely, and the men now state that they crushed and washed stone in which no gold was visible the assays of which returned the extraordinary yield of 50oz. of gold. Some specimens showing gold will be tested and the result made known.

Work is being prosecuted at the Treasure mine, the main shaft is down 70ft., and the manager expects to get on the lode in another 20ft. Judging from the dip of the strata, this is the same lode from which Nolan took the rich ore which yielded an almost fabulous amount of silver. The manager is now sorting over the old heaps and getting a parcel for treatment. Assays from this go very high, stones in the picked heap showing chloride of silver very freely.

The Silver Age this morning in a leading article about Broken Hill South mine condemns, in unmistakable terms, the manner in which the mine is being developed. Amongst other statements, it says that the work done during the last 12 months is of no permanent use. Narrow and crooked shafts have been sunk, and when the ore is struck at the lower levels the cost of raising it would be extreme. The levels have been opened at random, and in no case beneath ore bodies, the shows of ore having been disclosed in the winzes, and no stoping of extent or value carried on. The article points out what ought to be done, and shows the good results attending the suggested course at Junction 14 and central main shaft, which it states have been sunk in the proper place, in spite of the general condemnation passed on the situation. The underlay of the lode is westward, and when the depth to which the mine will eventually be worked is reached it must cut the lode. The article concludes by stating that under judicious management the mine would return a handsome price to shareholders.

The fixing of the circulating pump at Block 14 is almost completed, and Mr. Lane expects to have half of ore-dressing machinery running in a fortnight.

TUENA, SATURDAY.

There is no prospect of the Costigan mine starting. Nearly all the miners have left, and the place looks quite deserted.

MANAGERS' REPORTS.

Band of Hope and Albion Consols, No Liability, Ballarat, June 7.—No. 7 Shaft, at the No. 15 Level: Have driven 30ft. north on the course lode, which has been well defined throughout, but not payable. No 9 Shaft: Sunk 8ft. further. The 1000ft. level has been extended south 30ft.; lode 2ft. 6in. wide, and poor. The north drive has been extended 28ft.; lode 20in. wide, carrying 3 to 4 in. nice-looking mineral containing a little gold on the footwall. Stopes over the back of this drive in payable stone, but getting short. On the Prince of Wales line, at the 600ft. level, driving north and south; stone poor.

Broken Hill South Extended No. 1 Silver-mining Company, No Liability.—June 1. During the past week the crosscut has been advanced 6ft., total 237ft. There is no change as yet in the country, which still keeps hard.

The crushing of the Band and Albion Gold-mining Company, Ballarat, 300 tons stone, for a yield of 139oz. of gold.

THE RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS IN THE WAGGA WAGGA DISTRICT.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

WAGGA WAGGA, SUNDAY.

Messrs. Fehon and Oliver, Railway Commissioners, visited Tumberumba on Friday, and were interviewed by a deputation of the townspeople, who placed before them statistics as to the products of the district, and urged reasons for the construction of the line from Wagga to that place. They left for Wagga, via Rosewood, Humula, and Tarcutta, and after leaving Rosewood, when about 12 miles from Humula, the vehicle in which they were travelling broke down, and the two Commissioners, with Inspector Roberts, had to walk to Humula in the rain and darkness, reaching there about 11 at night, instead of at 4.30 in the afternoon. A deputation of the townspeople was in attendance to welcome them, and place before them statistics as to the population, stock, cultivation, and other matters shewing that the railway would pay working expenses and interest; but as the Commissioners did not arrive before dark and nothing could be heard of them, the residents who had come some distance had to return home. On the arrival of the Commissioners, Messrs. Douglas, Bardwell, and Abbott agreed to place all the information in writing, and hand the same to them in the morning. On the way to Wagga, Mr. Gormly, senior member for the Murrumbidgee, Mr. A. B. Fitzhardinge, the Mayor of Wagga, and Mr. J. T. Williamson, secretary of the Wagga Railway League, who had arrived at Humula on Friday evening, met the Commissioners, and escorted them through the country via Tarcutta by the proposed line. The party made an early start from Humula on Saturday morning, calling on the way at Humula station, where Messrs. Bardwell, Kennedy, and Abbott, on behalf of the Humula Railway Committee, gave the Commissioners complete statistics and information. They were questioned by the Commissioners regarding the products of the district, and they handed in reports and statistics in writing. The party then proceded along the proposed line via Tarcutta to Wagga, the Commissioners making inquiries and noting the country on the way, arriving at Wagga about 5 o'clock. A large deputation of townspeople met them at Bellar's Commercial Hotel, and furnished them with reports and statistics touching on the proposed line. The Mayor introduced the deputation, and in the course of a few remarks, expressed his positive belief that the proposed line would pay, and hoped the Commissioners would report favourably on it. Mr. James Hayes, member for the Hume district, in which Tumberumba is, gave valuable information, and said that the people there could not compete with Sydney, owing to the want of a railway, although there was an increasing demand for its products. If the line was made it would be invaluable to stockowners in the hot season, and the population would be increased. Mr. J. Gormly, a resident of the district for 40 years, was certain that a railway would mean saving the lives of thousand of head of stock in time of drought. The line would pass principally through Crown lands, and would create settlement and increase the value of the public estate. Mr. D. Copeland, member for the Murrumbidgee, said that Victoria intended constructing a line south of the Murray, and this colony should counteract that by the proposed line, which would materially increase the prosperity of the country. Messrs. Sam Hawkins, C. W. Hutter, and W. Rand also addressed the Commissioners in the same strain. At the invitation of the Mayor refreshments were partaken of, and the toast of the Commissioners was drunk. Mr. Fehon responding said that their report would be based strictly upon the best route so far as their judgment allowed, and would be given as soon as possible, and would be heard of in a short time as it would come before the Public Works Committee He thanked the deputation for their attendance, as showing the great interest the residents took in the railway. The Commissioners left by special train for Sydney at 7 o'clock.

CASUALTIES.

Shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday morning a chemist named Albert George Arnold, aged 45 years, died at his residence, No. 346, King-street, Newtown. On the previous Thursday evening he drank some poisonous lotion connected with a galvanic battery, in mistake, and had been ill ever since. A report has been sent to the Coroner, and an inquest will be held this afternoon.

On Saturday a boatman named Louis Cornish, aged 32 years, residing at No. 6, Little Hunter-street, was admitted to the hospital suffering from injuries which he said had been inflicted by a man who knocked him down and kicked him in the back, near Fort Macquarie.

On Saturday a labourer named James Rummell, aged 43 years, was found lying at the corner of Elizabeth and Liverpool streets in an unconscious condition. He was removed to the hospital by the police.

At 8.40 p.m. on Saturday a fire was discovered at the Evening News office, and the alarm was received by the Metropolitan Fire Brigade by telephone three minutes later. The brigade turned out with great promptitude, and the North City, Standard Brewery, Paddington Brewery, and Alexandria Volunteer companies were in attendance. Their services were, however, not required, the watchman and inmates having extinguished the outbreak with buckets of water. The fire occurred in the photographer's room on the second floor, where a space of four square feet of a bench was burnt. The contents of the floor underneath were slightly damaged by water. The supposed origin of the fire was a defect in the gas fittings. Had it not been for the prompt action taken the outbreak must have proved very serious. Considerable excitement prevailed on the arrival of the brigade engines, Market-street being completely blocked by the crowd.

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL-PRE-EMINENTLY THE COD LIVER OIL FOR USE IN INDIA AND AUSTRALIA.—J. J. Pope, Esq., late Staff-Surgeon, Army, writes:—"I found during my Indian experience that the worth and character of Dr. De Jongh's Light Brown Cod Liver Oil remained unchanged by tropical heat or foreign climate.
